KIDNAPER OF ROSS GETS CHAIR

PRESIDENT ACTS TO BAR FOES OF TVA IN INQUIRY

Agrees to Joint Quiz on That Basis.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt has agreed to a joint congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority on condition that no avowed enemies of the TVA are appointed to the investigating committee.

The President is particularly insistent that Senator H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], most outspoken senate critic of the TVA and co-author of the first resolution for a senate investigation, be kept off the committee.

Mr. Roosevelt's attitude was made known to congressional leaders at their regular White House conference last Monday and privately revealed by one of the conferees today.

Seek to Save New Project.

Meanwhile, administration leaders in the house of representatives were conducting a filibuster against consideration at this time of the proposed 112 million dollar TVA dam at Gilbertsville, Ky. Because of the accusations of scandalous waste, inefficiency, and dishonesty that have been made against the TVA and the widespread clamor for a congressional investigation, the house leaders fear the Gilbertsville dam would be rejected by the membership of that body at the present time.

The house originally turned down an item of $2,730,000 to begin construction on the Gilbertsville dam when it passed the $1,422,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill, but under pressure from the administration the senate appropriations committee and the senate itself wrote in the appropriation.

Conferees Reject Amendment.

The house conferees refused to accept the senate amendment. Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], chairman of the house managers, told the senate conferees that in view of the grave charges of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the TVA, against his fellow directors, David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, the temper of the house was such that the Gilbertsville dam would be defeated.

The house conferees reported a disagreement on the dam item two weeks ago, but the leaders have yet not permitted the matter to be brought up for a separate vote. Their plan is to keep the President's naval authorization bill before the house until Friday and then adjourn until Monday. After a congressional investigation of the whole TVA is ordered, they believe, there will be a better chance of getting the Gilbertsville dam approved.

Administration Leaders Shift.

Since the White House conference of last Monday both Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky and Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead have come out for a joint congressional investigation, although prior to that time the administration had strongly favored an investigation by the federal trade commission, as proposed by Senator George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.], legislative father of the TVA. The administration was forced to abandon the proposal of a federal trade commission inquiry in view of the overwhelming congressional opposition to an attempted whitewash.

The next problem of the administration was to insure the appointment of a joint committee that would be as friendly as possible, and this became the responsibility of Speaker Bankhead and Vice President Garner, the appointing officers. Both assented, according to one of the White House conferees, to the President's demand that no TVA enemies be appointed.

Opposed to Precedent.

So far the only resolutions calling for a joint congressional investigation have been introduced in the senate by Senator Bridges and Senator William H. King [D., Utah] and in the house by Representative Andrew J. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the military affairs committee, and Representative Walter G. Andrews [R., N. Y.], all foes of the TVA.

It is customary for the authors of investigating resolutions to be named on the committee, but the administration leaders are determined that these four authors shall not be named. The argument will be made, it is understood, that neither avowed

DEATH VERDICT ENDS SLAYER'S TRAIL OF CRIME

Widow Commends Jury's Action.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

A jury in the federal court of Judge John P. Barnes decreed last night that John Henry Seadlund, young Minnesota woodsman, must die in the electric chair for the kidnaping of Charles S. Ross.

Earl Connelley, Chief Witness for Government.

Seadlund, who had taken the stand earlier in the day in a desperate effort to combat the mass of government evidence showing the atrociousness of his crime, took the verdict unemotionally. He already had pleaded guilty to the kidnaping and his outlook was exemplified by his first remark after the jury's report had been read.

"Well, it turned out as I thought," he said.

Guards Posted at Jail.

He was taken back to the County jail by federal officers headed by Earl J. Connelley, the agent who led the search for Ross and then for his kidnaper, and who was the chief witness for the government on Tuesday.

At the jail guards were ordered to watch Seadlund day and night. He was searched carefully before and after he changed from clothes he wore at the trial into jail garb.

"I'd rather get the chair than rot in jail the rest of my life," the kidnaper told Warden Frank Sain. "It's tough, but I expected it. My attorneys did the best they could with what they had to go on." He laughed heartily then at the recollection that one of his counsel returned to court for the verdict wearing dinner clothes.

Action Satisfies Widow.

District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, who conducted the prosecution and made a vigorous speech demanding that the death penalty be inflicted; his assistant, Martin Ward, and Mrs. Charles S. Ross, widow of the victim, all expressed satisfaction with the jury's action.

"That is as it should be," said Mrs. Ross, who was present throughout the trial, but left for her home when the jury retired. "I want to congratulate Mr. Igoe and Mr. Ward for their handling of the case."

Taking of testimony was completed in the morning. In the afternoon there were closing statements by the prosecutors and by the defense attorneys, Floyd E. Thompson and Frederic Burnham. These were completed shortly after 4 p. m. Judge Barnes then gave the jurors his instructions and formulated the question they were to answer: "Do you, the jury, recommend that the defendant, John Henry Seadlund, alias Peter Anders, be punished by death?" The case was turned over to them at 4:45 p. m.

Decision in 1½ Hours.

At 6:15 the foreman, Frank L. Carroll, 501 Surf street, announced the jury was ready to report. The attorneys were summoned and Seadlund was brought in from the courthouse bullpen, shackled to two deputy marshals [as he had been through the hearing]. The verdict was read at 6:40 p. m.

On demand of Attorney Thompson, the jury was polled. A motion for a new trial was made, and arguments for this were set for Saturday. When court adjourned Seadlund thanked his counsel, who had been appointed his defenders by the court. Later he posed for photographers.

"I'm not going to cry for you guys," he said.

Death Sentence Later.

If the motion for a new trial is denied, Seadlund will be sentenced to death at a time to be appointed by Judge Barnes. Attorneys Thompson and Burnham would not say whether they would carry an appeal to the higher courts. Federal law requires that the death penalty be inflicted in the manner prescribed by the state in which the kidnaping conviction is obtained. In the normal course of events, Seadlund would be electrocuted in the Cook county jail.

The closing arguments centered

19 GYPSY CHILDREN HAVE A SCHOOLROOM ALL TO THEMSELVES

Near the Maxwell street area, where many nationalities rub elbows, is the Smyth school at 1059 West 13th street. And at the Smyth school, it was revealed yesterday, there is a "gypsy room" in which nineteen gypsy children, from 6 to 14 years old, are attending classes for the first time.

Most of the youngsters were too old for a regular first grade class, so were put together where they might receive individual attention. Several already have been promoted to third and fourth grade rooms. There were twenty-five in the class when school started in the fall.

Visits have been frequent by grown-ups since the class opened and all have been especially interested in one pretty little dark-eyed girl. It's the strange combination of names that draws them. She's Palestine Mahoney, no less.

CHARGE FATHER WITH KIDNAPING TWO YOUNG GIRLS

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 16.—(AP)—Kidnaping charges—the first in the history of the Bahama Islands—tonight were placed against Forrester Scott of Philadelphia, an attorney, and Stanley Boynton of Springfield, Mass., by Police Major Erskin Lindop.

The charges grew out of what Maj. Lindop said was the attempted airplane abduction today of Scott's two daughters, Eva, 6 years old, and Zoe, 3, who are here with his divorced wife, now Mrs. Harry Clarke Boden.

Additional charges of assaulting the children's nurse, Helen Smith of Wilmington, Del., and with carrying an unlicensed pistol were placed against Scott.

The pilot of a chartered airplane in which Boynton flew here yesterday from Miami was released. He is F. B. Miller of Miami Beach.

The girls' nurse said they were playing in a park when two men attempted to seize them.

Chance for Red Heads, but Senator Can't Recall Where

Washington, D. C., March 16.—(AP)—One government bureau employs only red haired girls, Senator Allen J. Ellender [D., La.] told the senate today. His information about the red heads, he said, came from a girl employé, but he couldn't remember the name of the bureau.

A Mysterious Undertaking Upsets Family

At 4:33 p. m. last Friday the undertaker drove up to 5874 Ridge avenue, expressed his sympathy, and said he had come to conduct a funeral for Miss Dorothy Lange.

Dorothy, a vivacious brunette of 17, said there must be some mistake. Her mother, Mrs. William T. Lange, the wife of an osteopath, told the undertaker Dorothy was very much alive indeed, and he might as well go home.

Next day relatives in the Langes' old home town of North Freedom, Wis., received telegrams informing them Dorothy had died and would be buried in North Freedom. The messages, bearing Mrs. Lange's name, instructed them to buy $50 worth of flowers and meet the train on Sunday. The relatives sent to Madison for the flowers.

Telegraph Wires Busy.

But when no funeral party arrived on Sunday the relatives telegraphed to ask why. Mrs. Lange, guessing there had been a second hoax, telegraphed back that Dorothy wasn't dead. The wires hummed then with messages of congratulation for Dorothy.

Dorothy was still wondering who spread the premature reports of her demise, and wondering if she ought to do her Senn High school senior class home work when the doorbell rang last night. "Telegram for Dorothy Lange," some one called. Then, as she told the story to police:

She opened the door of the second floor apartment, in which she was alone, and found herself facing a husky young man about 28 years old.

Seizing her around the neck, he began choking her, shouting meanwhile:

Seized by Terrier.

He was still choking her, Dorothy said, when her terrier, Skippy, seized him from behind and refused to let go. With Skippy still clinging to his trousers, the man fled.

Dorothy called the police and Lieut. Matthew Hoff sent Policemen Frank Ptack, Leonard Kreusler, Harry O'Donnell Jr., and Louis Miller over. After hearing her story, they traced the telegrams. But the man from whose telephone they were ostensibly sent convinced them he had never heard of the Langes.

The police didn't even have a theory. Yours?

GREEN ELEPHANTS ON WITNESS STAND KEEP 12 U. S. JURORS AWAKE

New York, March 16.—(AP)—A procession of elephants—the theoretical kind—roused 12 jurors out of their lethargy in federal court today. Testifying as an expert, Dr. Edward H. Bean, director of the Chicago Zoölogical park, described the lumbering beasts in all their obscure idiosyncrasies.

Dr. Bean testified for the government in a $3,000,000 federal income tax suit against John M. Kelly, general counsel for the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus, and others.

Green elephants, said Dr. Bean, are young, fresh-out-of-the-jungle beasts. The Indian variety is the usual type shown in circuses; the African is too unruly for exhibition purposes.

A bull elephant was described by the witness as the boss of the "punks"—the green variety. Sappers are ugly elephants that are sick and tired of being giggled at by spectators. They try to discourage the gigglers by tossing rocks with their trunks.

DAY EVENS NIGHT TODAY; SUNRISE, SUNSET BOTH 5:58

Today, if it doesn't rain, Chicagoans will be able to see the sun rise at 5:58 a. m. and set at 5:58 p. m., providing a day of exactly twelve hours with sunlight and twelve without. Such a weather freak can happen twice a year.

Yesterday's premature spring turned a bit soggy, what with fogs and rains throughout the day. But the temperature went up to 53 degrees in the morning, 24 degrees above normal for the date, and brought the excess warmth for the winter, since Jan. 1, to 344 degrees. It was expected to slide down to the low thirties during the night, but is due to rise again this morning.

HAIL OF BOMBS SPREADS DEATH IN BARCELONA

BARCELONA, Spain, March 16.—(AP)—Rebel planes tonight inflicted the heaviest bombing on Barcelona the city has yet suffered.

Casualties still were not completely counted, but at least fourteen were known dead and twenty injured.

The raiders came in swarms for more than three hours, starting when the streets were jammed with demonstrators demanding that the government continue its resistance at all costs.

More bombs fell than in any previous air attack. Many buildings in the center of the city were struck and huge clouds of smoke from fires in shattered structures blotted out the clear sky.

Many nearby towns also were bombed, among them Tarragona, San Vicente, and Castellon.

The first bombs scattered thousands of Catalonians who had massed around the president's palace to hear fiery speeches of trade union and political leaders assuring them of the loyalty of their army and the determination of their government.

Rebels Bolster Weak Flank.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], March 16.—(AP)—Spanish rebel field artillery blasted the town of Caspe into ruins today in an effort to dislodge government troops menacing the left flank of the rebel army marching toward the sea.

While trying to drive this stubborn government force northward across the Ebro river the rebels ranged widely through their 3,000 square miles of newly conquered territory, mopping up straggling government units and reëstablishing lines of communication.

Gen. Francisco Franco's fast moving troops in less than a week had penetrated more than 60 miles into government territory east of the old Saragossa-Teruel line, but at Caspe, which they overran and failed to clean up properly in their hasty advance, they were confronted with government resistance which threatened to stall their entire drive unless quickly overcome.

Sends Troops Back to Caspe.

Gen. Franco checked his eastward drive at Raimundo—little more than 30 miles from the Mediterranean—and rushed troops from his main body back to Caspe to help smash government resistance. The government had sent reënforcements into the city from across the Ebro river.

[A Barcelona communique said rebel attempts to surround Caspe failed. Government artillery was said to have set fire to a rebel munitions

France and Russia Pledge to Fight German Invasion.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

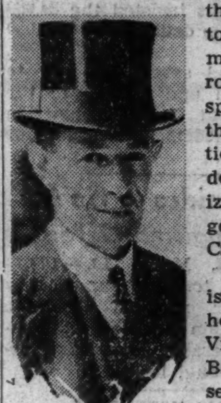
LONDON, March 16.—Great Britain tonight warned Reichsfuehrer Hitler that if he wishes to see peace maintained in Europe he must respect his pledge that the annexation of Austria does not signalize the imminent gobbling up of Czechoslovakia.



Viscount Halifax.

The warning, issued in the house of lords by Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, came as France and Russia pledged to coöperate in helping Czechoslovakia should Germany invade Czech territory.

At the same time it appeared that a divergence of views is developing in the cabinet on recasting Britain's foreign policy in the light of developments in central Europe and in Spain.

Peace Hangs in Balance.

"Germany's assurances were solemnly given to Czechoslovakia," Lord Halifax said in his first public statement, "and were more than once repeated.

"We naturally expect the German government to obey them, and if Germany desires to see peace maintained—as I earnestly hope it does—there is no quarter in Europe in which it is more vital that undertakings should scrupulously be respected.

"The world has been brought face to face with the extremely ugly truth that neither treaty texts nor international law have any influence in dealing with power politics, where force and force alone decides."

Rejects Plea to League.

Lord Halifax rejected any idea of bringing Germany's conquest of Austria before the league of nations, declaring that league members were not prepared to go to war on the issue and therefore nothing could be gained.

Although it was denied at Whitehall that the cabinet was split on foreign policy, it was understood that at today's meeting some cabinet members took the view that it would be best to let matters in Europe crystalize before a formal statement is made by Great Britain. Others, it was reported, held that a firm declaration of policy now might prevent an increase in the tension.

French Seek Showdown.

Diplomatic sources said that the French representations caused much embarrassment in the cabinet, and it was indicated that divergent opinions were expressed among ministers about backing up the French in their wishes to aid the Spanish loyalists.

The French want a complete showdown in Spain. They proposed that an armistice be called, during which all foreign fighters be withdrawn.

This would be a test of nonintervention, and, if unaccepted, would mean that the French would do the same as the Italians and Germans now are doing—send sufficient arms and munitions into Spain to give the Barcelona government as much aid as the Fascist powers are giving Gen. Francisco Franco.

Labor Demands Rejected.

Labor demands in the house of commons tonight that the government abandon the farce of nonintervention and back the French were rejected by a vote of 317 to 141. The voting was along party lines, after a vigorous debate on the Spanish issue, in which the opposition and government speakers clashed repeatedly.

Arthur Greenwood, a Laborite, said that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain seemed like "a clucking, bewildered hen trying to cross a busy road."

Chamberlain stoutly defended his policy of keeping Britain outside the Spanish imbroglio at all costs.

"I believe we shall best serve British interests, peace, and freedom if we keep out of Spain and do not burn our fingers there, as other nation may well do," he said.

Maj. C. R. Attlee, labor leader, assailed Chamberlain for his lack of policy in Spain and advocated immediate intervention against Franco. He declared that Franco is winning, and asserted that his victory would damage British interests and make Spain a vassal state of Fascist Italy and Germany.

Chamberlain replied that victory often had been predicted in the past for both sides, and said that victory by Franco would not mean German and Italian control of Spain.

Weigh Conscription Plan.

The cabinet also considered the problem of lining up British labor to support an industrial conscription plan similar to that in operation during the world war.

The proposed scheme would not provide for military conscription at first, but probably for something similar to President Roosevelt's labor brigades. The Labor party is demanding definite assurance of Chamberlain's policy, however, before consenting to this.

On the subject of conscription, Chamberlain said that until war actually occurred there would be no military conscription, but there would be "some form of national training."

Fresh declines occurred in the stock market today, as the result of a lack of buyers. The reason was fear of additional heavy taxation.

JURORS ACQUIT 3 IN STATE SALES TAX FRAUD TRIAL

Three men charged with conspiracy to defraud the state of $25,768 in sales taxes were found not guilty last night by a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Rudolph Desort. The jury was out less than an hour and a half.

The defendants were Edmond F. LaVoie, a former investigator for the state department of finance; William McFadden, former head of a west side motor sales agency, and David K. Springwater, McFadden's manager.

The state contended that McFadden paid LaVoie $4,032 to make possible the payment of a sales tax of $1,968 instead of the $27,736 due. LaVoie and his witnesses insisted the $4,000 resulted from the doubling of a $2,000 investment.

The state had asked the jury to send McFadden and LaVoie to the penitentiary, but asked conviction only on the misdemeanor count for Springwater.

The government, recovering to some extent from its panicky disorganization of yesterday, hurried reenforcements up from southern fronts and undertook to enforce better discipline among troops struggling to prevent further loss of territory.

6,000 Loyalists Captured.

At rebel headquarters in Salamanca it was said that 6,000 government soldiers had been taken prisoners during the past week and four government divisions had been decimated. Twenty-seven government planes were shot down.

Barcelona authorities, in support of their contention that the government's terrific losses were due to German and Italian troops fighting with the rebels, quoted a captured Italian aviator as saying Gen. Franco now has 700 Italian and German warplanes. In a desperate plea for French assistance yesterday, the government asked for 200 planes.

Special Courts for Treason.

MADRID, March 16.—(AP)—"Urgent" tribunals empowered to deal exclusively, expeditiously, and severely with treason, espionage and "defeatism" today began functioning in Madrid.

The courts were established following an emergency order from the Madrid attorney general, Lopez Uribe. Differing from other courts functioning here, they will complete hearing cases within 48 hours after arrests are made. Penalties will be heavy but death sentences must be ratified by the supreme espionage tribunal.

The government tonight awarded its highest decoration, the insignia of Madrid, to Capt. Luis de Vieta, commander of the government fleet which sank the rebel cruiser Baleares March 6. The last person to receive the award, which is rarely bestowed, was Gen. José Miaja, commander on the central front and hero of the Madrid siege.

France Expects Refugees.

PORT VENDRES, France, March 16.—(AP)—French officials on the Franco-Spanish border prepared tonight for an influx of refugees from government-held Spain. Two French destroyers were expected tomorrow with 512 refugees from Barcelona, Spanish government capital. The port captain said he was "unaware" whether any officials were among the Spaniards who will be taken to a camp just near here.

Anarchists Rule Town.

PUIGCERDA, Spain, March 16.—(AP)—The anarchist leaders Rosique and Cot, who ruled the Puigcerda frontier zone until jailed in Barcelona last September, have been released and restored to command of the town. One of their first acts was to close the frontier to France.

With a number of followers, they returned to Puigcerda yesterday and gave the criminal courts judge who sentenced them to jail, and others, an hour to cross the frontier.

HELD AS PURSE THIEF.

John Krause, 20 years old, 2443 South Trumbull avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday on two charges of robbery. Witnesses told Judge Gibson E. Gorman he had snatched purses from some women and molested others.

POLES GIVE LITHS MORE TIME TO MEET DEMANDS

Ponder Next Step in Row with Kaunas.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, March 17 [Thursday.]—Leaders of the Polish government met throughout the night to consider the nation's next step in its conflict with Lithuania over the shooting of a Polish frontier guard.

The government debated the advisability of delivering an ultimatum to Lithuania to force that country to open normal relations with Poland. An unofficial state of war has existed between the two nations for the last eighteen years, due to Poland's seizure of Vilna, which Lithuania still claims.

Await Reply from Warsaw.

Poland, government officials said, might delay sending a communication to the Lithuanian government for another twenty-four hours to give Kaunas further opportunity to meet Warsaw's demands. The Lithuanians were reported to be awaiting Poland's reply to their note suggesting the appointment of a mixed commission to settle the border incident.

Diplomatic representatives of France and Great Britain appealed to the Warsaw government to reach a speedy settlement with Lithuania.

Reports persisted that an understanding existed between Poland and Germany concerning Lithuania. Reichsfuehrer Hitler's recent statement that Poland's claim to an outlet to the sea is justified was taken in some quarters to mean the Poles would receive such an outlet at Memel. This would entail the seizure of Lithuania. In return for this, it is reported, the Poles would consent to return to Germany all or a part of the Polish corridor, which divides East Prussia from the rest of Germany. It was reported that German warships at Swinemuende, on the Baltic sea, 300 miles west of Lithuania, were ordered to prepare to sail should soviet Russia go to Lithuania's aid. Russia, Lithuania's ally, is the only country in Europe which has recognized the Lithuanian claim to Vilna.

Peace Treaty Advocated.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 16.—Foreign diplomats who are striving to prevent a war between Poland and Lithuania—a war which might involve a large section of Europe—today urged the Kaunas government to negotiate a peace treaty with Poland and establish a normal frontier for the two countries.

Latvia and Esthonia, which are joined with Lithuania in the Baltic entente, both warned their neighbor she could not expect help from them if the Polish army attacked the country. They also urged Lithuania to make peace with Poland.

The Lithuanians maintained that, since their suggestion to meet the Poles to settle the quarrel over the shooting of a Polish border guard was rejected at Warsaw, the next move must come from Poland.

THIRD MYSTERY FIRE DAMAGES SHIP BERENGARIA

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 16.—(AP)—A third mysterious fire aboard the 52,226 ton British liner Berengaria broke out tonight while she was in her berth here.

The blaze, in a tourist cabin, was put out quickly by the ship's staff. Damage was slight. Company officials began an investigation.

The Berengaria had just arrived from New York without passengers after a fire there swept the first class lounge and caused damage estimated at more than $10,000.

HITLER TO MAKE DECLARATION ON NEW NAZI POLICY

Reichstag Is Summoned to Meet Tomorrow.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 16.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler returned to his capital this afternoon from the conquest of Austria with a grim look on his face. He was greeted by delirious crowds which packed Tempelhoi airdrome and the streets through which he drove in state to his flower decorated chancellery. The Fuehrer flew here from Munich, where he arrived yesterday from Vienna.

Coincident with Hitler's return, the reichstag was summoned to meet Friday night, when the Fuehrer will outline the policy of his new empire.

Goering Greets Hitler.

Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering was the first to greet Hitler as the latter stepped from his plane. Then Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, stepped up, followed by a group of cabinet ministers, diplomats, and high army officers. Goering and Hitler reviewed a body of troops drawn up as a guard of honor, stopping occasionally to shake hands with commanding officers.

Afterward Goering and Goebbels mounted a platform and expressed their gratitude and admiration for "the creator of the greater Germany." Hitler stood at the foot of the platform, his hands folded in front of him, his face a mask except when the sun struck his eyes and he blinked absentmindedly.

No Caesar was cheered more loudly than Hitler, when for half an hour a car in which he stood was driven slowly through streets filled with men, women, and children who were held back by Schutz Staffelmen [picked guards] and military guards of honor.

Children Faint in Crush.

In Wilhelmplatz in front of the chancellery 200,000 had awaited the Fuehrer for hours. They pressed forward just at the time when soldiers of Berlin's crack regiments were presenting arms. Women and children fainted in the crush. Others suffered minor injuries and were treated by Red Cross workers on the first floor of the chancellery.

The shouting Germans remained in the square until [illegible] o'clock, when the Fuehrer appeared on the balcony of the chancellery and told of the happiness of "the country [Austria] which a few days ago was the unhappiest of all nations."

REJECTS PROTEST AGAINST BAN ON NAZIS IN BRAZIL

The German objections were presented by Ambassador Karl Ritter, who intimated Germany might withdraw her envoy if Brazil continued to outlaw Nazi activities.

It was said Vargas met his statement with "a courteous but short retort"—that Naziism would not be tolerated in the South American nation of which he assumed supreme control in a coup last November.

HERBERT FEY.

VIENNA, March 16.—(AP)—Neighbors of Maj. Emil Fey, once one of Austria's strongest anti-Nazis, tonight said he apparently had died in the face of complete ruin.

Maj. Fey, one time vice chancellor of Austria, was found dead today in his home beside the bodies of his wife, Malvina, and their son, Herbert, 20 years old. Neighbors assumed he had chosen to die and take all he loved with him. Even his dog was killed. Newspapers said he shot his family and then committed suicide.

Fey hung a swastika banner from his home Monday, after the absorption of Austria by Germany. When he tried to enter his office in the Danube Steamship company the next day, friends said, he was ejected. Almost at the same time his son was dismissed from the Austrian army. The intimation, acquaintances said, was that Fey's life was ruined and literally menaced, though he had not been arrested.

The fate of another former Austrian leader and his son, meantime, was a mystery. Kurt Schuschnigg, ousted chancellor, was believed to be still under arrest. His son, who was taken from Belvedere palace by the Nazis Saturday to discourage his father from trying to escape, has not been heard of since.

EASIER DIVORCES BILL PASSED IN CANADA'S SENATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 16.—[Special.]—A bill increasing the grounds of divorce in Canada, on the lines of the measure successfully sponsored in the British parliament, was passed today by the Canadian senate.

Senators opposing the bill argued it would duplicate in Canada asserted conditions in the United States. The bill, which adds cruelty, desertion for three years, and incurable insanity for five years to existing divorce grounds, is not expected to pass in the house of commons.

HITLER'S BROOM SWEEPS AWAY DUST OF AUSTRIA

Nazis Swallow Customs, Institutions and Men.

VIENNA, March 16.—(AP)—Austria's Nazi masters swept away the last traces of her sovereignty today with the efficiency of a new broom.

Louis Rothschild.

Customs, institutions, men vanished. Nazi regimentation appeared.

Austrian Germans began looking for the promised benefits of Nazidom. Some firms raised pay in expectation of better times. Textile factories boomed on orders for Nazi uniforms.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, arranged for withdrawal of the Austrian schilling from circulation. The German reichsmark will be German-Austria's money.

Timber Exports Barred.

The national bank announced immediate payment of funds owed to Austrians by Germans freed by the dissolution of the border. Exportation of timber was prohibited because Germany expects to absorb most of it.

The newspaper Neues Wiener Abendsblatt reported the arrest of Louis Rothschild, banker member of the great banking family. The official Gazette carried a long list of "trafic accidents."

Several correspondents and other foreigners fled.

Foreigners pinned flags of their countries to their lapels for protection. Friends were afraid to talk to friends. Business colleagues were suspicious of each other. Telephone users made codes to assure themselves of the identity of their listeners.

Jewish stores were placarded. Trucks drove up to them and carted away clothes, perfume, shoes, hats, soap, toothpaste.

"Heil Hitler," Official Greeting.

Courses in national socialism opened. "Heil Hitler" was made the official greeting in all schools.

Brown Shirt Austria Storm Troops were being reorganized with Arthur Seyss-Inquart, governor of Austria, as chief.

A new Nazi commissioner was named to the national library.

All women's organizations were liquidated.

Every Dollfuss platz—named for the Austrian chancellor who was assassinated in a Nazi putsch in 1934—was renamed for Hitler.

The two state theaters—the opera and burg—and three private playhouses were purged.

6 VIENNESE DANCERS IN CHICAGO HOTEL ORDERED TO GO HOME

The music and laughter ceased. All six of the dancing girls stopped their posturing and rehersing in the Edgewater Beach hotel ballroom yesterday as the agent of the bureau of immigration delivered his message. It was an official order to leave the United States and return to their homes in Vienna immediately.

The girls, all in their early twenties, are members of an entertainment troupe which entered the United States six months ago under an immigration permit. Their allotted period now has ended. In the light of the recent seizure of Austria by Adolf Hitler and the establishment of a Nazi régime there, the news was sobering.

Edith Scheibner, a dark haired little dancer, began to sob. She explained she was sure to be persecuted if she entered Nazi territory. The other five girls, Marianna Adantz, Ilse Richter, Maria Pigel, Herma Sora, and Gabriele Berger, tried to comfort her, but soon were sobbing themselves. None wants to return.

NAZIS IN VIENNA RAID OFFICE OF PRESS SERVICE

VIENNA, March 16.—(AP)—Authorities today increased pressure on newspaper correspondents. Uniformed Storm Troopers entered the office of the Associated Press and took into custody Willy Jacobson, German born photographer who is half Jewish. There was no charge and no explanation.

A photographer for Acme, American picture agency, who had a Polish passport, was detained and his office was padlocked.

Three attachés of the United States legation investigated searches of at least two homes of Americans and the Associated Press office. In the latter four pictures were confiscated. Two of them, showing a Viennese night club scene, were more than two years old.

ITALY WILL FIGHT TO PRESERVE ALL FRONTIERS: DUCE

Has No Fear of Germans; O. K.'s Austrian Coup.

(Maps on back page.)

ROME, March 16.—(AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini approved Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's absorption of Austria today, but warned that any invasion of Italian frontiers would mean war.

"Our frontiers are sacred!" Il Duce shouted in a nation-wide broadcast. "We will not discuss them. We will defend them!"

His words clearly were an effort to stifle the anxiety of the Italian people, with Austria now only a province of Germany and the Nazi frontier the Brenner pass.

[At the end of the world war Italy acquired the Austrian Tyrol, or Trentino, in the breakup of the Austro-Hungarian empire. This territory, 5,371 square miles, containing some 300,000 Germans, is just south of Brenner pass.]

Not Frightened By Germans.

"First of all Italy, this Italy, does not allow itself to be easily impressed. During the Ethiopian war fifty-two states did not succeed in doing it. This Italy has a firm will, a firm spirit. It marches straight ahead."

Mussolini defended Italy's acquiesence to the annexation of Austria as consistent with her past policy of defending Austria's independence. But, he declared, it would have been "an historical and political absurdity" for Austria, a German state, to have existed independent and anti-German.

The previous policy, he told a crowd that jammed the chamber of deputies, was based on the premise that Austria wanted independence. Recent events, he declared, proved Austria no longer desired her freedom and, therefore, it would have been pointless for Italy to intervene against her ally in the Rome-Berlin axis.

Believed Austria Wanted Union.

"Italian interest in the independence of the Austrian federal state existed, but it was based on the premise that the Austrians, at least a majority of them, desire such independence," Mussolini said.

"But what has happened in these days in Austrian territory shows that the profound desire of the Austrian people was for anschluss [union with Germany]."

Il Duce disclosed he had counseled an emissary of the ousted Austrian chancellor, Kurt Schuschnigg, against the plebiscite Schuschnigg had proposed. He said it was "the first time in months" Austria had sought his advice.

"I told him in the most peremptory manner that it was a mistake. This bomb will explode in your hands," I said.

To those who have asked why Italy did not intervene in Austria, Mussolini said he replied:

"We never assumed any obligation. Austria never asked us for armed intervention to defend its own independence with force. A nation which needs military aid against its own people is no longer worthy to call itself a nation."

Recalls Dollfuss Assassination.

Il Duce referred to his dispatch of Italian troops to the Brenner pass when Austria's Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was assassinated July 25, 1934—a gesture to prevent Nazification of Austria.

"No Austrian ever thanked me for that," he said.

He declared that the Versailles treaty provision that Austria must remain forever independent was "absurd and precarious."

"When the Austrian drama had reached its fifth act, there were the usual opponents of Fascism who were alert to see whether the moment for a clash between the two totalitarian states had arrived. That clash would have been the prelude to a new world war. This calculation of the democracies, of the Masonic lodges, was wrong. . . . Why not declare it?

"The moment had arrived instead to strengthen the axis . . . which the two totalitarian states follow in a parallel way [the Rome-Berlin axis].

"Now the German people know that the axis is not a diplomatic edifice effective only for normal occasions. It has been shown to be solidly established in this exceptional hour in the history of the German world and all the world."

German swastika flying from window of German consulate in Michigan avenue yesterday in celebration of union with Austria.

Absolute control of the Austrian consulate, 30 North Michigan avenue, has been taken over by Dr. E. L. Baer, German consul general, according to Michael F. Girten, former Austrian consul, who resigned Monday from the post which he has held for the last twelve years. Mr. Girten, an American citizen, said yesterday that his resignation was a formal one, addressed to the Austrian minister in Washington. Work of the Austrian consulate, which served seventeen states, will be taken over by Dr. Baer's office and by German consulates in cities as widely separated as Cleveland, New Orleans, San Francisco, and Seattle.

The swastika was flying yesterday from the German consulate at 333 North Michigan avenue, and Dr. Baer said that it probably would be displayed for about a week in celebration of the union of Austria and Germany. It is flown on German holidays, he said.

Open South Bound Lane of New Ashland Bridge

The new South Ashland avenue bridge, crossing the river near 26th street, was opened yesterday to street cars and southbound vehicular trafic. North bound vehicles still were using the temporary span. Work on the $1,250,000 structure will be completed about the first week in April, according to Loran D. Gayton, city engineer.

BRITISH PROMISE AID TO FRANCE IN MEDITERRANEAN

Pledge Naval Help Against Duce and Hitler.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 16.—Great Britain, through Sir Eric Phipps, its ambassador, today promised naval aid to the French government in the Mediterranean should the forces of Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini in Spain menace communications with French North Africa. Premier Leon Blum informed the cabinet tonight of the British pledge, which was the answer to an urgent note sent earlier in the day by France.

Jacob Suritz.

The British arrangement followed a pledge given mutually today by France and Russia to coöperate in assistance to Czechoslovakia, their ally, should Reichsfuehrer Hitler move into Czech territory.

Ambassador Promises Aid.

Russia's promise was delivered to Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour by Jacob Suritz, Russian ambassador to France. A similar assurance was delivered in Prague.

Premier Blum of France sent the appeal to Britain directly to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. He asked that Chamberlain join in efforts to effect an armistice between the rebel and loyalist forces in Spain, asserting that France's only alternative was to open its frontier to men and supplies for the loyalists, now suffering under a powerful rebel thrust through eastern Spain toward the Mediterranean.

Blum told Chamberlain the frontier would have to be opened if Britain's reply were not immediate, or if it were negative.

Frontier to Be Kept Closed.

In return for Britain's promise to take joint action with French naval forces in the Mediterranean, France agreed to keep its Spanish frontier closed, in accordance with the understanding among the nations of the committee for nonintervention in Spain.

Blum told the cabinet that it appeared the Spanish loyalists now have stiffened their resistance to the rebel thrust, which is designed to cut government Spain in two, and therefore the French decision is justified.

However, French officials studied steps to strengthen the Pyrenees frontier, in view of reported increasing numbers of Italian and German troops fighting with the Spanish rebels. It is these troops which France fears, because they would menace another French frontier should the troubled conditions in central Europe lead France into conflict.

Report Plan for Air Aid.

It was asserted in informed quarters that French and Russian war planes would be rushed to Czechoslovakia should that country be invaded by Hitler's forces. The planes would undertake to protect the Czech mobilization.

The Russian ambassador informed France, also, that Russian railways now are connected with Czechoslovakia through Rumania. France and Russia are bound by a mutual assistance pact, and each has an agreement with Prague. Today's Russian assurance confirmed a report from Moscow yesterday in which a high official was quoted as promising aid to Czechoslovakia in case of a German attack, if France also gave assistance.

ITALY WITHDRAWS EXTRA TROOPS FROM GARRISON IN LIBYA

ROME, March 16.—(AP)—Italy today announced withdrawal of troops sent several weeks ago to reinforce two army corps stationed in African Libya, near Egypt, and the gesture was interpreted here as an indication that Italian-British friendship talks were making satisfactory progress.

Reduction of the Libyan garrison, it was generally agreed, was one of the concessions Britain sought from Italy as a basis of rapprochement.

Diplomatic circles believed announcement of Italian-British agreement might come in a few days. Lord Perth, British ambassador, is to see Foreign Minister Count Ciano on Friday for what may be a conclusion of their peace talks.

Here's Health
Malvaz

Possibly YOU, Too,
Should Drink
MALVAZ

Do you feel run-down and tire easily? Are you suffering from sleepless nights or jittery? Thousands of Chicago people have enjoyed this popular vitality drink. Doctors have praised it for the nourishing, stimulating, building-up qualities—its value to a run-down system. MALVAZ is often recommended to convalescents—for cases of general debility—to young mothers—to those feeling a need for more pep and greater vitality.

MALVAZ is a wholesome, healthful grain product—made scientifically—according to an exclusive formula to preserve the utmost in healthful, mineral, calory and energy values. Try a carton today. You'll say it's mighty good to your health—a real "pepper-upper."

But—if you value your health, beware of the man who offers something that is "just as good as MALVAZ." Why does he suggest a substitute? There is only one answer—he is more interested in his profits than your health.

The value of MALVAZ in helping to maintain good health has long been recognized. It has a high nutritional value (the calory content is equal to approximately a quarter pound of beef)—there are mineral salts to aid digestion and nerves—and a rich abundance of vitalizing energy elements.

Try a carton of MALVAZ at our risk. You aren't asked to risk one cent. It must please you, after drinking several bottles, or all your money will be cheerfully refunded.

CZECH SOLDIERS GUARD FRONTIER AGAINST ATTACK

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 16.—Driving by auto from Bratislava, along the Austrian frontier, where Czech soldiers are lying in the fields with their fingers on the triggers of their machine guns twenty-four hours a day, and thence by train from Brno, the Tribune correspondent arrived in Prague tonight to find the capital of Czechoslovakia relatively calm in the midst of Europe's growing war scare. Government officials seem to think that a German attack on this country is not imminent.

The reiteration of promises made by Soviet Russia and France to rush to Czechoslovakia's help in case of attack has bucked up the Czechs enormously. No doubt is felt by officials or the public that these promises will be honored if the occasion arises. With such support the Czechs know that they would be a tough morsel even for the German army to swallow.

Expect Quick Blow by Hitler.

For all this calm, the atmosphere in Prague is not Pollyanna-ish. Big things, it is felt, are in the wind. With the democratic front hardening against him, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, it is thought here, is only too likely to strike one more quick blow while Europe still is in confusion.

The Czechs hope and profess to believe that the blow will not be aimed at this country. Just where, they cannot figure out, but Memel is one probable guess.

Poland's quarrel with Lithuania fit in with the hypothesis of a German attack on Memel—once a part of Germany but given to Lithuania after the war.

In the present confused situation it is believed unlikely that either the western powers or Russia would go to war to prevent the dismemberment of Lithuania by Poland and Germany, so the Fuehrer could offer himself another easy Germany triumph in that direction if he wished.

Army Not Taking Any Chances.

While diplomats figure that the odds are against a sudden German attack on Czechoslovakia, the Czech army is taking no chances. Last night I was awakened several times by the tramp of marching infantry under the windows of my hotel in Bratislava. Again shortly after dawn a column of Czech soldiers passed by singing one of those lusty Czech army songs reminiscent of the Hussite hymns which caused their enemies to drop their arms and flee when they heard them in the distance.

Along the road to Brno, which roughly parallels the frontier most of the way, there were no signs of big troop movements like in Austria—the Czechs evidently have been taking quiet precautions for some time so they do not need to rush now.

At several points, however, there were long, strung out lines of soldiers lying on their bellies in fields, covering the road with their automatic rifles and machine guns. Here and there little knots of men in khaki stood at strategic points.

Forts Are Concealed.

Bigger guns, masses of infantry, and fortifications one does not see. They were back of this curtain, hidden by thickets and rolling pine covered hills coming down from the Little Carpathians.

At Brno, the industrial center of Moravia, some 30 miles from the border where the best light machine guns in the world are made, squadron after squadron of planes were lined up on the fields of a huge military air base.

There was always one circling above the town and others taking off to patrol the borders.

This corner of Czechoslovakia is particularly dangerous. Motorized German columns striking up the broad valley of the Morava from Austria and down the southern Morava, the gateway from Breslau, Germany, might cut communications quickly between Bohemia and Slovakia, leaving the bulk of the Czech army helpless, locked up behind the ring of hills which constitute the so-called "Bohemian fortress."

Adopts Baby

IRENE DUNNE.

New York, March 16.—(AP)—Irene Dunne, screen actress, and her husband, Francis Griffin, have adopted a blonde blue eyed 4 year old orphan who has lived with them a year under arrangement with the New York Foundling hospital. When the adoption was made formally in Surrogate James A. Foley's chambers yesterday the child became Mary Frances Griffin.

HIGHBALL SLAYER SENTENCED; HE PLANS NO APPEAL

CRIMINAL COURT.

Calvin Smith, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph A. Sabath.

Joseph Grabowski and Bruno Kroll, burglary, each sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Francis B. Allegretti.

Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday sentenced Corydon A. Black to serve twenty years in prison for the poison highball murder of his divorced wife. The sentence was in accordance with a jury verdict returned last Friday in the Criminal court. Black's attorney, Clyde C. Fisher, said his client would not seek a new trial or file an appeal.

Corydon A. Black.

Black was convicted twice. At his first trial he was sentenced to death, but won a reversal in the Illinois Supreme court. His former wife, Cordelia Brosseau Black, was found dead Oct. 8, 1936, in her apartment at 1550 West 95th street. Black insisted she died in a suicide pact.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA AGAIN WARNED TO YIELD TO HITLER

Senate in an Uproar Over Threat by Nazi.

PRAGUE, March 16.—(AP)—For the second successive day the Czechoslovak parliament was thrown into an uproar today by the threatening statement of a Sudeten German [pro-Nazi] member.

Karl Enhuber, professing to speak for the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia of whom Adolf Hitler has proclaimed himself protector, made this statement in the senate:

"Is Czechoslovakia ready to change her domestic policy along the lines of Switzerland, and adapt her foreign policy to be like those of Switzerland and Belgium?

"If so, the Sudeten Germans are ready to coöperate.

"We inform you before it is too late. Now it is five minutes before 12 o'clock."

[Switzerland gives a measure of autonomy to her German speaking cantons. The Sudeten Germans demand similar special status in Czechoslovakia. Switzerland and Belgium follow foreign policies of strict neutrality.]

Enhuber frequently was interrupted by the uproar of protest.

SENTENCE INFORMER TO PRISON; HE'S GLAD IT WON'T BE JOLIET

Meyer Bogue, notorious ex-convict and informer, was a happy man yesterday when Judge Francis B. Allegretti of the Criminal court sentenced him to serve two concurrent terms of 1 to 10 years each in the southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard.

Meyer Bogue.

Bogue, who is 51 years old, begged to be sent anywhere but to the Joliet penitentiary. There are at least sixteen prisoners in Joliet, he said, who would like to get their hands on him because of his activities as a stool pigeon. He pleaded guilty to operating a confidence game by posing as a divorce lawyer.

His criminal record includes fourteen years in prison since 1907. In January, 1935, while employed as an investigator for a jewelers' association, he plotted a fake robbery to make his job more secure.

CONCERNS HIRING 15,000 SUPPORT SYPHILIS TESTS

Join Program to Eradicate Scourge in Chicago.

Representatives of companies employing 15,000 persons agreed yesterday to coöperate with public health authorities in the plan to have workers take syphilis tests. Announcement of this forward step in the campaign to eradicate venereal disease was made by Dr. Oliver C. Wenger, assistant surgeon general of the United States, after a meeting in the office of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the city board of health.

Dr. Bundesen explained to the group how employés will benefit from the plan. Protection and not penalization is the goal sought, he emphasized. The plan is properly a function of good business, he said.

Desirability Agreed Upon.

"All agreed as to the desirability of the plan and promised full coöperation," Dr. Wenger said. "They also agreed no dismissals will result from tests and that it must be on a voluntary basis." At a meeting with Dr. Bundesen next week the method of giving the tests will be decided. Employés will be asked whether they prefer that company, family, or health department physicians give the examinations, Dr. Wenger said.

Aid of Others Sought.

To further extend the battle front against the scourge in Chicago, health authorities will seek the aid of the Chicago Association of Commerce and other employers' organizations to induce private industry to encourage the blood test plan.

Meanwhile, arrangements were completed for giving the tests to the 2,700 employés of THE TRIBUNE. On Monday physicians will be on hand in Tribune Tower to draw about a teaspoonful of blood from the arm of each employé who appears. The employé will hand over a numbered card to be attached to the specimen, which then will be sent to a laboratory where the Kahn test will be made. Results will be reported only to Dr. Irving S. Cutter, dean of the Northwestern university medical college and Tribune health editor, who alone will have the list of names corresponding to test numbers.

Income Tax Collections 6 Million Ahead of 1937

Income taxpayers filed 228,423 returns with the Chicago collector's office up to midnight Tuesday, an increase of 61,343 over last year, it was revealed yesterday. Collections were $61,521,732, an increase of $6,348,537. These figures, it was announced, will be swelled further when 85,000 pieces of mail are opened.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one [illegible] [illegible] it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

HOUSE TOLD U. S. LACKS YARDS TO RUSH NEW SHIPS

Faces Delay of 9 Years on Construction.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—The house was told today that construction of the battleships authorized in President Roosevelt's navy expansion bill could not be started before 1947—and puzzled members immediately wanted to know the reason for the President's insistence upon emergency action in view of this fact.

Fighting craft costing four billions of dollars already have been authorized, Representative Clare E. Hoffman [Rep., Mich.] told the members. Before the ships authorized in the pending 1 billion 121 million dollar bill can be laid down nine years will have elapsed, he declared, because existing facilities will be occupied with ships now under construction or authorized.

Fails to See Emergency.

"Yet the bill is supposed to be founded upon an emergency, a great crisis, now confronting us as a nation," he remarked. "We have heard altogether too much in the last few years of emergencies and crises. Apparently the domestic brand has been exhausted; we now look across the seas in an effort to find one to justify some pet plan."

The navy department, aware that construction of ships with present facilities cannot be started until 1947, has suggested authorizing the acquirement of additional facilities, Hoffman pointed out.

"This is proof that the present bill never originated in the navy department," Hoffman said. "This is another of those convenient emergencies used by the President to justify a desired course of action. Before we start policing foreign nations, let us set our own house in order."

Snell Raises Question.

Minority Leader Bertrand H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.] joined in the debate.

"I have been wondering and I still wonder why we are asked to authorize the building of new battleships when we haven't started to construct several already authorized," he remarked. "I want to know what's back of all this."

Democratic leaders sat silent, but one of the Republican proponents of the bill, James W. Mott of Oregon, sought to answer.

"You don't think that the President wants this navy for purposes of aggression, do you?" he inquired of Snell.

"I don't know," Snell replied. "And I would like to know. But nobody seems willing to give the answer."

General debate on the measure was concluded today and the house tomorrow will begin consideration of more than thirty amendments which have been offered.

DEATH CARAVAN OF LAMA HALTED ON WORLD'S ROOF

SHANGHAI, March 16. — (AP) — A weird caravan which for months has been carrying the Panchen Lama's body across the "roof of the world" toward forbidding Tibet was halted today at Kanze by bickerings between his partisans and those of the late Dalai Lama.

From Tachienlu, on the Tibetan border some 1,500 miles west of Shanghai, came reports that the Dalai Lama's supporters offered to carry the the Panchen Lama's body to sacred Lhasa but refused to permit his thousand Lamas, retainers and bodyguards to enter Tibet.

The Panchen Lama, who had been in exile, died in November, 1937. He ranked as the spiritual ruler of the country but had been in exile since 1924. He died at Jyekundo, in western China, while trying to make his way back to Tibet.

The Panchen Lama, worshipped as a reincarnation of the Buddha himself, had attempted to bring educational and political reforms to the strangely isolated country. Orthodox Tibetans resented the efforts to bring administrative reforms into the country's ancient culture.

H. F. McCormick Gaining After Mild Heart Attack

Harold Fowler McCormick of Chicago, chairman of the board of the International Harvester company, is recovering from a heart ailment in the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, where he has been since Jan. 24. Mr. McCormick, who is 65 years old, suffered a mild heart attack while visiting on the west coast.

Award $427,144 Contract in River Control Project

Sanitary district trustees yesterday let a contract for construction of basin walls and control gates for locks at the mouth of the Chicago river to the Ketler-Elliott company, 3101 South California avenue, on a bid of $427,144, the lowest of ten. The walls and gates are the last step in the 3 million dollar river control project.

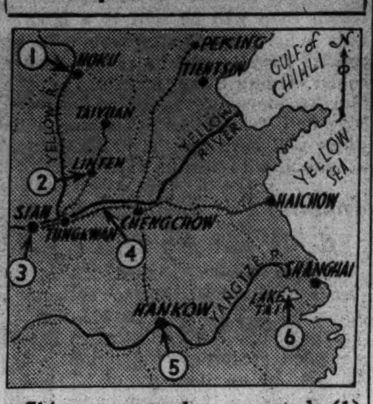
Japanese Set Back



Chinese yesterday reported (1) forcing back the Japanese at Hoku and (2) recapturing Linfen; (3) Japanese planes raided Sian; (4) Japanese artillery on the north bank of the Yellow river shelled the Lunghai railway between Tungkwan and Chengchow; (5) Hankow was raided at night by Japanese planes, and (6) Japanese motor launches rounded up straggling Chinese soldiers around Lake Tai.

CHINESE LAUNCH OFFENSIVE; PUSH BACK JAP TROOPS

Recover Some of Losses in Shansi Province.

SHANGHAI, March 16.—(AP)—Chinese guerrilla raids and smashing counteroffensive attacks appeared today to have pushed the Japanese back in several sectors and stopped them in others.

From Shansi province, which the Japanese overran in a big offensive a week ago, came reports that the Chinese had recaptured Linfen and were making strong attacks on Chaocheng and Hwohsien. These cities are in the southern part of the province.

In northwest Shansi the Chinese said they were sweeping through a triangular area between Hoku, Paotehchen, and Kolan, where Japanese were trying to hold their ground.

Protect Shensi Province.

Chinese successes in the Hoku sector were said to have eliminated danger of the Japanese forging across the Yellow river there and invading Shensi province to the west.

The Chinese reported hand to hand fighting along the Tientsin-Pukow railway, some fifty miles north of Suchow, where the Japanese have started a new offensive against the Lunghai railway. This offensive is being supported by heavy artillery and plane bombardments and, according to the Japanese, has to some extent dislodged the Chinese from their fixed defense lines in southern Shantung province.

Japanese continued a heavy artillery hammering of the Lunghai at several points from Tungkwan to Chengchow, and claimed to have interrupted trafic on the railway.

Both Sides Active in Air.

Six Chinese planes raided the Japanese airfield outside Hangchow, but no report on damage was available.

Thirty-three Japanese planes again raided Sian, communist center in Shensi, but the Chinese asserted they were driven off without extensive damage. The Japanese again made a night raid on Hankow and Nanchang in relays extending over four hours.

Porter and Woman Patron Rout 3 Tavern Robbers

A colored porter, who did battle with a beer bottle, and a woman patron, who fought with a pocketbook, routed three young bandits from a tavern at 1447 North Wells street last night. As they fled with $45 from the cash register, one of the trio fired a shot at the twenty-five patrons. None was hit. The porter is Scott Jackson of 1435 North Dearborn street. The woman patron is Mrs. Linnea Geary of 1452 Wieland street.

ARMY HAS PLAN TO MOBILIZE ALL AIRCRAFT IN U. S.

Would Use Nonmilitary Ships for Transport.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—The general staf of the army, it was learned today, is making plans for the mobilization of commercial and civilian aircraft in the event of war.

The high command is not concerned with attempting to transform such planes into fighting or even observation craft, but is interested in their use in the service of supply and transportation.

The army also is interested in all landing fields and other aviation facilities such as beacons, both radio and light.

Gather Data on Factories.

The army has gathered material on aircraft factories and on industrial plants which can be converted readily to the manufacture of military and commercial plane equipment.

The study is part of the general plan of mobilization of industry in the event of war. Special attention is being given to aviation mobilization in view of the aviation lessons learned in the Spanish war and in the Hitler coup.

Observes Hitler's Plan.

The air corps followed with interest the transportation of German troops by air into Austria in the bloodless coup of the last week-end.

For some time the army has been experimenting with dropping men and food from the air. The purpose of such experiments is to relieve isolated commands while ground forces prepare to go to their relief. Food also would be dropped to such commands.

JAP LOWER HOUSE PASSES BILL TO CONSCRIPT TRADE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 16.—The lower house of the diet [parliament] passed the national mobilization bill tonight without revisions, but with a strong resolution attached urging the government to take proper precautions. Opponents had declared the bill would place dictatorial wartime powers in the hands of the government.

Representatives of the major parties declared that in view of the circumstances confronting the nation every one had come to the realization it was necessary that the bill be passed.

Speakers pointed out, however, that there has been some dispute on whether the enforcement of the bill will be in violation of the spirit of the constitution and consequently the parties desire that the government seriously consider this point. The bill now will be presented to the upper house.

EVANSTON BOY DIES DESPITE IRON LUNG'S AID

Despite the iron lung to which he was rushed Tuesday night, J. Gordon Stott III., 10 years old, of 822 Hinman avenue, Evanston, died early yesterday of what his doctor said was a strange form of sleeping sickness which followed measles.

The child was seized with measles last Saturday and apparently was progressing well when stricken by lung paralysis. An inhalator squad attended him first, then took him to St. Francis' hospital to the respirator.

Dr. Arthur C. Taylor named the cause of death acute encephalitis and said it is unusual for it to develop with measles. Similar circumstances, however, surrounded the death in February of Joan Abbott, 7 years old, of 737 Case street.

LITTLE GIRL GROWS BIGGER; $1 IS ADDED TO WEEKLY ALIMONY

Shirley Jean Heidner.

Last August, when Shirley Jean Heidner's mother got a divorce, Shirley Jean was only 3 years old. The mother, Mrs. Helen Heidner, who is 24 and lives at 2338 North Kedvale avenue, thought $6 a week would be sufficient to feed the little girl.

But Shirley Jean now is 3½ and has grown. She eats more, too, and $6 a week isn't enough to buy her food. Mrs. Heidner explained this yesterday to Judge John J. Lupe, who said that it sounded reasonable enough. So, when Mrs. Heidner said that she thought $7 a week would take care of things nicely, Judge Lupe ordered Edwin Heidner, Shirley Jean's father, to increase his payments.

Pass Bill Giving Banks Right to Sell Life Insurance

Albany, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)—A bill permitting savings banks to sell life insurance today was passed by both houses of the state legislature. It permits the banks to sell life insurance policies up to $3,000 to any individual.

FIND TEN DEAD AFTER TORNADO IN BELLEVILLE

Belleville, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—The death of Mrs. Leda Koch today raised to ten the toll of dead in the Belleville area from a tornado that lashed this city and adjacent communities last night. Mrs. Koch was crushed in the collapse of a tavern.

Work of caring for victims and repairing damage estimated at $500,000 went forward under the supervision of 100 National Guardsmen ordered here at the request of Mayor George Remnsnider.

A toll of 22 dead, hundreds injured, and more than 1,000 left homeless was counted in the wake of tornadic storms that roared erratically through seven Mississippi valley states last night. Eight persons died in southeastern Missouri. Heavy rain was reported through much of the middle west.

SON OF IRELAND HAS 3 REASONS TO CHEER TODAY

As a native son of Ireland, Patrick Prendergast always celebrates St. Patrick's day. And he always has been proud that his birthday is the same day. But today will have triple significance for him. It marks also the termination of his 35 years with the city fire department.

Prendergast is captain of hook and ladder company No. 16, and he becomes 63 years old today. Under the compulsory retirement act he ends his service at noon. He expects to be in the company fire house, 1405 East 62d place, at that hour, and to spend much of his leisure time henceforth with his associates there.

Capt. Prendergast joined the fire department on May 3, 1904.

U. S. ARMY AND NAVY DEFEAT SHAM ATTACK ON PANAMA CANAL

COLON, Panama, March 16.—(AP)—Combined United States army and navy forces today ended a two day war problem by defeating a simulated enemy attack against the Pacific entrance of the Panama canal in an attempt to prevent transit of the United States fleet from the Atlantic.

Coast artillery on the Pacific coast repulsed the "enemy" attempt to land raiding forces, but planes theoretically inflicted heavy damages on canal supply depots.

Mother of 4 and Man Found Slain in Home

East Montpelier, Vt., March 16.—(AP)—A married woman, mother of four, and a man tonight were found shot to death in the lamplit kitchen of an isolated farmhouse here, apparently victims, Sherif Henry C. Lawson said, of a murderer. Authorities identified the woman as Mrs. Jude Spear of Williston. Identification of the man was lacking. Lawson said papers found in the dead man's clothing bore the name of Pearley Chaplin, 35, of Medford, Mass. Neighbors said that Mrs. Spear and her husband had come to the farm Sunday for the sugaring season, but that her husband had returned to their Williston farm yesterday.

THE RULES

WHO CAN ENTER? This game is open to everybody — men, women, boys, and girls everywhere—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families.

WHAT TO DO? Every week day a picture containing the scrambled name of a movie star will be published until 36 have appeared. Unscramble the picture. Write or print the name on the picture or a facsimile. Hold all pictures until you have the complete set of 36. DO NOT SEND THEM IN SEPARATELY.

WHERE TO SEND? Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Movie Stars," Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 1718, Chicago, Illinois. With your entry send a letter, giving your name and address and telling in 50 words or less, who is your favorite movie star and why. Letters will be considered only in the event of ties in naming the stars. Entries must be in the office of the Chicago Tribune by midnight, one week after Name No. 36 has appeared.

BASIS OF AWARDS. Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree that the judges' decisions will be final. Awards will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved, complete sets of unscrambled names. Neither handwriting nor elaborateness will count. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid. In fairness to all, the Tribune cannot engage in any correspondence or discussions on this contest.

HULL TO REVEAL ADMINISTRATION FOREIGN POLICY

Roosevelt Yields to Pleas for Statement.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—With a storm of opposition rising in congress to the Roosevelt move to keep the Philippines and with apprehensions increasing of American involvement in another world war the President has authorized an official statement of his foreign policy.

The statement will be made tomorrow in a speech Secretary of State Cordell Hull will make at a luncheon at the National Press club. The address will be broadcast by national radio chains not only to the United States but to all other countries in both hemispheres.

The pronouncement is expected to be momentous, for it comes at a time when the President's foreign policies are under fire in congress and are being questioned in many other places. The administration statement is being made in response to an increasingly insistent demand that Mr. Roosevelt reveal to the people the course he is pursuing in secret dealings with other powers and the objectives at which he is aiming.

Await President's Attitude.

The statement is awaited for an indication of the President's attitude toward recognizing Hitler's coup in annexing Austria. Mr. Roosevelt has refused to recognize the fruits of conquest such as Manchukuo and Italian annexation of Ethiopia. He said yesterday he was yet to hear from Austria of any change in her status. German ambassador Hans Dieckhoff sought to force the issue today by notifying Mr. Hull that he had taken over the Austrian legation and by asking continuance of extra-territorial status therefor.

Apprehensions that the President is entangling or likely to entangle the country in commitments to Great Britain and other powers which might require us to go to war to police the world have inspired much of the opposition to the billion dollar navy increase bill now in course of passage by the house. The question constantly recurring in the debate is why we need so large a navy unless the President expects to use it for "quarantining" Japan and other aggressor nations as he proposed in his Chicago speech.

Issue of Philippines.

The latest mystery of the Roosevelt foreign policy which Mr. Hull may or may not dispel concerns the Philippines and the future rôle of the United States in the far east. It transpires that the administration is promoting a move for the repeal of the Philippine independence act and for the retention of the islands under American sovereignty.

Paul V. McNutt, American commissioner to the Philippine commonwealth, broached the proposal with the approval of President Roosevelt in a radio speech Monday. This was done by prearrangement with Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine commonwealth, who immediately indorsed the McNutt suggestion of a reconsideration of the legislation granting the Philippines complete independence in 1946.

Today Quezon apparently backed water somewhat on the proposition, saying that while the question of Philippine status should be reëxamined the islands should be given ultimate independence.

Want American Protection.

Neither Quezon nor most other Filipinos are so hot for independence now unless they can continue under American protection and continue on a basis of free trade with the United States. The expansion of Japan has given the Filipinos pause, inciting a lively fear that they would be gobbled up in due time. Upon more mature consideration likewise the Filipinos now realize that they would soon go broke with tarif walls raised against their exports to the United States.

Being convinced that the United States would not undertake protection of an independent Philippine nation from Japan and would not continue a free trade relationship, Quezon has been maneuvering for some time to revise the independence grant and obtain a dominion status—that is, virtual independence under American protection with tarif preference.

Roosevelt Tacitly Approves.

Tacit approval of this move by Mr. Roosevelt has suggested that he is now opposed to withdrawal of the United States from the orient and is disposed to keep the flag flying over the Philippines as a check to Japanese aggression. British diplomacy for some time has been directed toward a reversal of American policy in the far east whereby the United States would continue in possession of the Philippines and thereby interpose a barrier between Japan and the British possessions to the south.

It transpired today, however, that if Mr. Roosevelt presses this reversal of policy with respect to the Philippines he will be up against a terrific battle in congress with the sugar and other agricultural interests that forced through the Philippine independence legislation. The Filipinos were indebted for the independence act to the power in congress of the sugar cane and sugar beet growers and the dairy and other producers of animal fats who were intent on ending competition with Philippine sugar and vegetable oils. In order to erect a tarif against the Filipinos the American farmers gave them the independence they were crying for.

Senators State Views.

These same interests are not disposed now to keep the Philippines and continue Philippine competition. Here are the views of Democratic senators representing these interests:

Senator Pat McCarran [D., Nev.]: "I have always favored complete independence of the Philippines, the sooner the better, and I am not in favor of any reëxamination of the question. We ought to get as far out of Asia as possible."

Senator Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.]: "I have always favored independence of the Philippines at the earliest practicable moment. I thought and still believe that the 10 year limitation of the Tydings act was too long. The Philippines merely expose us to trouble in a place where we have no right to be. Moreover, I don't believe the possession of colonies is a function of democratic government."

King for Independence.

Senator William H. King [D., Utah]: "I wrote the plank for Philippine independence in the Democratic platform of 1920 and repeatedly thereafter urged legislation to carry out that declaration. I was against the 10 year provision of the Tydings bill because I thought it was too long. But my 2 year substitute provision was defeated and I am now resigned to the present law. I am not in favor of any reëxamination of the question at this time."

Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.]: "I am opposed to any reconsideration of the Philippine question. They wanted their independence; now let them have it. They never were any good to us anyway, and from a military standpoint they are a definite liability. It would be impossible to defend them."

Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.]: "If the constituted authorities of the Philippines request withholding independence I would be willing to do that and from their standpoint I think it would be wise to continue the present status. I think it is entirely up to them. But from our own personal standpoint I think we would be better off if we got out as soon as possible."

House Sentiment Opposes Delay.

Sentiment in the house appears overwhelmingly against retaining control over the Philippines. Even the small minority which favors delay in granting independence to the islands admits that a vote today would find 80 per cent of the members, both Republican and Democratic, in favor, not only of the Tydings-McDuffie act, but of granting immediate independence.

Congressmen interested in avoiding the competition of sugar imports from the Philippines will lead a battle against any proposal to delay complete independence.

"We made a contract with the Filipinos," remarked Representative Fred Cummings [D., Colo.], "and we should keep it. I am in favor of cutting them loose immediately."

Chairman Sam MacReynolds [D., Tenn.], of the foreign affairs committee, voiced the same sentiment although he added cautiously that that was his opinion at the present time. Enough White House pressure might be applied to change his views and those of other Democratic leaders, it was apparent.

Disagree With McNutt.

Majority Leader Sam Rayburn [D., Tenn.], said that there had yet been little discussion in the house about the McNutt speech but that a large majority was undoubtedly against the views expressed by the high commissioner of the Philippines.

Representative Fred L. Crawford [R., Mich.], conceded that not one-fifth of the members were in agreement with his opinion that severance of control over the islands was "a tragedy which may involve the United States in a catastrophe."

Granted Divorce

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Helen Orton in Judge LaBuy's court yesterday.

A high school romance that brought about an elopement in 1934 ended in a divorce yesterday for Mrs. Helen Orton, 22 years old, of 1535 Wilder street, Evanston. She told Judge Walter J. La Buy that her husband, Orville, 28 years old, of 4909 North Seeley street, had deserted her in 1935. She asked no alimony.

KEEP U. S. FLAG IN PHILIPPINES, M'NUTT WARNS

Fears Islands Will Be a Bloody Ground.

Retention of the American flag in the Philippine Islands indefinitly was advocated last night by Paul V. McNutt, high commissioner to the islands, who addressed 600 members of the Economic club of Chicago in the Gold room of the Congress hotel.

"As long as our flag flies there no foreign power will trespass, no matter what the size of the armed forces," he declared. "The Philippines will remain under that flag the only bright and prosperous spot in the orient, a corner stone for peaceful reconstruction in the far east. If it does not fly the islands will become a bloody ground, the center of a war that will last for a generation."

Words Hold Significance.

The present international situation and McNutt's undeclared campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940 gave added significance to his words. He came from Washington to speak before the club and went to Indianapolis after the banquet. He will return to his post in Manila on March 22.

McNutt based his argument chiefly on the economic unfairness of the law under which the islands will be given complete independence in 1946 and have to shift largely for themselves in the world markets.

He based his argument also on the assumption that the Filipinos really want America to stay in control of their foreign affairs and to keep forces there despite all their talk about independence.

Praises Democracy of Isles.

The Philippine problem, which now is being considered by a joint congressional committee, must be solved, McNutt said, so that the economic and political policies will harmonize.

"We cannot kill such a living monument to American idealism and enterprise," he continued. "No nation in the world can boast of so grand a monument. This is the one place where democracy and peace reign, where the Christian religion rules the souls of men. It is a part of the oriental problem. If we run away, our monument will be destroyed."

PHILIPPINE PRESIDENT SPEAKS FAVORABLY OF DOMINION RULE PLAN

MANILA, P. I., March 16.—(AP)—Philippine government leaders indicated today they might be willing to forgo independence in favor of a "dominion" form of government permitting continued American sovereignty over the islands.

High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt had said in Washington, D. C., that the Philippines would become a battleground if the American flag were withdrawn.

President Manuel Quezon and a majority of Philippine assembly members spoke favorably of the dominion plan. Quezon said informally he would have no objection to permanent American rule if the islands were given some such status as is held by Canada in the British empire.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

DYNAMIC DREAMS

By CALEB

IT WAS a cold, crystal clear night. As our great plane hurried across the sky it nosed higher and higher to avoid the shouldering of a rude cross wind. Fourteen thousand feet up we hung, still as a star, and the earth flowed blandly beneath us.

Then, as a salute to the solemnity and striking silver of the moonlit night, our pilot descended to fifteen hundred feet and circled dramatically floodlighted Niagara Falls.

Here was magic—Nature's behemoth of water roaring in angry conversation with our engines, shaking great fists of spray and mist skyward at a fleet and daring bird of metal.

I thought of a dean of science who said thirty-five years ago, "May not our mechanicians be ultimately forced to admit that aerial flight is one of that great class of problems with which man can never hope to cope, and give up all attempts to grapple with it?"

And I thought, too, of Leonardo of old, daring to dream of flight; Leonardo, whose tenuous thoughts reached out like century-spanning tendrils to outdistance in time the dreams of a twentieth century man of science.

It is great to dare to dream. Wings casting black shadows on the green Pacific, now near our coast, now near Hawaii; the drone of motors over the great Andes; the reflection of sun on waves and wings at the bottom of the world. All dreams—dreamed in the face of stupendous odds, and then at last reality.

Do you dream? And if you dream, do you dream from a perspective far above the level of the niche you fill?

Christopher Columbus dreamed dynamic dreams like that. Pasteur did. Lincoln did. So did Edison. Their great dreams helped make them great.

As long as services rendered by human beings to one another are incomplete and imperfect, as long as governments are oppressive or wasteful, as long as businesses have shortcomings, as long as products wear out, as long as crime persists and accidents happen, dreams will be dreamed by humble people, who will grow great in making them come true. Dare to dream and do not despair.

ROSS KIDNAPER CONDEMNED TO DEATH IN CHAIR

principally about the death of Ross and the manner in which he had been treated while a prisoner of Seadlund and his accomplice, James Atwood Gray. Seadlund, in his testimony, had insisted Ross was well treated, that his death was accidental, and that he shot Gray only "to put him out of his misery" after he had been seriously wounded during a scuffle for possession of a pistol.

Prosecutor Scoffs at Story.

"He tells us," said Prosecutor Ward, "that he had offered Ross his freedom after the $50,000 ransom was collected and that Ross was on the way to Lake Geneva, where he would have been liberated, when he met death. I want you to make a logical deduction. The government contends that Ross was dead on Oct. 4, four days before the ransom was collected.

"Can you believe that the man with the brain to carry out the intricate ransom plot would leave Gray, whom he calls a dumb kid, in the woods with Ross, where policemen might find them, while he spent days in Chicago? No. Gray was killed because dead men tell no tales, and Ross was slain immediately after Seadlund had taken his photograph on Oct. 3 in the hideout near Emily, Minn."

Pictures Flight of Captive.

Igoe spoke in vivid words of the worry and indignity that Ross endured while a captive.

"Let's stand only on Seadlund's confession," he said. "He treated Ross like a dog up there in the woods. He said they let Ross sleep in a bag; then he said, 'We cuffed the old man.' Then Seadlund executed Ross.

"In this prosecution we are not answering the cry of the mob. We are giving hope and confidence and contentment to all the women of America. Seadlund is having a fair trial here, fairer than he gave old man Ross in the woods.

"Once and for all, send out the word that of all crimes none is so condemned as kidnaping—that kidnapers must suffer the death penalty."

Seadlund's shackles were removed when he went on the stand, but several guards were stationed near him, ready to act if he made any move to escape. He answered Burnham's questions in a weak voice. In substance, he asserted that after he and Gray had split the ransom money near Emily they "talked it over with Ross" and asked him where he wanted to be freed. They offered, he said, to release him near Duluth or St. Paul, but Ross insisted on Lake Geneva, Wis.

"We'd have let him go anywhere, except in a town," said the defendant. "We were on our way to Lake Geneva when we stopped in the dugout near Spooner, Wis."

That was the place in which the bodies of Gray and Ross were found on Jan. 19. Seadlund maintained that he had never intended to kill either, and did so only because they had been fatally injured and he could not leave them to suffer. It was a merciful act, he said, to slay them.

Foggy About Dates.

Cross examination by Ward found the defendant confused on dates. He admitted that he had never told G-men about the offer to free Ross. Once there was a grin on his face when the prosecutor asked him if he knew the kidnaping was on Sept. 25. "I'll take your word for it," he said.

The government, in the three days of the trial, introduced 35 witnesses and gave a complete résumé of the case from the time Ross was seized in Wolf road until Seadlund's capture at the Santa Anita race track in California on Jan. 14.

SEADLUND FIFTH TO DIE

John Henry Seadlund, condemned by a federal court jury last night to death in the electric chair as the kidnaper of Charles S. Ross, is expected to be the fifth kidnaper executed under the so-called Lindbergh law enacted by congress in 1932, according to Daniel M. Ladd, special agent in charge of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation.

The first to die was Arthur Gooch, former Okmulgee, Okla., butcher boy, who was hanged June 19, 1936, at McAlester, Okla., for kidnaping two Texas peace officers. Under sentence of death by hanging on March 21 at Moundsville, W. Va., are Arnett A. Booth, John Travis, and Orville Adkins. They kidnaped Dr. James I. Seder, aged prohibitionist.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann was executed on April 3, 1936, for the murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. He was not tried in federal court, however. He was tried and executed by the state of New Jersey.

Opinion Divided on Proposed Law to Bar Ransom Payment

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

A movement for passage of a law to take the profit out of kidnaping by making ransom payments illegal brought divergent views yesterday on the feasibility of such legislation either by the states or by the national government.

Robert M. Woodward.

State Representative Robert M. Woodward [Rep., 29th] said he would advocate the passage of an anti-ransom law at the next session of the legislature in January, 1939. He introduced such a measure last year, but in the final days of the session it was tabled.

"I intend to reintroduce the bill making it a felony, punishable by a sentence of 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary, to pay ransom to kidnapers," said Representative Woodward. "If kidnapers cannot profit, this vicious crime will cease."

Will Continue Fight.

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., 13th] minority leader in the Illinois lower house, who fought the Woodward bill at the last session, was just as emphatic in his denunciation of the proposed law.

"I do not believe such a law will help one particle," he declared. "People will continue to pay ransom. When a parent or husband or wife is faced with the choice of paying ransom or of going to jail there is no question what the decision will be. The money will be paid."

Senator Henry F. Ashurst, chairman of the judiciary committee of the United States senate, has introduced a national anti-ransom payment bill, but it has not been acted upon.

Kidnaping in Cuba is made profitless by statues which provide that as soon as a ransom note is received, the government steps in and freezes all assets of the family involved so that it is impossible to meet ransom demands.

Agree Action Is Necessary.

Criminal court officials here refused to be drawn into the controversy until they had had time to study the possible good or evil effects of such a law. It was generally agreed, however, that it is imperative some means be found to take the profit out of kidnaping, which, it is estimated, has placed some $600,000 in the hands of criminals in the last dozen years. Statistics as to exact amounts were not available, but it was said that only a third of this money has been recovered by department of justice operatives.

First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley said there were arguments for and against an anti-ransom bill. He held that such legislation would have to be national in scope before it could be effective.

EVANSTON SPURS BATTLE AGAINST UNION TERRORISM

New Trouble Breaks Out at Suburban Hotel.

As union trouble broke out yesterday at the Orrington hotel in Evanston, Mayor Henry Penfield issued a warning that labor violence will not be tolerated in the suburb and spurred the search for two men who slugged an independent painter and a home owner on Monday. State's attorney's police sent out squads to hunt for the sluggers and continued the questioning of a business agent of the painters' union.

The Orrington hotel, at 1710 Orrington avenue, had employed union men to paint the exterior of the building. Yesterday these painters quit and informed Palmer Jones, manager of the hotel, that they would not resume work until nonunion maintenance men employed inside were discharged The painters' union placed three pickets outside the hotel.

Taken to Police Station.

John Ford, a business agent for the teamsters' union, arrived at the scene shortly afterward and ordered members of his union to cease deliveries to the hotel in sympathy with the painters. Ford was taken to the Evanston police station and was persuaded to allow the deliveries, but indicated he might change his mind and stop them again.

The six engineers at the Orrington hotel are union men, but the other 144 employés are not organized. Manager Jones said he would not discharge any of the maintenance men, declaring that many of them have worked for the hotel for ten years and there never has been any labor trouble there before.

"I won't give in to the whim of somebody who wants to collect dues," Jones said, referring to John M. Sears, business agent of the painters' union. Sears was questioned again yesterday in connection with Monday's slugging and again denied any knowledge of it.

Warned to Join or Quit.

A week ago Sears warned Albert C. Peterson, an independent painter, to join the union or quit work on a job on a house at 900 South boulevard, Evanston. Peterson refused to comply with these demands and on Monday he and Harry M. Pettit owner of the house, were blackjacked by two men. Since then a police guard has been at the house while Peterson and two assistants continued their work.

"This violence must stop," Mayor Penfield said. "We won't stand for strong arm tactics in this town. There has never been any before and there won't be while I am mayor The guilty parties in this assault must be arrested and prosecuted."

Chief of Police William Freeman said that in Sears the painters' union had the wrong kind of representative for the north shore.

"He won't get anywhere with us," Freeman declared.

Several prominent real estate operators and builders appeared at the Evanston police headquarters last night to add complaints against Sears and to tell Chief Freeman of threats and acts of intimidation they attributed to him.

Murder Unsolved After 35 Days.

Yesterday was the 35th day since Chicago's latest major crime of union violence, which is still unsolved. This is the fatal beating of Lloyd Rourke, a nonunion laundry driver, on Feb. 10. On Tuesday a coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder by persons unknown, and yesterday Louis Clementi, an ex-convict and former Capone henchman, who had been held as a suspect in the murder, was freed on a charge of disorderly conduct in the South State street court.

Capt. Ray Crane of the Hyde Park police still had squads searching yesterday for Rourke's assailants, but no one was in custody and there were no definite clews to the killers. Rourke was beaten to death while delivering laundry to the Fairfax hotel, 1369 Hyde Park boulevard.

VOTE TO INDICT 2 DETECTIVES IN HOLDUP SCANDAL

Concluding an investigation into a police scandal in the Town Hall district, the grand jury yesterday was reported to have voted true bills against two detectives accused of freeing two men arrested by uniformed policemen as robbers.

The detectives are Frank McKune of 4916 Francisco avenue and Earl Flannery of 1553 North Clark street. The true bills were said to charge conspiracy, which carries a one to five year prison term, and aiding a prisoner to escape. If found guilty of the latter charge, a misdemeanor with two counts, each faces a term of six months to one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Last week the jury indicted Kenneth Peters, 3434 Broadway, a former pugilist, for assault to rob. Peters and a man known only as Tip, who is a fugitive, are the alleged robbers.

The uniformed policemen said they seized Peters and Tip in the act of holding up James J. Burke, chauffeur for a north side gambler, on Feb. 26, and turned the prisoners and their guns over to the two detectives, who offered to take them to the station. When they did not appear there an investigation was started.

Seize Two Men, 200 Tires in Drive on Gang of Thieves

Seeking to smash a stolen tire and automobile accessory gang with headquarters on the north side, police from the state's attorney's office seized 200 tires and two dozen batteries last night in a raid near Fox Lake. Two men, whose identity was kept secret, were arrested. Officials of the state's attorney's office said other arrests would follow. The gang has been under investigation for some time.

BEDFORD QUARRYMAN DIES.

Sentences Vary from Prison to Probation.

Parents of five boys 16 and 17 years old who were involved in ten south side robberies, were blamed yesterday by Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court for a breakdown of discipline that started their sons toward lawbreaking. For the boys, he dealt out penalties ranging from imprisonment to probation.

"This applies where the shoe fits," said the judge to the parents lined up before the bar. "You have slipped somewhere along the line. Either there has been a lack of supervision in the home or a lack of obedience. These boys had money you did not give them and they did not earn. It was your duty to find out where they got it.

"I feel a free use of the old hickory stick in the case of some of them would have done much good. In the case of three, however, I feel they were victims of divorce. Their penalties are lighter."

One in Gang Slain.

The gang was captured Feb. 21 when one of their number, Irwin Gable, 19, of 517 Root street, was shot and killed by Berwyn police as they fled in a wild chase from the south side.

Two older boys, named as the crime leaders, were sentenced last week to terms of one to twenty years in the penitentiary. They are William Creagh, 19, of 3642 Wallace street, and Charles Tomsovic, 18, of 517 Root street.

George Doll, 16, of 443 West 43d place, drew the most severe sentence yesterday, one to ten years, because of a bad report on his background.

"You will find two groups in the penitentiary," Judge Harrington said. "One will be the plotters and schemers, incorrigibles, who are one step from the electric chair. The other will be those who want to pay their debt to society and emerge as better men. You must make your choice between them."

In the case of Albert Bailey, 17, of 526 West 41st place, Judge Harrington said the report showed his home conditions were not always the best, and that the boy had been working since he was 9 years old.

"I'm giving you a chance," said the judge, "but only one. Your employer has said he will take you back and act as your moral mentor. You will be on probation. In addition you must report every two weeks to Capt. Hugh McCarthy of the Stock Yards station.

"You must also start in at night school and go to church regularly. Idleness is the bane of the juvenile crime problem. In this way you will have no chance to be idle."

Because his record was good, the same probationary terms were given to Henry Reinbold, 17, 3719 Wallace street. Bad records for the other two, however, resulted in jail terms for them. Frank Rose, 17, of 6922 South Marshfield avenue, was sentenced to a year in the county jail, and Herbert Rabe, 16, of 533 West 43d place, to a year in the Bridewell, and two years probation after his release.

"My only regret," said Judge Harrington, "is that there is no institution of a military type with vocational training where I can send this kind of boy. The penitentiary is hardly the place. We have no right to turn him loose—society must be protected."

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Donoghue concurred.

Three Held to Grand Jury.

Judge Gibson E. Gorman of the Boys' court held two youths and a young man to the grand jury, placed two boys under supervision of the court, discharged three others, and sent three to the Juvenile court. All were arrested by the Brighton park police in the round of a high school burglary gang.

Those held to the jury were Edward Knapp, 20, of 4541 South California avenue; Arthur Block, 24, of 1830 South Millard avenue, and Russell Abbott, 17, of 2408 West 25th street.

In another burglary case, John Sobieski, 25, and his brother, Edward, 17, both of 348 North Winchester avenue, were held to the grand jury by Judge Gorman in bonds of $3,500 each.

Chief Frank Tiffany of Lake Forest was host. Chief William O. Freeman of Evanston presided. Among others present were Superintendent Walter Williams of the Illinois state police, Brig. Gen. Peter B. Peyton of Fort Sheridan and Capt. T. G. Holland, in charge of the fort's police; Chief Deputy Thomas E. Kennedy of Lake county, Mayor Henry Penfield of Evanston, and Capt. John Pendergast, chief of the Chicago uniformed force.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

The New Farm Law.

March 16, 1938.

DAIRY farmers are wondering how the new far law will affect them, since it deals specifically with five crops—corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco and rice—and makes no direct provision for paying subsidies on dairy products.

Some dairymen are confused so much that they hesitate to make future plans, fearing that, if they are to coöperate on the AAA program, they might do the wrong thing and violate some principle of the law. Many already expect their production costs to be increased, especially where they are required to buy corn and other concentrates.

Others are not clear on what is expected of them if they coöperate. If they reduce their corn acreage in line with the government's allotment, which calls for a 20 per cent reduction in Illinois, for example, would they be permitted to feed the approved crops grown where corn has been raised in former years? Some have wondered if they will be permitted to increase the size of their herds or if they will be required to reduce them.

Dairymen in the established milk producing belts have been wondering if southern farmers will increase the production of feed crops on land formerly used for cotton and become serious competitors of farmers who regularly produce dairy products.

Regulation Intended.

It is apparent that congress intended to regulate the production of dairy products, as well as live stock, by controling the production of feed crops. The objective seems to be to discourage an increase in dairy products and meat producing animals.

Congress attempted to make provisions in the new law—the agricultural adjustment act of 1938—to protect the established dairyman from undue competition resulting from increased feed crops grown in sections outside the regular dairy belts. But in practice the plan is so widesweeping that restrictions will apply to all dairy farmers.

These restrictions prevent farmers from keeping more cows than they have been in the habit of milking. When a county is found to have increased the number of cows above normal, dairy farmers in the county who have contributed to that increase will be penalized. Government subsidy checks will be withheld from them if land diverted from corn,, wheat, cotton, tobacco or rice is used in raising approved crops fed to cows that produce milk for sale. This applies to dairymen in all parts of the country, in established dairy counties and in counties where milk production is not the major source of income.

The restriction was originally designed to prevent cotton farmers from developing serious competition for dairymen in the regular milk producing areas by growing feed crops on diverted cotton land.

There is no restriction on feeding these crops to milk cows if the milk produced is for home use on the farm.

Apparently the law will apply to dairy farms much the same way as to grain and general live stock farms. Dairymen who coöperate with the plan will receive government checks for growing crops and following practices approved by the government. They also will be paid for reducing the acreage of corn and other basic crops to meet acreage allotments.

Noncoöperating dairy farmers will not be directly affected by the law except when marketing quotas are in effect on any crops which they grow. They will be compelled to withhold their share of the crop from market under orders of the secretary of agriculture.

Increased Expense Foreseen.

Since dairy farmers in many cases buy part of their feed to supplement home grown feed crops, they might be expected to pay more for the feeds they buy if the law succeeds in pushing grain prices to abnormally high levels as proponents hope it will do. This might be offset to some extent by an increase in the production of legumes and pasture crops which is expected to be brought about under the AAA plan.

Corn marketing quotas may not affect dairymen in the same way as other corn producers because a high percentage of the corn grown on dairy farms usually is put into silos. Corn used for silage is exempt from storage under the marketing quota. It is assumed that a noncoöperating dairy farmer might plant all the corn he wishes, put the entire crop in silos and be exempt from the storing and sealing provisions of the marketing quota for corn.

Dairymen in the commercial corn area apparently would be expected to reduce their corn acreage to meet acreage allotments the same as other farmers if they are to get government corn bonus checks. But there is nothing in the law to indicate that established dairy farmers may not feed crops grown on diverted acres to cows and sell the milk that the cows produce so long as they maintain their dairy herds at normal size.

Crops grown on diverted acres may be fed to live stock other than milk cows so long as the number of animals within a county remains normal. But if the number of meat producing animals in any county should be increased to the point of giving undue competition to live stock farmers in other sections, the secretary of agriculture may issue regulations necessary to protect the interests of producers affected.

BARGAIN COUNTER RATES OF TVA GO TO CORPORATIONS

Situation Big Element in Morgan Controversy.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Knoxville, Tenn., March. 16.—[Special.]—Four great industrial corporations and one private utility seem to be leading beneficiaries, through bargain counter rates for electricity, of the Tennessee Valley authority, the half billion dollar experiment in a planned society.

This situation is a prime element in the disruption in the TVA board which has led Chairman Arthur E. Morgan to demand a congressional investigation of TVA affairs.

Aluminum Firm Has Contract.

The Aluminum Company of America, one of the nation's most prosperous corporations, has a contract completed last July 20 for 112,000 kilowatts of firm and secondary power at low rates for use in its plants at Alcoa, Tenn.

[By firm power is meant electrical energy that remains constant and unvarying 24 hours a day the year round. Secondary power is energy that, due to physical conditions at the generating plant, is available only 75 per cent of the time. The rate for this type of power is considerably lower than that for firm power. In a third classification is dump power, a surplus with no immediate market. The rate for this is lower still. Finally, there is interchange power. This is energy that might be due the generating plant in payment for power lent another plant in time of need, or it might be power sold back by customer plants. Delivery of it would be more irregular than secondary or dump power.]

[A kilowatt—1,000 watts—delivered for a unit of time is the unit of measurement by which electricity is sold. A kilowatt is the force that will lift 44,244 pounds one foot in one minute. A kilowatt hour is that force applied for one hour, or, since it is infinitely divisible, a half kilowatt applied for two hours or ten kilowatts for a tenth of an hour. A kilowatt year is that force applied for a year, 24 hours a day.]

Strange Situation Develops.

Strange it may seem, but in the same week that TVA announced its amended contract with the Aluminum company the department of justice at Washington said it would file suit against the company to have it declared in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The suit was filed April 23, 1937, and is now awaiting trial in federal court in New York.

Norris dam, keystone of TVA, built at a cost of 36 million dollars, has an installed capacity of 100,000 kilowatts. It indicates the dimensions of the Aluminum contract with TVA. In Knoxville, Norris dam is facetiously called by some Aluminum dam.

Chairman Morgan has opposed the Aluminum contract. He has protested it fails to protect the public interest. He has hammered away with the argument that as yet TVA, in which he is a minority of one against two, has not yet publicly stated a power policy. He has insisted it is folly and worse to commit TVA with such a contract without knowing the costs of generating the electricity.

Although belabored in Washington as a monopoly, the Aluminum company is an ace customer of TVA and gets current for its electric furnaces in large blocks.

Kinds of Power Sold.

Of the 112,000 kilowatts, 30,000 are firm power. The price for this is $24 a kilowatt year, which is the standard TVA rate to municipalities adjusted to a 100 per cent load factor. Then 30,000 kilowatts are secondary power. The price for this is 2.5 mills a kilowatt hour. The next block is 40,000 kilowatts of dump power, the price being 2.27 mills a kilowatt hour. Finally 12,000 kilowatts are interchange power.

The TVA inferentially takes the stand it has a bargain in the contract. It said in its press announcement last year that 70,000 of the kilowatts compose a class of power which municipalities and other public agencies could not use because it is run of stream power, available only part of the time, when stream flow permits.

The Aluminum company, which finds TVA's venture in planned economy a source of profit through cheap power, is controled by the Mellons of Pittsburgh and the Duke family of New York. In 1936 it made net $20,866,000 on a capitalization of $223,000,000, or almost 10 per cent. Figures on 1937 earnings have not yet been made public.

Other Contract Beneficiaries.

Others benefited by TVA contracts are:

1. The Monsanto Chemical company, contract dated June 15, 1936, giving it 17,500 kilowatts of firm and 32,500 kilowatts of secondary power for a plant at Columbia, Tenn. This is rated one of the most prosperous chemical companies in the United States, with headquarters in St. Louis.

2. The Electro-Metallurgical company, a subsidiary of the Union Carbide and Carbon company. Its contract of Aug. 31, 1937, calls for 24,000 kilowatts of firm and 16,000 of secondary power. The date for initial service is June 1, 1939, for a plant it is expected to establish in the Wilson dam area. The Union Carbide and Carbon company has assets of more than $400,000,000.

3. The Victor Chemical company made a contract July 21, 1937, for 16,000 kilowatts of firm and 16,000 of secondary power for a plant at Mount Pleasant, Tenn., to take advantage of deposits of phosphate rock.

4. The Arkansas Power and Light company entered a contract with TVA June 16, 1937, for 20,000 kilowatts firm and 20,000 secondary power.

Cities Complain on Price.

In the valley cities one complaint for months has been that TVA charges municipalities more for current than it does a few large chemical and metallurgical industries through the contracts for prime and secondary power in large blocks. The TVA argument has been that the rate for firm power is the same for the industries as the municipalities, while the bargain rate secondary power could not be used by municipalities because it is only a part time performer.

How much the kilowatts actually cost has not been determined. Chairman Morgan has emphasized this. As yet no allocation has been made of how much of the TVA investment is to be charged to hydroelectricity and how much to navigation, flood control, and other items.

Wins $750 Damages

MRS. RUTH TELSER.

A sealed verdict awarding $750 personal injury damages to Mrs. Ruth Telser, 34 years old, of 5240 Sheridan road, was returned yesterday by a jury in the Circuit court of Judge Benjamin P. Epstein. Mrs. Telser had sued the city for $25,000, charging she was injured when her car struck a depression in Wacker drive near State street.

PRESIDENT ACTS TO BAR FOES OF TVA IN INQUIRY

Agrees to Joint Congress Quiz on That Basis.

The 15 senate Republicans, however, have a scheme which they believe will upset the administration's strategy. Under the rules of minority representation, at least one Republican would have to be named on the five man senate slate of a joint committee. The Republican plan is to pledge each of their number except Senator Bridges to refuse to serve on the committee.

Doubt Use of Strategy.

Vice President Garner might circumvent this scheme by appointing Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rad., Wis.] as the minority representative, but the Republicans do not believe he would do such a thing.

La Follette, a member of the Progressive party, regularly serves with the minority on standing committees, but he is a fervent administration follower and TVA partisan. Moreover, he is the political sponsor of Director Lilienthal, a former member of the Wisconsin public service commission under Gov. Philip La Follette.

Senator Norris, another non-Republican who is classified with the minority for purposes of committee representation, has declared he would not serve on an investigating committee.

Lilienthal and Willkie Confer.

Another phase of the TVA controversy was taking place in a conference here today between Director Lilienthal and Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation.

The principal subject of the conference was the proposal of the Commonwealth and Southern president to sell to the TVA certain of the company's holdings in Tennessee, northern Alabama, and northeast Mississippi, representing approximately $120,000,000 of the $500,000,000 of its book value investment in the southeast.

Inherent in the offer, however, was the proposition that with the acquisition of this one-fourth of the Commonwealth and Southern's utilities empire, at a fair price, the TVA would guarantee the continuation of the remainder as a private system—specifically that it would not erect competing systems for the company's other power properties in Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia.

PETITION PRESENTED BY LITERARY DIGEST FOR REORGANIZATION

New York, March 16.—(AP)—The Literary Digest, nationally circulated weekly magazine, petitioned today for authority to reorganize under a section of the bankruptcy act, listing assets at $850,923 and liabilities at $1,492,056. The petition was signed by George F. Havell, president.

The magazine, printed by the Cuneo Press, Chicago, was described in the petition as having 425,000 subscribers when publication was temporarily suspended last Feb. 23.

Disclosure was made that a profitable business resulted from the magazine "renting its names and addresses for direct mailing advertising purposes and for direct mail sales campaigns" at prices ranging from $8 to $15 per thousand names.

The petition said only one suit was pending against the magazine—a $1,000,000 action brought by William A. Langer on Aug. 27, 1937, in the Superior court of Cook county, Ill. The suit has been made the object of a dismissal motion for lack of proper service.

APPEALS BOARD CUTS 125 MILLION OFF VALUATIONS

End Personalty Protest Hearings Today.

The county board of tax appeals plans to complete hearings today on complaints against 1937 personal property assessments, board members said yesterday in disclosing that approximately $125,000,000 has been cut from the original $780,496,637 personalty assessment for Cook county.

Emmett Whealan and Paul Drymalski, the two board members, began hearings Feb. 8 on more than 15,000 complaints filed against the 1937 personalty assessments made by Assessor John S. Clark. The reductions ordered by the board amount to more than 40 per cent of the $283,000,000 increase over the 1936 total entered by Clark.

Board Cites Errors.

A statement issued by the board yesterday said the reductions were made in "correcting assessors' errors, removing unfair penalties, eliminating tax exempt Illinois stocks, correcting capitalization of exempt income tax items, canceling duplicate assessments, and other errors."

All the increase in the 1937 assessments was accounted for by assessing of securities owned by individuals and corporations, made possible chiefly through examination by the assessor of federal income tax returns.

The board has several cases under advisement on which it is expected to render decisions today. These include several holding companies which, because of their incorporation in Delaware, contend they cannot be taxed in Cook county on their securities holdings. So far, the board has unheld Clark in his assessments against out of the state holding companies.

Compute Tax Rates.

Prospects for meeting the scheduled to June 1 penalty date on 1937 taxes are bright, County Clerk Michael J. Flynn said last night. His department, he said, is already at work computing tax rates for country townships and expects to have its compilation for the entire county ready by the first week of April so that the tax extension department can prepare and mail out the tax bills before May 1. Tax bills must be mailed thirty days before the penalty date.

The appeals board has completed entering changes in 339 of the 439 personal property record books and has sent them to the county clerk's office, the board members said.

MEN SEARCHED THEIR CELLARS FOR FINE OLD WHISKIES

So Seagram could prove that Crowns taste finer than the most famous blended whiskies of the old days

$25—for each sealed, unopened bottle . . . is the price Seagram offered for bona fide blends bottled before 1919! Then Seagram asked its qualified experts to compare these old blends . . . side by side with 5 and 7 Crown.

Blending skill explains it. Seagram has searched the world to single out the few master blenders capable of producing that unrivalled Crown taste. A taste so fine that—from July, 1935 to December, 1937—in the 14 states that publish records*—more people bought Seagram's 5 and 7 Crown than all other blended whiskies in their price class combined.

At the bar or wherever you buy—think before you drink . . . say Seagram's and be sure.

THE C. I. O. TAKES THE PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS.

Two years ago the Democrats of Pennsylvania took in John Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization and won an election. Some of the considerations involved were revealed a few months later when Earle, the Democratic governor, supported Lewis with the use of the state troops in the closing down of industrial plants. The Democrats, however, did not or could not deliver to the complete satisfaction of the Lewis demands and now the C. I. O. proposes to take over the Democratic party in the state.

The party made up a ticket unsatisfactory to Lewis. Gov. Earle was to be sent to the United States senate, which in itself was not opposed, but the party organization selected Charles A. Jones, an attorney of Pittsburgh, for governor instead of Thomas Kennedy, the lieutenant governor and treasurer of the United Mine Workers. Kennedy is now candidate for governor with Lewis' backing in spite of the efforts of Earle and Senator Guffey to keep the popular front both a front and popular.

Kennedy, in announcing his candidacy, says: "Labor does not owe anything to the Democratic party. On the other hand, the Democratic party owes a great deal to labor." The tone of that statement was borrowed from utterances of John Lewis, who reminded Mr. Roosevelt that the C. I. O. had contributed about half a million dollars to the Democratic campaign fund and expected a return in political goods and services.

Mme. Perkins of the labor department, Mr. Farley of the postoffice, Attorney General Cummings, and Govs. Earle of Pennsylvania, Davey of Ohio, and Murphy of Michigan could well reply that Mr. Lewis' extreme expectations were in themselves a form of ingratitude. Had not the federal officials and the governors used their power to protect the lawless elements in the C. I. O. in seizing private property, besieging industrial plants, or forcibly occupying them, stopping the mails and preventing law officers in communities from doing their duty?

The industrial disorders had not been in the ascendancy very long before some of the C. I. O. organizers and officials discovered that the most active of their direct actionists were communists and that their purpose was to prolong the lawlessness and seize the control of the C. I. O. itself. No evidence of concern has come from Mr. Lewis himself, who now has his own ticket in Pennsylvania, but alarm was sounded by some of his associates and subordinates.

Homer Martin of the United Automobile Workers found and said that the communists in his organization were seeking to take it over and throw him out. David Dubinsky of the International Ladies' Garment Workers, one of the best established unions in the C. I. O., said that the communists were responsible for the failure of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. to reach a labor peace.

The C. I. O. maritime activities have been dominated by Harry Bridges, Australian communist, a deportable alien whom Mme. Perkins of the department of labor has protected, although immigration officials on the west coast, after investigation, recommended that he be sent back to his native land. Earl Browder, head of the American communist party, is unreserved in his comments on the advantageous position to which the party has raised itself in the last two years both in the Democratic party and in the Lewis labor organization.

Recently when Homer Martin renewed his attempt to drive communists out of the United Automobile Workers' union, C. A. Hathaway, a member of the communist central committee, said: "We took the lead in organizing the U. A. W. A. and Martin will find that his effort to oust us will not be upheld by the rank and file of the workers." The influence of the communists in the C. I. O. is conceded even when opposed by some of the organization leaders and it is asserted by the communists themselves. They regard the C. I. O. under Mr. Lewis as the communist vanguard and their greatest political instrument.

The C. I. O. is trying to take over the Democratic party and may do so this year in Pennsylvania just as the Farmer-Labor party did in Minnesota a year and a half ago. The communists will then take over the C. I. O. That is the course of revolutions. The half way fellows are thrown out by the extremists. The charges made by THE TRIBUNE in the last presidential campaign have been substantiated by developments which began almost as soon as the vote was counted.

TWO SIDES OF THE BORDER.

Several weeks ago the annual meeting of the Traffic club brought a number of railway men to Chicago, among them several officials of Canadian lines. The event gave the inquiring reporter an opportunity to ask one of the latter gentlemen if car loadings in Canada had suffered the same precipitous decline as on this side of the border. "No," was the somewhat surprising answer. "Were it not for the slump in international business Canadian railroads would be showing a little increase, and this despite the failure of the wheat crop during the year 1937. Intra-Canadian business is good, and there has been no recession from the steady uphill climb that commenced late in the year 1935."

As railway car loadings have always been regarded as one of the most reliable of business indices, recourse was had to some of the Canadian bank reports and particularly to a recent analysis submitted by the Bank of Nova Scotia. The review supported the story told by Canadian car loadings. There was a tone of optimism in every line of endeavor not dependent on United States markets for the disposition of a major share of the output.

In the long run there must be some downward spiral in Canada because there is too much interdependence between the two countries, but at present business conditions in the United States have taken a nose dive while Canadian industry is merely being dragged downward by the vacuum thus created. Baiting the business man has not become a popular sport in Canadian political circles.

MEDDLING AND MUDDLING IN ASIA.

High Commissioner McNutt seems to have decided to reverse our policy of getting out of the far east. He wants our flag to remain in the Philippines. If it comes down "the Philippines will become bloody ground and the center of war within war for a generation." Since the Philippine commonwealth was set up the problem has broadened, Mr. McNutt explained in his broadcast from Washington, and the Philippine problem has become a part of a greater oriental problem. "If we scuttle or run away our monument in the Philippines will be destroyed and our grandchildren will read a history which will apply to us the epithet of 'quitter'." Mr. McNutt wants an immediate coöperation of Filipino and American leaders in "a realistic reexamination of their long-range interests and our own."

The American people will have as little enthusiasm for Mr. McNutt's plan for coöperation with Fiipino leaders to take part in the "greater oriental problem" as they had for Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to engage them in quarantining "aggressor nations" and policing the world.

If there is one thing the American people have no doubt about it is that they will not be conscripted to fight any more foreign wars. Mr. McNutt's idea that "we lose our voice in oriental diplomacy" if we withdraw from the Philippines will not alter our determination to get out. It would rather hasten our steps. The Philippine politicos, it is true, are not so anxious for that event since the possibilities of Japanese policy have been unfolded to them. But they have declared for independence and it has been granted them. If the fear of Japanese intervention were removed they would demand independence again. There is nothing in such a relation that creates an obligation on our part to fight for them. They agitated for years to get out of the American system in spite of the benefits American control brought to them.

Neither in the problem of the Philippines nor in what Mr. McNutt calls the "greater oriental problem" are there any reasons which appeal to the American people for reversing their policy of getting out of Asia. It would be profitable to investors in the islands if the American flag stays over the islands, with the necessary accompaniment of men and guns. But the American people are not now deceived by tall talk about our world responsibilities or pseudo-emotional appeals to solve every people's problems but our own. We have taken a hand in making the world safe for democracy and saving civilization with results not conducive to the acceptance of further invitations. Mr. McNutt's sudden elevation to high commissioner seems to have afflicted him with delusions of grandeur, but they are not shared by the American people at this time. The "larger oriental problem" which he seems to have discovered since he left Indiana is for us chiefly the problem of saving other people's interests. We have had enough of that.

A resolution introduced by Senator Burke of Nebraska for an investigation of the operations of the national labor board has not been pressed for parliamentary reasons, but Senator Burke emphatically urges an investigation and citizens who have noted the course of events in industry since the passage of the Wagner act will strongly support the proposal.

The Wagner act was proposed ostensibly as a measure of industrial peace. It was approved by the Supreme court as a constitutional exercise of congressional authority to that end. Its enactment was followed, as Senator Burke points out, by one of the most violent and widespread disturbances of industrial conditions in our history. Evidence that the law and its administration have conduced to peace and rational accommodation between employers and employés, the purpose for which they were created, is conspicuously lacking. An honest and thoroughgoing inquiry into this failure is obviously called for. Senator Norris, the father of the act, does not want such an inquiry any more than he wants such an inquiry into another of his inspirations, the TVA. But the interest of the nation demands both.

It demands inquiry, not only because of the immediate consequences of the labor relations act and its administration or rather maladministration, but even more because of the lesson legislation of this character presents to the people of the United States. As Senator Burke truly says, the law in certain particulars is fatally defective because it is built upon the false premise that only employers can be guilty of unfair practices, and this has been the premise of the labor board's administration of the law. The board has functioned repeatedly as an agency of the C. I. O.

The Wagner act is probably the most unfair law ever passed by the American congress and its administration has been in keeping with that character. Both are the product of a violent partisanism which invariably makes bad law and worse administration. It should be examined and exposed in the interest of the whole people and not least that of labor, which it pretends to serve but undoubtedly injures.

INCOME TAX TALES bring to mind a story friends like to tell on Jacob Viner, University of Chicago economics professor, money expert, and former special assistant to the secretary of the treasury. Mr. Viner, like ordinary muggs, got into hot water over his income tax. He went to Europe, expecting to spend a year or longer at Geneva, but was recalled by the government. The law is that Americans who live abroad for as long as six months do not have to pay income tax on any foreign money received. Called back by the government, not returning voluntarily, Mr. Viner made a deduction for income received in Switzerland. He was notified that he had defrauded the government and please to pay up.

Good Patrick's day, and in the shamrock's green
These tiny leaves so well suggest the scene
Of emerald pastures that in verdure sing
Of Ireland's lure to e'en the alien mind
That knows its azure lakes, but by the eyes
That each day tell the wonder that should blind
The soul bereft that never shared such skies.
It is a happy chance that on a day
When earth is new again we mark the birth
Of Erin's patron saint, who drove away
All that had kept his fairyland on earth
  From blessedness, till now its very loam
  Is dear to those whose fathers called it home.

CHICAGO ARTIST JOHN STEPHAN, 31 years old, is unique in that he is a mosaic worker as well as a sculptor and a painter. There are numerous terrazzo workers who lay floors, but few who do the kind of mosaic for which St. Mark's in Venice is famous. Most important mosaic work ever done in Chicago will be the four gigantic figures Stephan has been commissioned by the WPA Federal Art Project to do for the new library at Carl Schurz High school, remodeled from the old assembly hall. The young artist has selected three of the figures his glass and marble mosaics will represent; the students will select the fourth. Stephan has chosen, first, Benjamin Franklin, not only because he was a statesman and an inventor, but because in addition to his contributions to the world, he was a man who enjoyed life. Leonardo da Vinci and Socrates are the others he has chosen similarly for the mosaic figures.

YOU MIGHT HAVE SEEN a little girl helped from a railroad president's motor car and taken to "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" one day last week. She was 11 year old Mabel Dickson, the child you read about some time ago after an engineer on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad dropped her a box of flowers cut from his garden near Dolton, Ill., because she had sat up daily to wave at him from her cot as the train sped by. The press relations man saw the making of a story and arranged to have the train halt so the two could meet . . . a big-train-stops-for-little-girl idea. The story was printed from coast to coast. The publicity ended there, but the story goes on. The railroad, after ascertaining that the child was receiving proper medical care, saw to it that the tedium of her days was relieved. She was sent stationery and stamps so she could answer her fan letters; there was a turkey and trimmings sent her at Thanksgiving and a tree and gifts at Christmas, and presents on her birthday in February. Last week President C. T. O'Neal sent his car to take her to the movie.

RECURRING SPELLS OF VOMITING.

THE occasional vomiting spell by means of which the stomach rids itself of undesirable food need give us but little concern. "Sick to my stomach" is a common expression and children particularly are likely to overeat, whereupon the gastric pouch—rather than put up with the indiscretion—may oblige the victim to disgorge.

Some attention, however, must be paid to recurring seizures, especially those not associated with nausea, or if blood or bile is observed. We must search for the source of bleeding and try to explain why bile has been thrown back from the duodenum into the stomach.

The answer to the problem of vomiting without nausea lies in the presence in the medulla—that part of the brain above the spinal cord—of a nerve center which controls the symptom under discussion. When this is stimulated by nervous impulses coming from the abdominal area or from the brain, the difficulty may occur without the slightest sense of illness.

A sensitive individual may vomit because of fear, after witnessing some disgusting sight, or on detecting some unusual odor. We can account in this manner for the morning sickness of pregnancy, wherein stimuli reach the brain along sympathetic nerve pathways originating within the abdomen. This enables us also to understand that pressure inside the skull may inaugurate the phenomenon; for example, it may follow a blow on the head or come from pressure of a brain tumor. Whenever nausea is absent, therefore, we should consider possible irritation of the nervous depots.

There is still another type called reflex vomiting in which the symptom arises because the stomach has become overdistended, unduly alcoholized, or in which the diet has been too rich. If, at the same time, pain accompanies the episode, we must look to the appendix, the gall bladder, or trouble with the pancreas. A kink in one of the ureters that runs from a kidney to the bladder, or a stone passing down one of these canals, may produce an attack.

We must decide first of all whether the incident begins within the stomach or because of nerve irritation or from some outside cause. It must not be allowed to continue for any great length of time because it clearly upsets the body's chemical balance. One of the best plans of management is to feed starchy food immediately, and a few teaspoonfuls of glucose will suffice.

If too much fluid is lost this should be replaced as the patient's cells may be dried out rather quickly. Here the prompt use of a solution of common salt [sodium chloride] may relieve a dangerous state of affairs. A pint of liquid should be administered at once and the procedure continued until—in the case of an adult—two or three quarts have been given. Another striking incident is the loss of chlorides which leads to alkalosis. As a result the kidneys may fail to function and uremia may complicate the situation. No one should permit an anemic person to vomit without restoring the water drained away.

Just as soon as possible small bits of cracked ice may be employed. If this does not aggravate the condition, whey, chicken broth, or barley water may be offered. Remember that the patient is usually very thirsty and may want to gulp a huge quantity. Every minute or two, however, perhaps a teaspoonful can be given without reëstablishing the vomiting cycle. Then comes dry toast with weak tea. Thereafter, feedings every two hours will be advisable.

Few of us realize that 20 per cent of the body consists of fluid that comes and goes. This is our normal exchange reservoir. Twenty-five pints is not a very large volume. However, if we get rid of half of it by expulsion via the mouth or from diarrhea or both, we have a job on our hands to keep the machine going until it can be renewed.

STREP SORE THROAT.

M. W. writes: After having a streptococcus sore throat what would you suggest to prevent further trouble?

REPLY.

Be sure that all foci of infection are removed and that your milk and food supplies are clean. Everything conducive to a greater reserve is desirable—plenty of rest, good food, moderate exercise, etc. An antiseptic gargle will wash out hordes of bacteria, but this will have little effect if more are constantly produced within the tonsil crypts.

LUMBAGO.

Mrs. M. writes: What may be used for lumbago?

REPLY.

Lumbago is a manifestation of rheumatism. The use of a saline laxative, dry heat, and plenty of rest will bring relief. Potassium iodine is beneficial. Ask your physician about this.

PROPERTY CONVEYANCE.

Chicago, March 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We hold what was given as a joint tenancy deed, made on warranty deed blank—statutory form—conveying from husband and wife [giving their names] [1] to same in joint tenancy, for certain real estate, but without deeding to a third person. The intention was to transfer full title to property in case of either party's death. The property was originally in the husband's name, who died about three years ago, the wife still living at the present time. The husband had no children. The wife had three children by a former marriage. The husband's brothers and sisters are dead, but a number of children of his brothers and sisters are living, one or two of them minors. If this is not a correct form [2] what should be done to adjust same? [3] Who, if any one, could be held responsible if additional expense is incurred in the matter?
N. H.

1. This is not the right way to do it. For a party to convey to himself is a meaningless operation. It seems probable that no joint tenancy has been created. We are reluctant to attempt to advise on such an irregular instrument without having its wording before us.

2. It is too late to prevent the wife's heirs from inheriting. It seems probable that her estate should be probated in order to produce a readily saleable title.

3. Depends on who is to blame. Obviously you have not given us the material facts on this point.

THE LESSON OF 1917 AND 1938.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 14.—Your splendid editorial of March 13 entitled "The Lesson of 1917 and 1938," has undoubtedly called forth much commendatory comment. Permit me to add these few lines in encouragement of your position.

The build-up of English-French propaganda in this country has been amazingly shrewd and skilful; still worse, it has been astonishingly effective and successful.

Once again, as in 1917, the notion is becoming prevalent that the snarling of European dogs requires American intervention, supervision, and control. Unbelievable though it may seem, the pride of short-sighted Americans is again being inflated by the theory that America has a world mission to safeguard democracy. The disastrous results of treacherous Wilsonian tactics of less than twenty-five years ago seem to be forgotten.

There is one ray of hope. The memory of the great American tragedy—our participation in a foreign war—is not completely obliterated. It still lives in the minds of a considerable number of American citizens. Moreover, that memory is being kept alive by your warnings. Sunday's editorial was a masterpiece, both as to content and timeliness. May your trumpet, giving no uncertain sound, continue to thwart the sinister designs of those who would engulf us in another catastrophe!

OLD LICENSE PLATES.

Chicago, March 13.—I, too, have noticed automobiles being driven with 1937 plates still on them. The one thing I fail entirely to see is how those who have purchased new plates are being done a great injustice because there are still some cars being driven without them.

Surely they know as well as your correspondent, Motorist, that they cannot continue driving their automobiles the entire year without obtaining new plates; but until the time that they can have saved the required sum, they probably are thanking the Chicago policemen for being human enough to understand that there has been and still exists, to a certain degree, somewhat of a recession.

LEGS.

Chicago, March 4.—Our smart women turned down the awful headgear of last fall. The same smart women, I am sure, will scorn the short skirts, so often dubbed vulgar. No smart woman will be seen in short skirts and hose so loud as to shout. I heard this remark the other day: "The more diminutive the skirt the less facial interest is observable in the wearer."

A JANITOR'S LIFE.

Chicago, March 14.—I wish to defend the janitors from W. J. J.'s remarks. Being one of a janitor's family, I feel I am thoroughly acquainted with their duties. W. J. J. evidently has a personal grudge against janitors. If it seems such a soft job, why doesn't W. J. J. hurry to secure a union card and get a job as janitor?

Following are a few "must do's" of a janitor:

Up at 5 a. m. Steam on at 6. [In wintertime they seldom finish before midnight. Often they must get out of bed at 2 or 3 a. m. to aid in an emergency.]
Make all minor repairs.
Order supplies, such as coal, tools, etc.
Show apartments to prospective tenants.
Cut weeds and water lawns.
Keep shrubbery trimmed and spaded.
Clean sidewalks and rear yards.
Clean hall windows and basements.
Clean stair halls and vestibules.
Clean basements and boiler rooms.
Sweep and wash rear porches.
Keep snow removed from walks and porches.
Remove and burn garbage daily.
Screens removed and hung in season.
Ashes kept in cans and removed regularly.
Maintain heat and hot water.

Janitors are never free. They cannot accept invitations to Sunday dinner without returning to fire boilers and turn on lights. Janitors earn every penny they get, which is small recompense for stooped shoulders, calloused hands, tired feet, and aching bodies. A janitor, in order to make a moderate living, must have four medium sized buildings. He must perform all the above duties for each individual building. All janitors do not get rent free.

W. J. J. is misinformed as to the 36 flat wage scale. Under the new wage scale it was raised to $136.80, with living quarters, gas and light not free.
M. C. J.

SHE ENTERTAINED A ROBIN.

Chicago, March 12.—I may not be the first person to see a robin this spring, but I believe I'm the first person to have a visit from one.

I was awakened early Sunday morning by a fluttering of wings and much chirping. Upon arising and investigating, I discovered a beautiful fat robin flying around my bedroom. It had entered through a small opening above the window ventilator and was having trouble finding its way out. I raised the window and it flew out on to the grass plot. I watched it search for worms, so I know it was a robin, and I saw it later in the day in the yard. Spring can't be far off, and my little visitor made me very happy.

BETTING IN THE CITY HALL.

Chicago, March 10.—I had an "interesting and true" experience while paying my water bill at room 101 in the city hall today. While counting my change I was standing next to a police officer who was using the telephone, calling in some horse race parlays and bets on taxpayers' time and money.

This is not unusual in any department in the city hall. I would suggest Mayor Kelly open a bookie joint in the building so the employés would not have to leave the building to place bets or use the city hall telephone.

A TENANT DEFENDS LANDLORDS.

Chicago, March 14.—Although I own no property and have been a renter for many years, I do not agree with those who write you that rents are too high and landlords greedy. Let those who complain of high rentals make an actual impartial investigation of the net return on the average apartment building in Chicago and I believe they will change their views.

In making this investigation they should consider the following items: Purchase cost, annual depreciation, taxes, insurance, special assessments, janitor hire, coal, repairs, yearly decorating of apartments, commissions, and losses due to vacant apartments or dishonest tenants who find it cheaper to move than pay rent. In addition, they should consider financing costs and yearly interest on the mortgage. To be fair, the net return [if any] must be figured over a ten year period to allow for rental fluctuations.

I have made such an investigation and shall continue to rent, not own, apartments.

Another thing I cannot understand is why the landlord should be the goat for the ills of society. The other day I heard a group discussing the case of a landlord who was trying to evict a tenant who had paid no rent in some time. The general view was that the landlord was a man of no sympathy—in fact, a brute. In other words, it was the duty of the landlord to dig into his pocket to take care of the unemployed tenant. I did not notice any of those berating the landlord digging into their pockets to aid the tenant. Yet why was it the landlord's duty any more than that of any other citizen? FAIR PLAY.

THE DIESEL PRINCIPLE.

Oak Park, Ill., March 11.—Your second article on Diesel engines in "Everyday Economics" for March 10 makes the following statement: "And it is the explosion resulting from the ignition of the fuel which produces the power of the engine."

Authorities on Diesel engines agree "the power derived is due to the heat from the burning oil expanding the air and products of combustion, and not to some mysterious explosion, as is often stated."

As the free air in the cylinder is compressed by the returning piston, the pressure is increased and the temperature raised to or above the point necessary to burn the oil. When the piston reaches the end of stroke a quantity of oil is injected at high pressure, the burning oil increases the temperature and pressure and this pressure performs the work.

The explosion takes place when the waste products are exhausted into the atmosphere after the work has been performed.
M. D. FRANEY.

HE CLEANS HIS STREET.

Chicago, March 12.—R. S. W. seems to think that because we pay taxes for street cleaning and money is appropriated for the purpose we should get our streets cleaned. The nerve of him! Why, out here in my neighborhood in Beverly Hills [19th ward] we clean our own streets. All of my neighbors do it. Many a time I have taken a wheelbarrow, shovel, and broom and cleaned up my part of it so that the city hall boys won't be short of change when they winter in Florida. Of course they do some cleaning. They clean out our pockets several times a year with exorbitant tax bills.

From Across the Sea

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—The Nazification of German calendars has been neglected, in the opinion of the S-A Mann, official organ of the Nazi Storm Troopers. This periodical complained that at the beginning of the "year vi." of the Nazi régime calendars are sold in Germany which fail to register the birthday of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, though listing all Roman Catholic holidays.

"The overwhelming majority of the German people," said the S-A Mann, "have no interest in seeing the day of the immaculate conception marked as a red calendar day, nor do they want to know the dates of the feast of the guardian angels, or of the holy trinity.

"On the other hand we could well imagine that Jan. 30, when the Nazis took power in 1933, should be marked on all calendars as "the day of the assumption to power" and that the dates of the birth and death of Horst Wessel [Nazi martyr slain by communists in 1932] be listed as well as Hitler's birthday."

Stew Sundays should be noted on the calendars also, the periodical asserted. These are observed once a month during the winter. All Germans are requested to cut down their dinners to a stew on these days and donate the savings to winter relief.

"One can only hope urgently that the calendars for 1939 appear in a different makeup, corresponding more to the real feeling of the people," said the S-A Mann.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

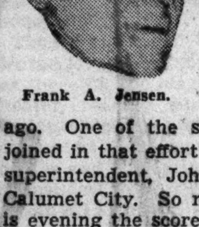
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

JENSEN CHOICE OF HORNER FOR SCHOOLS CHIEF

Sketches of Candidates in Primary Battle—I.

The Tribune today starts a series of informal sketches of the major candidates for state offices in the April 12 primary. Candidates of the opposing Democratic factions will be presented first and will be followed by the Republican slate choices. The series will be concluded with the candidates for county judge of Cook county.

BY PERCY WOOD.



Frank A. Jensen.

Frank A. Jensen, head of the La Salle-Peru school system, is Gov. Horner's candidate for state superintendent of public instruction in one of the Democratic primary battles which happens to be rooted in the vain attempt to unseat Mr. Horner two years ago. One of the state officers who joined in that effort is the incumbent superintendent, John A. Wieland of Calumet City. So now the governor is evening the score.

Jensen, however, is not talking politics as he stumps the downstate counties with his colleagues on the Horner slate. He is talking about education from a background of thirty years in three sectors of the field—as teacher, school administrator, and textbook authority. And he has won all of the advanced academic awards, topped by the degree of doctor of philosophy.

Platform Anecdotes Popular.

Before the voters whom he is asking to nominate him rather than Wieland on April 12, Jensen appears as a heavy set, square faced man of fewer years than the 57 he admits. His friends insist he does not resemble the convential school teacher type, although he speaks rapidly and well. They fortify their stand with reference to Jensen's wealth of anecdote which they characterize as of the chuckle type, as contrasted with the deep seated guffaw. This readiness with a platform tale is proving a popular asset with the campaign audiences. Jensen's running mates say, and since it is his first campaign he is also getting a kick out of it.

Dr. Jensen doesn't go in much for relaxation. At Rockford, where he was city school superintendent for twelve years prior to 1935 when he went to La Salle-Peru, his former associates say he played golf three or four times in a summer, swam a little during vacations in Michigan, couldn't endure bridge or any other card game, and seemed to be most contended when sitting around with friends.

As a school administrator he is classed as a strict executive, but one with whom employés find it easy to work, as well as an unusually competent organizer. It is also said he is either strongly liked or strongly disliked because of his frankness and force.

Heads Schools in Michigan.

The Horner candidate held school superintendencies for 17 years in Michigan before coming to Rockford, and before that taught in the country schools. He was graduated in 1906 from the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti and was granted the degree of master of arts at Columbia university in New York in 1913. He obtained his doctorate at the University of Michigan in 1930. He is now superintendent of the public schools of both La Salle and Peru and also heads the junior college.

Dr. Jensen has been married three times and twice widowed. He has five children, the oldest, Clyde, being a naval officer on shore duty at the United States Naval academy at Annapolis. Dr. Jensen is a former reserve captain in the chemical warfare service.

She Surrenders

MRS. DOROTHY POMERANTZ.

Judge John P. McGoorty will decide on March 25 about Mrs. Dorothy Pomerantz and her sprained ankle. When investigation showed on Tuesday that Mrs. Pomerantz, who is 30 years old and lives at 5220 Drexel boulevard, had apparently claimed redress three times for one sprained ankle, Judge McGoorty cited her for contempt. She surrendered yesterday.

MRS. L. A. LAFLIN ASKS DIVORCE ON CRUELTY CHARGE

Suit for divorce was filed yesterday in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan by Mrs. Beatrice Clow Laflin of 275 North Mayflower road, Lake Forest, against Lloyd A. Laflin. Their marriage on Jan. 4, 1930, was a society event.

The suit, filed by Attorney Paul Doolen, charges that last November her husband struck her, knocking her down. Last Jan. 24 he struck her again and she left him, she states.

Mrs. Laflin asks suitable alimony and custody of two children, Lynn, 7 years old, and Mary Brewster, 4. She asks also that her husband maintain and educate them and that he pay her attorney fees.

Trial of 19 on Blue Sky Charges to Begin April 18

Trial of nineteen partners and salesmen of Marks, Laser & Co., brokers at 231 South La Salle street, on charges of violating the state blue sky laws, was set for April 18 by Judge James G. Gullett in the County court yesterday. Eleven of the accused pleaded not guilty yesterday, six pleaded similarly on Tuesday, and two others are expected to enter pleas tomorrow. The defendants are charged with selling unlisted stock of an eastern carpet concern.

HORNER PRAISES O'BRIEN AS 8,000 CROWD ARMORY

Some 8,000 residents of the 29th ward jammed the 132d Infantry armory at 2653 Madison street last evening at a testimonial meeting for Martin J. O'Brien, for twenty-five years Democratic committeeman in that neighborhood. Most of the leaders of the Horner-Courtney-Jarecki faction for which O'Brien is Cook county chairman were on hand.

Gov. Horner sounded a keynote for his faction's Cook county campaign, which is not to open officially until next Monday, and praised his coworker, declaring O'Brien's acceptance of the Cook county chairmanship spelled victory. The governor said he and his colleagues were going to win the fight in Cook county by helping Judge Jarecki protect the integrity of the ballot box."

State's Attorney Courtney, James Slattery, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, and others also spoke. Gov. Horner left the meeting early to go to Belleville, Ill., to take charge of hurricane relief efforts there.

BLACKSMITH SHOT SEIZING A ROBBER; SITS ON HIS MAN

Shot and critically wounded in a struggle with a bandit, Edward Tischer nevertheless continued the struggle early today in a tavern at 512 West 103d street. When police arrived, they found the wounded man, a blacksmith, sitting on the robber.

Tischer and John Johnson of 424 West 101st street were in the tavern with the proprietor, Edward Miller, when the bandit entered. Tischer and Johnson tried to fight off the gunman, and in the fight Tischer was shot through the stomach. Tischer, who is 35 years old, lives at 10047 South Sangamon street. He was taken to the Roseland Community hospital. The bandit gave a fictitious name and address and then refused to divulge his true identity.

Amazing?

No, routine! Day After Day

THOMAS GROWS HAIR

YEARS ago the re-growth of hair on bald heads was unusual and amazing. Today, modern science in the form of Thomas' reliable treatment has made re-growing hair a routine matter—a daily occurence. Each day The Thomas' are ending dandruff, stopping abnormal hair-fall, and re-growing hair for more than 1600 persons.

With Thomas' precise, modern method of retaining or regaining hair available there is no reason why you should become bald or remain bald. If you do, you do so by choice. Baldness is not thrust upon you. It warns you of its approach—you have dandruff; your scalp itches; your hair falls abnormally. You douse your scalp with cure-all concoctions and try hit-or-miss treatments—and almost before you know it your scalp is ready to join a nudist colony.

Choose hair — not baldness. More than a quarter-million other men have found that hair can be retained or regained by the reliable proved Thomas method. Thomas can help you to get rid of your dandruff; stop falling hair; and re-grow hair on the thin and bald spots.

Consult a Thomas expert today. He will examine your scalp without charge or obligation, and tell you frankly just what can be done in your particular case. He knows the symptoms of the 14 local causes of baldness and knows exactly how to overcome them. Remember—scalp examination is free.

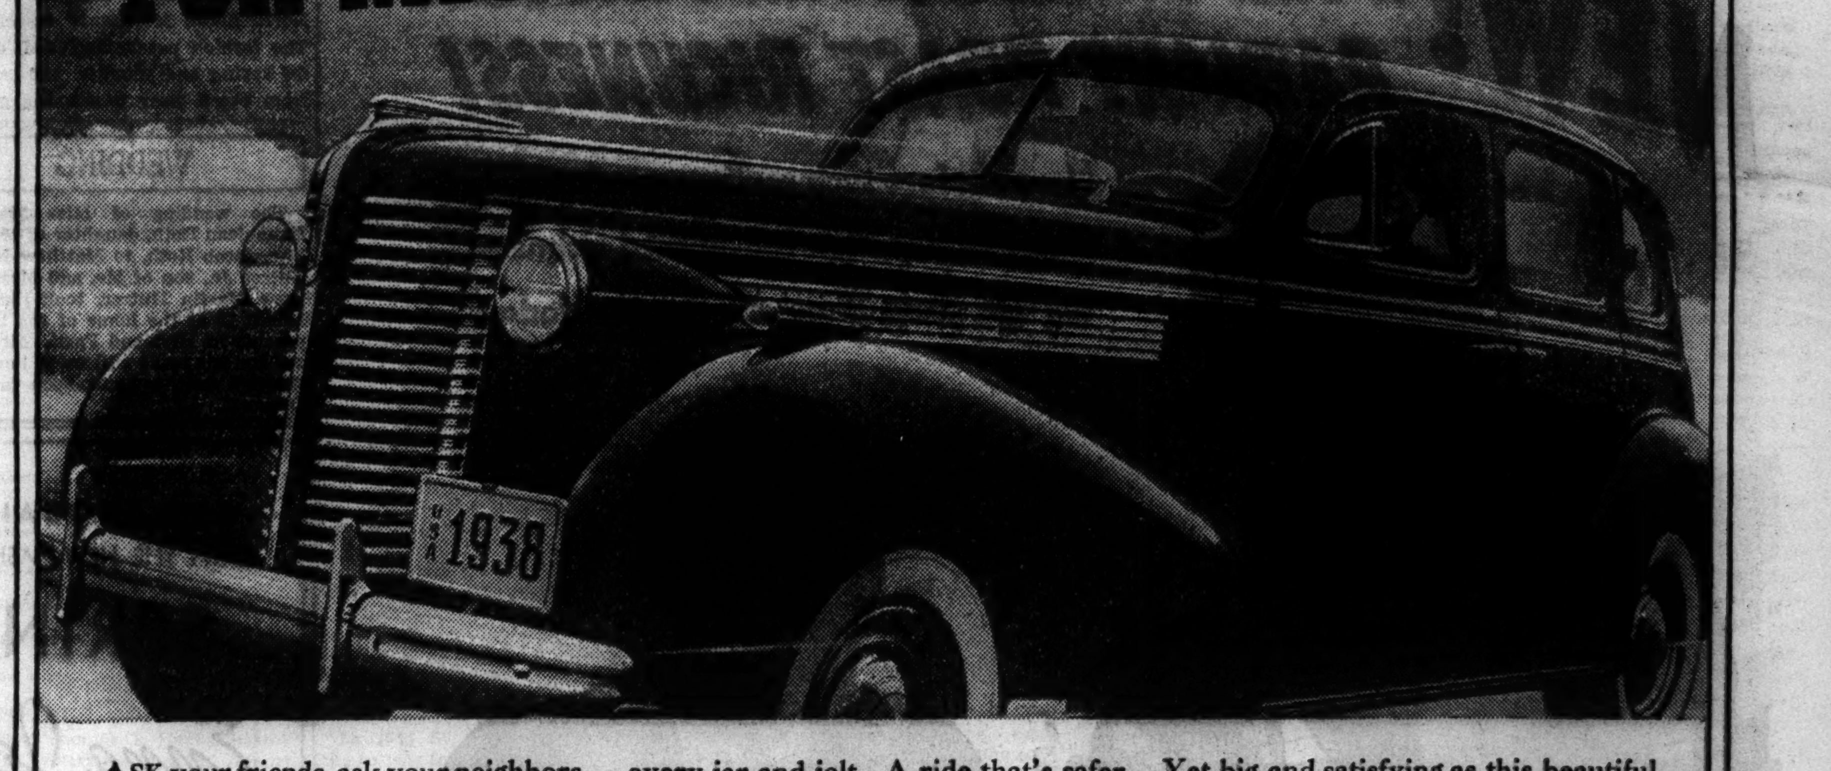
IT'S A BIG HONEY FOR MIGHTY LITTLE MONEY!



ASK your friends, ask your neighbors, what they think of this '38 Buick, and they'll give it to you quick in six little words:

For here's a traveler that would be a buy even if you had to pay a premium to get it!

It's a car with power like no other. Power literally born of the hurricane—power that makes gasoline deliver more—power that's smooth, willing, brilliant.

Here's a car, too, with an utterly different kind of ride. A ride that gentles every jar and jolt. A ride that's safer in nasty going, that gives sureness to control, that cuts down upkeep and makes rear tires last longer.

New quiet, from "silent zone" body mounting. New comfort, from deep, broad comfort-angled seats. New pride of possession, from style hailed as the smartest of the year.

Yet big and satisfying as this beautiful Buick is, a little money buys it! No more than you'll pay for some sixes. Less than for any other eight of its size.

So there's no longer any reason for not stepping up to the kind of car you've always wanted.

Go now and get the details from the nearest Buick dealer—see the car that folks just won't do without.

Whether Fake or Genuine, Jewelry Dear to Most Divas

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"Do opera stars wear imitation or real jewelry?" That was the question an interviewer asked Dusolina Giannini of the Metropolitan Opera association.

She smiled as she walked into her dressing room and brought out her case of jewels and let them cascade on the table in front of us. "They do both. Some of the stars like diamonds and pearls. Others are afraid to wear jewelry of great value, but I have collected my own from the antique shops of both America and Europe, and each piece is selected for a special performance.

"This chain with the black onyx and pearl locket I always wear when I sing Donna Anna in 'Don Giovanni.' Don't you think that it is just what Mozart's Donna Anna would wear? Here are corals that I found in a tiny Italian shop. This jade is a piece a friend sent me after a special performance.

"They are not jewels bought from a regular jewelry store. Each piece has its history. This string of amber, it is very light and especially deep in color, I found in a shop in Paris, not on the Rue de Rivoli, but on a small back street. Each jewel is an adventure, an adventure in search of beauty. In the same way I found a number of pairs of antique earrings. I love them and they seem to fit my needs better than modern jewelry. One cannot generalize, but this is my hobby, if you would call it so. And one can find as many lovely old things in the shops of this country as in those of the old. I have several pieces which have come from the small shops in America. Most of them have been bought with the idea that they would have belonged to the heroine whom I am about to portray on the opera stage if she had been selecting them instead of myself. They are as much a part of the characterization as the costumes."

Potted Rose.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

There have been a variety of "potted" flowers, from "Potted Roses," "Tulips," "Daisies" to the small "Potted Field Flowers," but none has been more popular perennially than the design illustrated today. It is a delicately beautiful pattern, not too elaborate nor too difficult to sew. When it first was made the entire materials were of the printed variety. Now either solid colors or a combination of printed and plain materials holds the spotlight. Thirty applique blocks are set together with four inch bands of material between blocks, and finished with an eight and one-half inch border and a one-half inch bias binding.

Fears Appear After Child Is Tucked in Bed

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

As a contrast to efficiently "dumping your child in bed," snapping off the light quickly and closing the door firmly is the friendly, leisurely procedure we described yesterday. And in spite of the fact that the first way may sound efficient and time saving, it is the second way that is efficient and time saving in the long run.

There is still a point connected with a child's successful going to bed and sweet sleep that rests on the "don't hurry" basis. It has to do with fears.

Some of the inventing of excuses for getting mommy or daddy back into the room after the lights are out are associated with half formed or fully recognized fears. Many parents don't look behind these demands for causes, causes which may be just as much fearfulness as a simple "spoiling," or desire for attention. So impatience and brusqueness are their only response to what they consider their child's annoying ways.

Now, fears never were banished in this way.

We forget fears have a way of looming up in the dark hours. Familiar objects look queer, shadows spring into existence, even well known noises have a different sound in the dark to an imaginative child, or one who has had a fear arousing experience.

Your cue may be one of a number of things: leaving a low light burning, sitting beside your child in the dark for a while, or holding his hand in yours until you feel him relax.

Older children have told me of their past fears which, when they were little they never mentioned.

"How to Establish Good Sleeping Habits" is a leaflet helpful to parents. It will be sent on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Institute Opens Annual Exhibit for Chicagoans

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The forty-second annual exhibition by artists of Chicago and vicinity opens today in the east wing galleries of the Art institute to continue to April 17. It is neither a conservative show nor a modern show; there are elements of both schools within its comprehensive embrace. It is a colorful exhibit, rather tantalizing in its limitations. It is, perhaps, as remarkable for those painters who have been omitted as for those to whom the barriers have been lowered.

As yet we have no way of knowing how many "student" artists have been successful nor how many "first time" aspirants have slipped in at the dignified command of the jury. These facts may come out later and will be duly recorded.

Meanwhile, be prepared for a great deal of good sculpture and for a great many attractive and well handled paintings. This is not saying that there are no modern nor poorly painted pictures hung. There are. Still, on the whole, the exhibition should prove acceptable to a great many people. It is more alive and exciting than any Chicago artists' show we have had in several years.

The Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan Art institute medal and $500 were given to "Watertown" by Norman MacLeish, a rather unprepossessing picture at first glance [with its violent reds and blues], but more acceptable upon acquaintance, particularly for the values in the reflections of the buildings in the river that sweeps their feet.

The "Slaughter House Ruins at Aledo," by Gertrude Abercrombie, won the Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Armstrong prize of $300; "Girl with Wet Hair," by Nicola Ziroli, was rewarded with the William H. Bartels prize of $300; "Sun in a Side Street," by Francis Chapin, received the Mr. and Mrs. Jule F. Brower prize of $300; the William and Bertha Clusmann prize of $200 went to "My Grandfather," by Charlotte R. Major.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' SHIRTWAIST DRESS.

Informal charm for daytime wear always implies the classic smartness of the shirtwaist dress. For years women have admired and depended upon this tailored mode for the varied activities of a busy day, and here is a chic 1938 version of the tried-and-true style.

The neckline, which is high and round, may be left collarless or may be trimmed with a rather deep shirtwaist collar. The shoulder yoke lends breadth and the sleeves are merely continuations of the line, whether they are long or short. Around the waist may be a traditional tailored belt or a self-fabric one topped with a narrow ribbon bow to match that at the neckline. Paneling achieves a smart fit for the skirt.

Spring and summer both claim this pattern for its versatility. Wash and silk fabrics make up equally well, and both prints and plain shades are desirable.

Style No. 2070 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch material.

Promise Best Ever Flower Show for City

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO'S twelfth annual flower show, to be held from April 2 through April 10, is the most ambitious ever planned by the Garden Club of Illinois, which means that it will have to be a supershow, for the previous ones have been such splendid shows that it is hard to imagine a better one.

The Chicago show is noted all over the country, even in New York, where the Silver Jubilee International Flower show is on now in Grand Central palace.

One very good reason for the supremacy of the Chicago show is that it is given in a place, the Navy pier, where it is possible to have all the exhibits on one floor, the first, and if you ever have tried to reproduce a garden in a place where everything has to be transported via elevators or stairs you know what an advantage the Chicago amateur and professional gardeners have over their New York friends, for instance, for four floors of the Grand Central palace are used.

Show Gardens from California to Maine.

Plans for the show were discussed yesterday at a luncheon given by the women of the executive committee at the Palmer house. Gardens from Maine to California will be included in the show; when you enter you will be in a patio of California with a great blooming cactus garden on one side. If you have seen the desert in spring you know that blooming cacti are among the most beautiful sights in the world.

From the California patio you will stroll into a Colorado scene with a ranch house the dominating architectural feature. Then you will see a bit of the beauty of Williamsburg; then a romantic Louisiana garden with Spanish moss and bougainvillea in full bloom. "At least, it will be in full bloom or we won't pay for it," said Mrs. O. W. Dynes, general chairman of the show, as she told of the plans yesterday.

A Pennsylvania Dutch house and garden, a New England colonial group, and a pleasant Illinois farm house with a recessed porch so often seen in houses built in the latter part of the nineteenth century will complete the theme. Each of the seven regions of the National Council of State Garden Clubs will be represented by a garden, and seven of the nine days of the show will honor the regions. The opening day, Saturday, will be Chicago day, and the closing day, Sunday, the 10th, will be Illinois day. On each of the other seven days the region that is being honored will be represented in the musical program, the food that is served in the grill and tearooms, the flower arrangement talks, and the clothes that are modeled.

Mrs. Bert Schiller MacDonald will talk about "Flowers to Wear," and William Moore will discuss "Flowers for Decorations" in the grill and tearooms every afternoon at 3 o'clock. The fashion shows will be staged in connection with the talks. The Tuesday one is being planned by Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker of Hubbard Woods and will accent flowers in the hair. The Misses Frances Orcutt, Helen Shoemaker, and Louise Galbraith will be the models that afternoon.

Mrs. Spry, Famous Florist, to Lecture.

Although most of the conversation at the luncheon, at which Mrs. Raymond Knotts, publicity chairman, was the only other speaker, was about the flower show there was great interest in a program the Winnetka Garden club is sponsoring on Wednesday, April 6. It is to be a lecture by Mrs. Constance Spry of London, one of the best known decorative florists and horticulturists in the world.

Mrs. Spry is the author of several books on flowers and gardens; she has her own school of floristry to which the smart London post-debutante goes to part of her preparation for becoming a successful wife and hostess. Mrs. Spry also lectures at Swanley Horticultural college.

Mrs. Spry was responsible for all the flower decorations at Fort Belvedere for the prince of Wales, who later was King Edward VIII. She was summoned to France by the duke of Windsor to take charge of all the flower decorations for his wedding, and she also has had charge of the decorations for many of the most beautiful and important London weddings in recent years. She lectured in New York in January, and now is in the south. Her Winnetka engagement was arranged by Mrs. Charles Howells Coffin, vice president and program chairman of the club.

So many wanted to hear Mrs. Spry

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Take the Stand, Spencer Tracy.

Hollywood, Cal., March 16.

Q.—How old are you, Spence?

A.—I'll be 38 years old next month, Ed—April 5. However, don't get anything expensive for a birthday present because I've always said that it's the thought——

Q.—You were born in Milwaukee, Wis.?

A.—Now, you know I was born in Milwaukee. You're just slowing up this interview by asking me questions to which you know the answers.

Q.—This is for your public, Mister Tracy.

A.—My public? I'm thinking back to an afternoon in New York City, not so many years ago. I'd just married Louise and we'd been barnstorming in stock companies. When we got to New York we had only the few dollars we'd saved on the road. Things were going from bad to worse and it was getting difficult to dig up money for the rent.

Then I got a call to try out for a George M. Cohan show, "Yellow." We sat there on the stage of the Hudson theater, reading our parts, waiting for Mr. Cohan to appear. And I kept looking at the empty seats in the theater and wondering to myself how it must feel to be a great star and be able to fill a theater night after night.

Q.—Did you beileve that some day you'd be a star?

A.—No, I don't believe I ever did feel that confident. I thought maybe with breaks I'd get a good supporting part and the critics would say: "Spencer Tracy was adequate," or "Tracy gave a believable characterization."

A.—It's a screwball world, isn't it?

Q.—Where did you learn to deliver lines so easily, Spence—you know, the way you sort of throw lines away. It's very effective.

A.—Well, I'm naturally sort of a quiet person, so that was the foundation. Then I used to study George M. Cohan and I watched the way he read lines. You know how completely natural he was, and how effective were those little homely mannerisms.

Cohan taught me more about stagecraft than any one else. I wish you'd write that, Ed, because I'd like to let George M. know how grateful I am to him. The greatest thrill in my life was the day at the Hudson theater when I met him at that rehersal.

Q.—The Tracy part of your name is Irish, but Spencer isn't an ordinary Gaelic tag.

Q.—Did you know Pat O'Brien back in Milwaukee?

A.—Sure, we used to work together piling lumber in a lumberyard after school. I lived on Logan avenue; Pat lived on 29th street. We went to the West Side High together and later were pals at Marquette.

Q.—Were you the first actor in the Tracy clan?

A.—Yes, my dad was in the trucking business in Milwaukee, and later went to General Motors. My mother always said she knew I'd be a great actor. When she'd call me in the morning to get up I'd drop my shoes on the floor to make her believe I was getting up and getting dressed. That was the best performance I ever gave.

Q.—How did you actually reach the stage?

A.—After the war, in which I served a hitch at Great Lakes naval training station and Newport [without ever getting on a boat], I went to Ripon to get my degree. There I got on the debating team and on an eastern tour of Bowdoin, Colby, and other New England schools, the excitement of appearing on the stage bit me. I knew then that I wanted to be an actor.

Q.—You attended Sargent school, in New York, and then went into your first show?

A.—That's right. A Theater Guild show with Basil Sidney, "R. U. R." Fifteen dollars a week in a crowd scene. Then they gave me one line to read, and I got $40 a week. I thought then that I had the world by the tail. But two years of stock company work taught me I had a lot to learn—White Plains, N. Y., Grand Rapids, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati. It was in Cincinnati where we were playing "Buddies" that I proposed to a girl in the company, Louise Treadwell, and she married me. She comes from Newcastle, Pa.

Q.—She must have gotten a tremendous thrill the other night, Spence, in accepting the academy award.

A.—I'm glad I was in the hospital, so that she had to receive it, because she deserved it.

Q.—It was the part of Killer Mears in "The Last Mile" that established you on the stage?

A.—That did it. It was one of those parts that every actor dreams about. So was Manuel in "Captains Courageous." You've got to have great parts, Ed, to look great, don't ever forget that.

A.—I figured from the start that I wasn't a good looking guy. The lines in my forehead and face, if they were to express any character at all, had to be left alone.

Q.—What's the toughest thing about acting?

A.—Acting natural. It's hard to be yourself in front of a camera or on a stage and yet the secret of acting is to be yourself. But there's something even tougher than that.

Q.—What's that?

A.—Being interviewed. Good day, Mr. Sullivan.

Q.—Good day, "Oscar."

A.—Ah, nuts.

THE STAGE

The first musical show of the Chicago theatrical season will come to the Grand Opera house on May 1 for an engagement of three weeks. This is Cole Porter's latest work, called "You Never Know," with Clifton Webb, Lupe Velez, and Libby Holman as stars. The production is new to the footlights. It was recently given in Boston with decided sucess. After the Chicago engagement it will go to New York in the hope of a summer run. In addition to the three stars the company contains Toby Wing, Rex O'Malley, "April," and Charles Kemper. John Shubert is the producer.

Legion Auxiliary.

The ninth district American Legion auxiliary will give its third annual dinner this evening at St. Luke's Lutheran church in Park Ridge. Mrs. A. A. Pantelis, Illinois department president, will be among the guests.

Bishop Sheil to Send Four Blind Boys to Seeing Eye Institute

Four blinds youths, including a colored boy, a Catholic, a Protestant, and a Jew, will be sent to the Seeing Eye institute at Morristown, N. J., to get guide dogs and to be trained in using them. Their expenses will be paid by Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of the Catholic archdiocese.

The four have been blind since childhood. They are Gordon Walker, 15, of 6434 Evans avenue; Edward Slechta, 15, of 2443 South Springfield avenue; William Roy, 14, of 5758 South Hermitage avenue, and David Nagle, 16, of 719 North Lawndale avenue.

Bishop Sheil's plan to raise and train dogs for use by needy blind boys and girls is expected to be launched soon, with the arrival of one or two dogs from Germany. The kennels will be built on the grounds of the Holy Name Technical school at Lockport.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: Irish drama with music and dancing.

ACTING: Able. You'll love little Sally O'Neill, once of Hollywood, and be delighted with the work turned out by the supporting players. Notable among same are Sara Allgood of the Irish Players and Tom Burke, one of Erin's most noted tenors.

DIRECTION: Earnest.

SETS and SCENERY: Atmospheric.

STORY: Naïve. Two Irishmen, one a tenor, the other a landed youth—with a wicked aunt—are rivals for the hand of fair Kathleen O'Moore, a broth of a maid. Kathleen works in a dockside café in Liverpool as the story opens and is the sole support of a small brother and sister. . . . The ending may please you, though I should have liked to see the tenor win out. Ah, well, he becomes famous—which fact salved my regret.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: Irish people will enjoy "Kathleen" especially for its background. Others are sure to vote the piece "a nice little picture."

NOTE: Also on the program is a charming pastoral of the bewitching Irish countryside and the quaint towns of ould Erin.

See you soon.

Order Prayers, Ban on Parties for Irish Today

Prayer, rather than the traditional St. Patrick's day fêting, has been ordered for today for the 100,000 members of the Combined Irish Alliance of Cook County.

Pointing out the need of more religion in a world darkening with disorders, the alliance yesterday banned all fêtes planned by its affiliated clubs. Not only were members urged to attend church, but also to spend an evening hour in prayer.

"We have communism and fascism battling to destroy that Christianity that St. Patrick gave to the world," Joseph A. Kelley, member of the alliance for the last 30 years, declared at yesterday's meeting.

"In 1937 more than 40,000 lost their lives upholding their faith. The outlook for 1938 is even darker with only the Emerald Isle and our own United States standing alone for religious liberty.

"Let us make this St. Patrick's day a day of prayer, as our fathers did before us. Let us all go to church, avoid celebrations, and pray for our beloved country wherein all men are still free."

For the lapels of the members, as they wend their way to church, 100,000 shamrocks have been sent to Chicago by the Sisters of Mercy at historic Kerry and Mayo convents.

Other groups, however, will continue with their annual meetings. Daniel McGrath, consul of the Irish Free State, will speak at one of the outstanding events, the annual dinner of the Irish Fellowship club of Chicago at the Palmer house.

Clarence E. Manion, professor of constitutional law at the University of Notre Dame, and Jerome Kerwin, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, also will speak.

The Irish National club of Chicago will sponsor a dance, motion picture and vaudeville show at the Viking Palace hall, 69th street and Emerald avenue. The Illinois Club for Catholic Women will celebrate at 8 o'clock this evening at the Hotel Knickerbocker. The Notre Dame Alumni club will hold a St. Patrick's luncheon at the Morrison hotel.

The Chicago Police post of the American Legion, which with 1,500 members is the largest post in Illinois, will hold a St. Patrick's dance at the Hotel Sherman. The Sons and Daughters of Eire will hold a dance and Irish beauty contest at the Merry Garden ballroom.

The Daughters of Isabella will give a corned beed and cabbage dinner for 800 Catholic patients at Oak Forest infirmary.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Rev. Thomas J. Hayes, pastor of Old St. Patrick's church, Adams and Des Plaines streets, Chicago's Irish shrine, furnished the following information about churches of the world dedicated to St. Patrick:

"There are now in Ireland 166 churches dedicated to St. Patrick, including the only basilica of St. Patrick in the world, located in the diocese of Clogher. In Great Britain there are 73 churches of St. Patrick—practically every great city has a church named for the national apostle of Ireland."

A basilica is a title bestowed on a privileged church by the pope because of its antiquity or historical associations. Old St. John's church, 100 West 18th street, is Chicago's only church with that title although not held in perpetuity.

"In the United States there are 461 churches named in St. Patrick's honor, with five great cathedrals. The first church of St. Patrick in America was built in Baltimore—it was 42 by 30 feet in size. In 1807 a new St. Patrick's was erected, and the first parochial school opened in 1815, preceding all public schools of Baltimore.

"In 1846 St. Patrick's church in Chicago was founded by the Rev. William Quarter. The Rev. Father McLaughlin was the first pastor. He began building the present church in 1853. The church was dedicated by the Rev. Father Dunne on Christmas day, 1856."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Flower freshness of face as well as costume is a spring requisite. The gay hats, trim suits and enchanting coiffures all call for the complexion which never looks wilted, with makeup suave and lasting.

There is a great vogue, as you may have noticed, for flower freshness. Coiffures are sentimental, girlish; hats are flower bedecked. Colors are soft, makeups emphasize fair, fresh skin and beautiful, youthful eyes.

It's not easy for the busy woman to look fresh unless she knows all the tricks of makeup and of skin care. That "wilted" look pursues all of us and we've got to do something about it.

One of our own pet theories about banishing that strange makeup disintegration which isn't griminess nor bad grooming, but just general wear and tear, concerns the use of skin tonics. They're wonderful fresheners and really do serve a double purpose.

The right tonic [one that suits your own type of skin] used after cleansing insures your doing a more finished cleansing job. It removes every undiscernible trace of cream which would otherwise break down your nice makeup within an hour of application. And if you use it correctly it plays its part in keeping the skin stimulated.

The sensitive, dry skin requires a mild tonic. You might have to dilute even the mildest of them if you're in the thin skinned class. If your skin is healthy, inclined to coarseness, or prone to oiliness you use something stronger. The big thing is to use one and to use it faithfully—especially if too much oil is one of your beauty problems.

One of our favorite mild tonics is called a violet astringent. It won't sting our thin skin, but it does pep it up. And it has a lovely violet scent. We even get an esthetic satisfaction with this—it's a pretty green, which is our favorite color today as well as every other day of the year.

This is a constant delight, cool and efficient. For oily skins its maker has a stronger one, just as good in its own fashion. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Tones of Gray Are Smart for Spring Season

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Everything shines with a decided spring snap. The new clothes feature clear, lovely colors, stunning combinations of three and four colors and shades, and each new showing seems more desirable than the last.

One of the most subtle spring shades taking the money is gray. Effective gray wool bolero outfits [dress and brief bolero jacket] are as youthful and snappy as a bellhop's uniform. One gaucho ensemble features an adroit front fullness in a dark gray crêpe skirt, a pearl gray long sleeved shirtwaist blouse, and a wrap around sash belt of lemon yellow.

Gray redingotes are as smart as beige affairs. The coats of soft nubby wool, the dress in heavy silk, either plain or printed. Redingotes, nipped in at the waistline, achieve a long simple streamline. Most of them are collarless and the sleeves are also simple. These costumes are tied in front with bands of the wool material.

Beautiful gray dinner costumes are plentiful. The front fullness is achieved with long panels of darker or lighter gray material. And the inevitable jacket that can be detached is usually a much darker shade.

Dance dresses in gray have yards and yards and yards of material in the full billowing skirt. Chiffon, net, and all sheer materials are first favorites. Lace and combines of lace and chiffon or net come in second place.

The smartest spectator sports dresses come in tones of gray. Stunning coat dresses in wool, tailored impeccably, come in light or dark gray. Clever two piece suits feature this most subtle shade—the best spring to try gray!

Sons of the Saddle

SYNOPSIS.

Karen Gilbert meets Gordon Stone returning after eight years in prison. Gordon was framed by Karen's ruthless uncle and guardian, Lyn Gilbert, owner of Bar B B ranch, and his foreman, Curt Ford. In town Gordon has an encounter with Curt Ford and knocks him out. Then Gordon goes to join Jack Turnbull, who is in hiding after trouble with Gilbert. Karen gets her friend, Hal Ferguson, to drive her in the night to the hideout to warn Gordon. On the way they meet a posse headed by Cheyenne, a Bar B B rider, sent to capture the two men. Karen arrives first to warn Gordon. He sends them up the canyon while he stays to stand off the posse.

INSTALMENT X.

WARFARE.

Hal turned into the canyon. He could hear the hoofs of the two horses in front of him striking the rocks on the trail. The grade was stiff and rough.

Presently a blur seemed to come out of the darkness to meet him. It resolved itself into Karen and her horse. She had stopped and turned in the saddle, waiting for him.

"That you, Hal?" she cried softly, and a moment later flung at him the question urgent in her mind. "What does he mean to do?"

"But he can't. They are seven or eight to one. He must be crazy."

"Maybe he'll slip away before they locate him."

As if in derision of Hal's suggestion there came the sound of a shot, and almost before the echoes had died away the drumming of several guns in action.

Karen's heart hammered like that of a bird imprisoned in the hand. "They have him trapped. He'll be shot. What can we do?"

Turnbull's voice came to them, a moment before he could be made out in the darkness.

"What's the matter? Why don't you keep coming?" he asked.

Anxiety trembled in Karen's answering words. "You must have heard the shooting. They're . . . killing him.'"

"He's down in the rocks where they can't see him. I reckon he's okay, but I'll drift down and have a look—see. Take my bronc, Ferguson. Keep going till you reach the mesa above. There's a clump of live oaks to the left. Pass through them. You'll come to a cattle trail that runs due west. In about a half mile it will dip down into an arroyo. Wait for us there."

"Make him get away from those rocks and come up the canyon," the girl urged. "If he doesn't he'll be murdered."

"Sure," agreed Turnbull cheerfully. "We'll beat it right up here."

All her life Karen had known stories of range warfare. Living as she did in the heart of a cattle country, she knew that the cow business always had been accompanied by lawlessness. Whispers of her uncle's evil deeds had come to her, but never before had Karen been brought into actual contact with the execution of them. The shock of it appalled her.

"We can't go away and let them be killed," she protested.

"Stone and Turnbull are running this show," Hal answered. "We've been given our orders. There's nothing I could do anyhow, since I'm not armed. We'll get going, Karen."

Jack Turnbull found the footing in the steep canyon treacherous. His high heeled boots had not been built for rapid descent among rubble and rocks. But he was in a hurry, for he was more anxious about Gordon Stone than he had admitted to Karen. Three or four times a shot boomed out in the silence and came reverberating up the gulch. So far as this was news at all it was good news. His enemies had not yet made an end of the man they were attacking.

A strong draft of wind told Jack that he was near the mouth of the canyon. He took shelter behind a bowlder and called softly to his friend. No answer reached him. That might be because Stone had not heard, or it might be because he dared not risk letting the Bar B B men know his whereabouts. Cautiously Turnbull slipped forward.

He was startled by the roar of a gun fired within 50 feet of him. After a few moments he called a second time. No reply in words came to him, but a scatter of pebbles fell close to him. Stone was warning him not to advertise their location.

On hands and knees the cowboy crept toward his friend. In a sibilant whisper he announced himself, just as he was edging around a bowlder. His heart jumped. He had come face to face with another crawling man.

"You're not hurt?" Jack said quickly.

"I'm not. One of them yelped like he might be a while ago. Where did you leave Miss Gilbert and Ferguson?"

"Half way up the canyon. We're to meet them back of the live oaks. She sent me down to bring you out of this."

"Kind of her. But she's right at that. Time we were getting scarce. They're moving nearer. About ready to rush the fort, I'd guess."

A voice lifted across the darkness to them. "Fellows, we're deputy sherifs. One of us you've shot. That's hell enough for one night. We aim to dig you out of there. Better surrender while there's time."

The muscular fingers of Stone pressed into the flesh of his companion's forearm. It was a silent suggestion not to betray their place of concealment. The warning was not necessary, for Turnbull was of the same opinion as his friend, that if they were captured neither of them would reach town alive. They would be killed, officially, while resisting arrest.

The allowed time passed. Those hidden in the rocks could hear men arguing. Some of them apparently had no wish to charge the position. After all they were only hired hands. Forty dollars a month, plus food and a bunkhouse, did not cover jobs as dangerous as this. It was one thing to dry-gulch a victim for a good cash bonus, but quite another to push to a finish a fight against desperate men protected by cover.

"We'll dig deeper into the rocks," Stone said.

Crouching low, they moved back among the larger bowlders.

Out of the murmur of voices one broke angrily. Jack recognized it as that of Cheyenne. "By God, I'll get 'em if I go alone." Shortly after that the talk died down.

"They're on their way—some of 'em," Stone whispered. "Keep an eye over there to the left. I'll watch here. Don't shoot unless you are driven to it. They may make a bluff and quit without finding us."

They waited, for what seemed a long time. Out of the night, from below, bullets whistled past them two or three times. The trapped men guessed that these shots were fired to cover the stealthy approach of a storming party.

Somebody stumbled, fell, his weapon clattering against rocks as he went down. Instantly the darkness was alive with the sound of moving men. A blur of them took vague shape, then broke into units that scattered among the bowlders. To Stone came a dribble of slipping rubble, faint and indefinite, made by feet moving with utmost caution. The report of the stalker's advance was intermittent. There were long moments of silence, then again the stir of activity, closer to him than before. Stone made no least noise, but every nerve was taut, every muscle ready.

Slowly and warily a head came around the edge of the rock wall, behind which the hunted men were crouched. A pair of bright eyes mirrored for an instant consternation. A hand carrying a .45 jerked upward. But the advantage of the surprise was with Stone. The barrel of his revolver crashed down on the head, and a heavy set body lurched to the ground.

Form N. U. Date Bureau for Friends—No Romance

Northwestern university freshmen, both boys and girls, have organized a new "Coke Date Bureau." The idea is to promote friendship—with emphasis on friendship and not romance, according to campus leaders—between the boys in the fraternity houses on the north campus, and girls in the sorority houses on the south campus. The bureau will arrange for boys to meet girls and take them to a confectionery shop for a soft drink. The girls have agreed to keep such "dates" even though they may not know the boy students—all for the sake of friendship.

No Wonder
You Are Constipated!

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? Bread, meat, potatoes? No wonder you're constipated—due to lack of "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It means the kind of food that forms a soft, bulky mass in the bowels. It's this mass that helps your bowels move.

The common sense thing to do about it is to eat a natural laxative food. Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast will give you just the "bulk" you need. And it gives you, in addition, Nature's great intestinal-tonic, vitamin B_1. Eat this crunchy toasted cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

talk that it was decided to have the program in the Winnetka Woman's club, and tickets may be obtained by any one interested in the subject. Mrs. Stephen S. Gregory Jr. is in charge of tickets.

Contrary to what one might expect because of Mrs. Spry's activities, she is not smart in her dress and makes no effort to be in the mode, a London friend has written me. She wears the same style dresses and hats year after year for her only interest is flowers, their growing, and their arrangement.

She is an interesting and unusual personality all who know her say, so we predict the Winnetka Garden club will have an overflow meeting on April 6. We also predict that the English visitor will be astounded at the beauty and size of our Chicago Flower show.

Cocktail Party for Grand Duchess Marie.

An interesting party on tomorrow's program is a cocktail party Count and Countess Potocki will give at their home, 1500 Lake Shore drive, for Grand Duchess Marie [Russian], who will pass through Chicago on her way from New York to the west coast.

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison has cards out for a cocktail and tea party next Monday at 5 o'clock at the Casino for Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Crafts Watson.

A son, their first child, was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peter Jaeger of Highland Park at the Evanston hospital. The baby has been named Peter Cauthorne Jaeger. Mrs. Jaeger is the former Miss Loretta White, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Cauthorne White of Kenilworth. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Seyfarth.

Miss Coit Completes Plans for Wedding.

Miss Elizabeth Merrill Coit has made final plans for her marriage to Dr. Paul Scott Hansen on March 26. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church with only members of the immediate families present.

Following the ceremony a large reception will be held at the home of the bride's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham Chandler. Miss Celia Coit will be her sister's only attendant and Longley Richards will be best man. Since Dr. Hansen's term of internship with the Massachusetts General hospital begins on April 1, he will take his bride directly to Boston.

Dr. Hansen's sister, Mrs. Henry Pope Jr., and Mr. Pope will give a dance for Miss Coit and Dr. Hansen Saturday night in their home in Glencoe. Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Young will entertain at dinner before the dance. On Wednesday Mrs. Paul Hansen, Dr. Hansen's mother, will entertain for Miss Coit at a luncheon. That evening Miss Celia Coit will entertain at a theater party. Mr. and Mrs. Chandler will give the bridal dinner for Miss Coit and Dr. Hansen on March 25 in their home in Winnetka.

The wedding of Miss Jane de Peyster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Augustus de Peyster of Winnetka, to John M. Van Beuren of New York, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Van Beuren of Morristown, N. J., will take place Saturday at 12:30 o'clock.

Clifton M. Utley will give the second in a series of three lectures on "World Affairs" at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the Woman's Athletic club.

The Alliance Française will give a musical and tea at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Shirley Trepel, cellist; Freda Trepel, pianist, and Willa Dryden will give the program. Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine will be hostess at the tea and Mrs. Charles Garfield King and Mrs. James Ward Thorne will pour.

Last Performance of Showboat Drama.

Mrs. William Scott Bond will entertain 40 guests tonight at the last performance of the Cordon Showboat's "stupendous, heart gripping, soul rendering melodramer, 'The Curse of an Aching Heart.'"

Among those who will be Mrs. Bond's guests are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Steere, Mr. and Mrs. Walker McLauren, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, Mrs. E. Fred Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Herschl, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Day Smith, Mrs. Wallace Heckman, Mrs. Oliver Dennett Grover, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dern.

The Chicago Drama league will present Howard Wicks, production manager of the Goodman theater and formerly technical director of the Theater Guild of New York, in a lecture at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning at the Arts club. Mr. Wicks will talk on "Broadway Backstage."

Actors now appearing in Chicago have been invited.

The Hinsdale Horse Show association will hold its 1938 show June 18 and 19. Walter P. Saunders is president of the association.

The Chicago committee of Arden Shore has selected Oct. 8 for its annual benefit ball. The type of party is a surprise. Miss Julianna Holmes is chairman of the committee.

Illinois State Society of Washington Meets

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—The Illinois State society had its meeting tonight at the Willard hotel. Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, only daughter of the late Senator and Mrs. John A. Logan of Illinois, was the speaker of the evening. She gave a travelog on Japan of earlier days.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I hate bridge experts! Every time I start building up my mental attitude to the point where I believe my game is improving something happens to put me back in the bridge doldrums for a few months and makes me regret that I ever learned the game.

"We are a bridge playing community and all are roughly on a par. My husband, a college professor, has his weekly game with other learned savants from his institution and we wives have several afternoon games. The other night it was my misfortune to entertain a so-called expert and shortly after dinner a bridge game was started. I sat myself behind this oracle and after a few unexciting and unenlightening hands my guest [partnered with my husband] had a 60 partial, both sides vulnerable. The following hand was dealt:

Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠Q 7 5
♥K Q 4 3
♦10 7 2
♣A 10 5

WEST
♠K J 4 3
♥J 9

SOUTH

"I was kibitzing [I believe that is the correct term] the expert, who happened to be sitting South. He opened the bidding with one heart and after West passed my husband bid a meek and unpromising two hearts. East passed and, without a moment's hesitation, Mr. Expert jumped to six hearts. Was I astounded! Of course, as you can see at a glance, there is no play to the hand. It is a laydown against any opening.

"I couldn't restrain myself when the hand was over and asked him if that was the proper bid. He patronizingly replied that although there was one chance in ten of it going wrong, nevertheless, six hearts was the correct bid.

"Now, Mr. Culbertson, considering the 60 part-score, wouldn't it have been proper on my husband's part to raise to two hearts with something like the heart J x x and the club K-Q, or any number of such weak holdings in order to go game? Was six hearts such a sure bid that only one out of ten possible raises to two hearts would not have given South a play for six-odd?

"I am now going to ask you an embarrassing question. Would you have bid six hearts under the same conditions? Wonderingly yours,

It would take me many weary hours to count all the possible hands that North might have, justifying a single raise, which would not produce a good play for a slam. I cannot accept the "expert's" estimate that only one such hand out of ten would offer no chance for the slam.

Answering the question of whether or not I would have bid six hearts under the same conditions I most emphatically would not have jumped from two to six, although, of course, I would have made a strong slam try. After the two heart response a mere three diamond bid on South's part would have been an obvious slam try, and if South wanted to make a stronger try he could have jumped to four diamonds, either as an asking bid, if the partnership was using this convention, or as a regulation suit showing bid. North, holding such an excellent single raise, would respond to either of these bids [three or four diamonds] with a slam try of his own which could consist of a jump in the heart suit, or a club bid that obviously would be a cue bid showing the ace. In any event South would discover that North's first raise, far from being shaded, had been ultra-conservative and, with that knowledge, South could proceed to his slam with a great deal more assurance.

I strongly feel that the "expert" deliberately chose his wild leap as a spectacular performance for his audience!

The Housewife

If you are vitamin-conscious and enjoy both fruit and vegetable juices you should invest in a grand big juice extractor or presser that we saw the other day. It's guaranteed to extract the last drop of goodness from celery, beets, apples, parsley, and tomatoes as well as the more ordinary juice providers, lemons, oranges, and grapefruit.

You simply pop in the vegetables and turn the handle and out comes the juice. There is only one moving part, so this machine is easy to keep clean.

Two Dictators Upset World Radio Schedule

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Hitler and Mussolini have been upsetting not only all Europe but American broadcasting schedules the last few days. Hitler's speech in Vienna Tuesday noon forced Chicago engineers and announcers to get up [or stay up] long before the cock's first crow. Proceedings started at 4 a. m., Chicago time, so it is doubtful whether many listeners hereabouts heard him on this occasion.

Mussolini's timing was better so far as American listeners are concerned. He went on the air about 5 p. m., Rome time, 10 a. m., Chicago time. That's an hour when housewives are listening to their favorite daytime programs, so while there was no advance notice of his appearance, he must have had a substantial audience.

◆

Broadcasters themselves received such scant advance information of Mussolini's appearance that they did not know how long the transmission from Rome would run. Thus in W-G-N-Mutual studios production directors went right on with rehersals for scheduled shows, Bachelor's Children and Painted Dreams.

First W-G-N show canceled was Don Pedro from 10 to 10:15 a. m. [He was presented at a later hour.] As Mussolini went on into the next 15 minute period, Bachelor's Children missed their inning, and at 10:30 Painted Dreams had to be canceled. At NBC, Mary Marlin, Pepper Young's Family, and Vic and Sade all missed their regular instalments, and at CBS the Magazine of the Air and the Heart of Julia Blake yielded to Sig. Mussolini.

As Mussolini overtook the programs on which they were scheduled many actors dropped into control rooms where Mussolini's talk could be heard. American listeners never fail to comment on the long pauses which all European speakers permit themselves. Fifteen and 20 seconds elapse occasionally without a sound coming through. One wonders whether the transmission has been interrupted because of mechanical trouble.

CBS availed itself of these long pauses in Mussolini's talk to make brief explanations and summarize his expressions in English. For all listeners who do not understand Italian this proved a great aid. Mutual and NBC gave résumés in English at the conclusion.

To a non-Italian Mussolini's speech seems incisive and clipped, at times explosive. You have the feeling that his phrases are terse and to the point. There appears to be little of those oratorical flights or the emotional slosh that characterizes Hitler. Hitler, addressing the reichstag a fortnight ago, required two hours and forty minutes to unburden himself. Mussolini polished off in twenty-five minutes—with plenty of time for catching his breath during this interval.

Il Duce, incidentally, transmitted some of the finest throat clearing we have heard since the late King George addressed his empire. Mussolini must have a [bull] frog in his throat.

Oatmeal, cornflakes, and so many kinds of shredded, puffed, flaked, ground, rolled, and crumbled cereals are made that it would take about 365 breakfasts to accomplish a fair sampling.

Some of us are too much in a hurry in the morning to "bother" with cereals. We swallow our fruit juice, chew down a piece of buttered toast, and scald our tongues with coffee or cocoa. Then we're off in a rush for the office or for school. That midmorning empty feeling probably serves us right for not getting out of bed early enough to eat a bowlful of hot or cold cereal with cream.

The cereal habit is a good one to cultivate. There are enough corn, wheat, rye, rice, bran, and other cereals available to please every one, and to make possible frequent variations in the type chosen. I believe that every household should keep in stock at least one prepared cereal and one cereal to be cooked and served hot.

One of the newest and best tasting cereals I know about is a "rippled" wheat product which may be served not only with sugar and cream for breakfast but may be made into "cinnamon toast" as well. Not only that, but these rather flat, crisp pieces may be toasted and used for canape bases, or for the foundation of a Welsh rabbit or creamed dish. It was served to me first as a midafternoon snack with coffee. The biscuits—I suppose you'd call them that—were heated with butter, sugar, and cinnamon over the top, and were good indeed.

Another new cereal product is a puffed corn which has been lightly coated with cheese. This also may serve not only as a breakfast food but as a between-meal lunch or cocktail party appeteaser.

If you don't know the names of these two products, and would like to try them, I shall be glad to give that information by telephone or by mail. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your letter.

Almost all of our common cereals have uses in cooking as well as for breakfast fare. Many of the manufacturers of cereal products publish leaflets containing excellent recipes which make use of that particular type of cereal. Hotbreads, cookies, and desserts usually are most appealing among these recipes.

Bran Date Bars.

[Two Dozen.]

3 eggs
1½ cups brown sugar
⅔ cup flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup bran
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup chopped dates

Beat the eggs until light and add sugar. Beat well. Add sifted flour and baking powder, then bran, nuts, and dates. Stir until combined and spread in a half inch layer in a greased shallow pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes. Cut into squares while warm. Roll in confectioners' sugar and serve as a pudding with whipped cream.

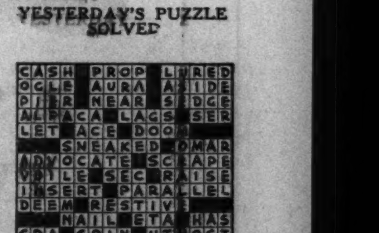
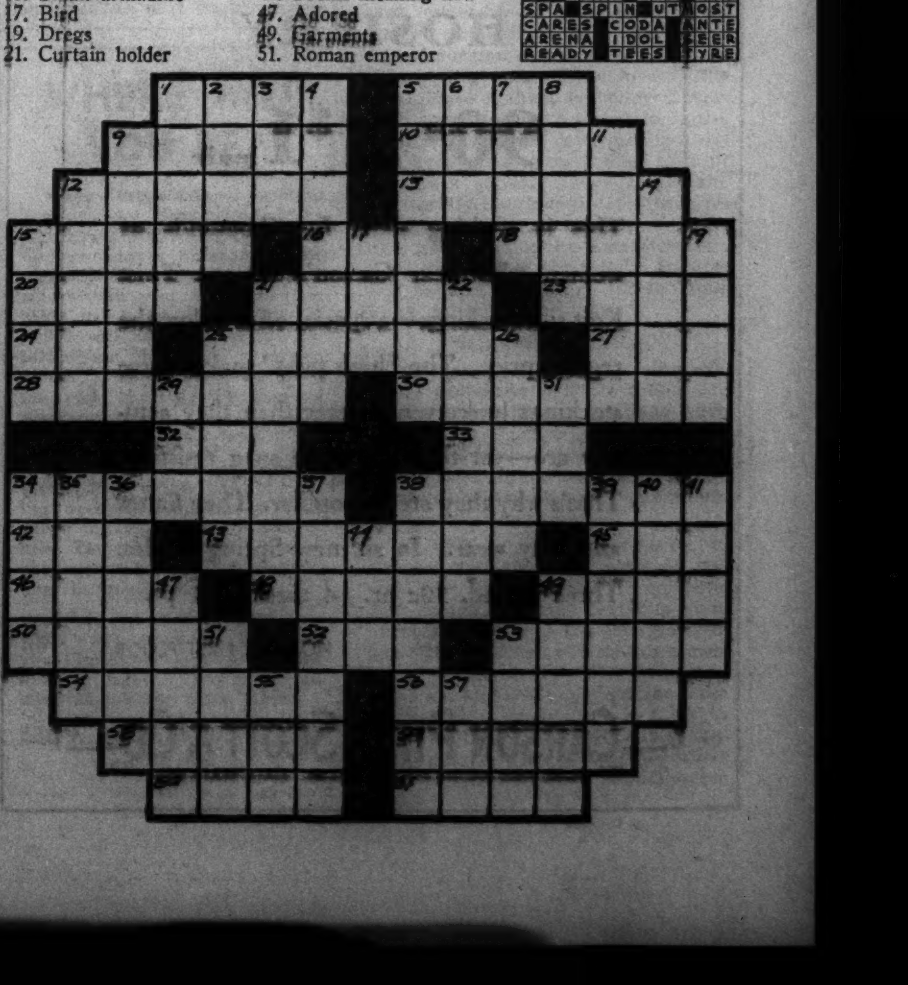
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





CANDIDATES ASK PLACE FOR STATE ON COAL BOARD

Senate Aspirants Agree Illinois Is Slighted.

Each of the three leading candidates for United States senator declared yesterday that Illinois which, although one of the leading states in coal production, has been ignored by the Roosevelt administration on the national bituminous coal commission, should have representation on that important, price-fixing body.

Two of the candidates, Congressman Scott W. Lucas, Democrat, and State Representative Richard J. Lyons, Republican, were especially vehement. Lucas said that the fact that Iowa, Kentucky, Indiana and other states surrounding Illinois had representation and Illinois didn't, was a miscarriage of justice to the coal miners.

Lyons called the failure criminal. The third candidate, United States Attorney Michael L. Igoe, Democrat, said that Illinois should be represented because of its position as the third largest coal producer in the nation, subordinate only to Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Congressman Lucas, who spoke in Bloomington last night, promised that as soon as the April primaries are over, he will return to Washington, either as congressman or as the Democratic senatorial nominee, and would exert all his power to convince the administration that Illinois should have a commission member immediately.

"I have been telling my campaign audiences that I will do this," Lucas said. "The Illinois miners are suffering millions of dollars of losses because we haven't a member. Illinois is more entitled to representation than five of those states already represented. Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, and Kentucky have members, which means that Illinois is unfairly surrounded.

"Just the other day down in southern Illinois, I learned that one of the veteran Williamson county producers had lost one of his oldest markets in St. Louis because a Kentucky producer could ship his coal to St. Louis and undersell the Illinois man by 39 cents a ton.

Lyons Blames Administration.

"Gov. Horner has called attention to this injustice time and again. I stand, and have stood, shoulder to shoulder with the governor in this fight."

Representative Lyons, whose Republican tour party also spoke last night in Bloomington, said that the failure of the Democratic administration to recognize Illinois on the coal commission was typical of its scorn for the state on all important commissions.

"The fact that we have been ignored has put the Illinois coal fields in rather a desperate condition," Lyons said. "The Illinois miners have been sold down the river. Miners in other states have been given preferences in rail rates and coal prices, which has worked to the detriment of Illinois workers.

Demands Representation.

"Not only is Illinois a great producer it is also a leading coal user. Thus the unfair attitude of the administration affects not only the miners but also the industrial workers. We need that membership badly and when I go to the senate I shall demand we be given one immediately."

Senator James Hamilton Lewis has been urging the appointment of an Illinois man in Washington but without success. On Monday he said he thought one reason why the state has been overlooked was the presence of two mine union factions in the Illinois fields. The Progressive Miners of America is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the United Mine Workers with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

MOTOR CLUB OFFICIAL PROTESTS USE OF GAS TAXES FOR PARKWAYS

James E. Bulger, a director of the Chicago Motor club, protested yesterday against the expenditure of gasoline tax money for real estate development through construction of parkways. He contended that gasoline tax revenue should be spent on those projects delivering a maximum of safety and convenience for motor trafic, such as elevated highways.

Bulger spoke at a luncheon in the Illinois Athletic club of a subcommittee of a citizens' advisory group on superhighway construction.

The subcommittee, including representatives of civic organizations from all parts of the city, reiterated a declaration urging the state, the county, the city and the park board to unite in a program to build superhighways from the loop to all sections of Chicago.

Leader—Letourner.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

George Shipman of Brooklyn was knocked unconscious in a spill shortly after 11 o'clock in the international six day bike race in the Chicago Stadium last night.

Shipman collided with Carl Goebels, a recent importation from Germany, and pitched head foremost onto the track when his front wheel collapsed. He was carried to his bunk and later removed to the first aid room. Goebels was able to walk to his bunk and was prepared to ride a few minutes later. Shipman suffered a severely bruised shoulder, a deep cut under the eye, and body bruises.

Immediately after he returned to the race Alfred Letourner, the madcap Frenchman, started a jam in which he and his partner, Omer Debruycker, stole three laps in 15 minutes and broke the three way tie for the lead.

Pedens, Reboli Team Tie.

Letourner and Debruycker carried Torchy and Doug Peden with them and when Angelo De Bacco took his fifth spill of the week, ending the jam, the French-Belgian Red Devils were out in front by a lap and the Pedens were in a tie for second with Gerard Debaets and Tino Reboli, who had picked up one lap.

Jerry Rodman of Chicago and Bobby Thomas of Kenosha, who had been tied with the Letourner-Debruycker and Debaets-Reboli combinations since Tuesday night, were in third place two laps behind.

Cocky O'Brien and Russell Allen, the coast Irishmen, were in third place, four laps in arrears, a position which they expect to improve today in celebration of St. Patrick's day.

Lands-De Bacco Sixth.

Dave Lands, the oldest rider in the point of years and service, and his partner, De Bacco, the youngest rider in the race, had moved into a tie for sixth place with Gusta Zims and Victor Rausch, the Germans. They were six laps behind and a lap ahead of the Spanish youngsters, Remigio Saavedra and Bobby Echevaria, who were finding the pace too fast after remaining with the leaders for the first two days.

Peden followers have been somewhat disappointed. They had expected the husky brothers to ride out in front and stay there. When they entered a tie for the lead on Tuesday night it appeared as if they had arrived. But the cheering subsided abruptly when first the Spaniards, then the Belgians-French Red Devils, the veterans, Debaets and Reboli, and Rodman and Thomas forged ahead.

Torchy Explains It.

Torchy, the spokesman for the combination, a scholarly gent with a penchant for the scientific, sought to explain the team's showing last night. A number of years ago, he said, he noticed that Charlie Ritter and other riders who spent the winter in Florida returned lazy and minus some of the customary pedaling power.

Doug and he spent the winter in southern California and now find themselves experiencing the same spasms of lethargy that ruined the Florida winter residents. Their showing is not due to a lack of trying. They have ridden harder this race than any since they teamed up two years ago. But, other than pile up sprint points, it has availed them little.

Torchy Wins Hats.

New spring creations offered by various loop hatters have been the principal sprint prizes during the race and Torchy has won a half dozen. He is the only rider in the race who habitually goes without a hat under all circumstances.

Results 2 a. m. sprints:

1—Saavedra, Thomas, Zims, Lands.
2—D. Peden, DeBacco, Echevaria, Rausch.
3—Thomas, Lands, Saavedra, Shipman.
4—Rodman, O'Brien, DeBacco, Echevaria.

A Load of Trouble for New York's Champions

GOLDEN GLOVES

Chicago Golden Gloves Team Opens New York Drills Today

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Toledo, O., March 16.—One champion with a broken nose is in the group of assorted Chicago Golden Gloves heroes which paused here briefly early tonight en route to New York for the annual intercity bouts with the champions from the east in Madison Square Garden next Monday night.

The unfortunate one is Middleweight Cornelius Young of the Chicago C. Y. O. He incurred the injury in a boxing drill in the Illinois Athletic club training camp of the Chicago team on Tuesday. However, it was not definitly determined that the nose was broken until final physical examinations were made just before the Chicago team entrained at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Add Beckwith to Squad.

The injury eliminates Young from the intercity competition. It caused Coach Johnny Behr of the Chicago team to add Booker Beckwith of Gary to the squad. Behr still is undecided as to whether he will move George Mitchell of Kokomo or Joe Benna of Michigan City into the champion's place in the battle against New York.

Otherwise the Chicago squad, which was given a rousing sendoff at the La Salle street station, is one big happy family.

Young Gets Trip, Anyway.

There are thirty-one boxers in the party, including the disabled Young, who was brought along so that he at least could get a look at the New York fellow he might have whipped.

Members of the Chicago squad were much relieved when their special train started. They had been routed out of their beds early yesterday morning for the hardest day's work yet prescribed by Coach Behr and his assistants, Paddy Kane and Fred Caserio.

There was road work during the early hours of the morning and a long boxing session which started at 10 o'clock. Every member of the squad except Young was sent three rounds of three minutes each.

Uncle Jim Tells Stories.

Small wonder then that a few of the boys are nodding a bit right now as they listen to the bedtime stories told them by Jim Blake, the noted New York Central pathfinder, who is conducting the Chicago party into New York.

When they step off their train in the Grand Central station at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, twenty-six members of the Chicago squad will see New York for the first time.

The five globe trotters are Eddie Dempsey, the Davenport lightweight, who visited relatives there once; Frank Duket, Green Bay 175 pounder, who was born there but moved away when he was 3 years old; Al Noto, who put in a busy two days there last year; Joe Benna, who once changed trains there while en route from Boston to Michigan City, and Chief Francis Shoulderblade, the big Indian warrior from Oklahoma City, who really should be wearing a service stripe. He spent a whole week there back in 1923 seeing the sights.

Train in Stillman's Gym.

The Chicago Golden Gloves party will stop in the Hotel New Yorker and train in Stillman's gymnasium for the remainder of the week.

There may be a skirmish about these training arrangements, however. Word reached the Chicagoans today that the New York squad had moved into Stillman's to do its training. It selected the hour originally picked by Chicago's coaches.

SKI RACE CALLED OFF WHEN NAZIS ARREST FOUNDER

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, March 16.—Arnold Lunn, president of the Kandahar Ski club, telephoning from St. Anton, Austria, said tonight that the Arlberg-Kandahar ski races scheduled there for Saturday and Sunday had been canceled today because of the Nazi arrest of Hannes Schneider, Arlberg club president, on unstated charges.

Mrs. Dudley Wolfe, manager of the American girl skiers who had gone to St. Anton for this race, telephoned that they and the American men skiers had joined in the refusal to run and the girls will sail on the Normandie on March 23 to enter the American national races.

Lunn said that the British and American club members had decided today that "it would be indecent to hold the race," the world classic, as long as its founder, Herr Schneider, was imprisoned on unformulated charges. He explained that the Arlberg club, which the local Nazis have taken over, agreed to postpone the race until next year, but they then phoned their authorities in Vienna and were told that they must hold the race as scheduled.

The French and Swiss have joined the British and American stand, so if the Nazis hold the race it will be a purely Nazi affair.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena. Cal., March 16.—The White Sox are ready to beat the Cubs, as usual. Maybe they won't take the opener of the sixteen game spring city series Friday and they might even drop the second game next Tuesday. Without bragging in the least, however, the lads have progressed in their training to the point where they are confident they will win more games from the Cubs than they lose ere the 1938 season opens on April 19.

White Sox victories over the Cubs through the years have been so frequent they are commonplace, but it may not be amiss to go back a year in discussing the triumph routine. Last spring the Sox and Cubs played eleven games and the Sox took the series in the tenth inning of the eleventh game, with Monty Stratton the winner.

It's the Same in the Fall.

Last fall with cash on the line, the Cubs again were able to survive till the windup game, which was the seventh, when big John Whitehead mowed down the north siders, 6 to 1, pitching a shutout after the first inning.

The Cubs were greatly encouraged in 1937 by being able to force the Sox to the final games in both the spring and fall series. Some hold that it was a mistake on the part of the Sox to dillydally at times and make the two series so close. The Cubs sometimes play well when they are confident and they seethe with confidence whenever they discuss how close they came to taking both series last year.

Close Doesn't Count.

They scarcely can be restrained when they recall that two runs in the tenth inning of the eleventh game of the spring series would have given them the set and they smile when they think what the fall outcome would have been had they made six more runs than the one they scored in the final against Whitehead.

Manager Dykes still sticks to George Gick as his opening pitcher for Friday. A week ago he said it would be Gick and it still is Gick. George is eager for the assignment and has been throwing good curves since last Saturday. It is figured

REGULARS BEAT YANNIGANS, 7-0, IN CUBS' CAMP

Lee-French Combination Yields Nine Hits.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 16.—The Cub Yannigans were officially crowned the spring camp goofs this afternoon. Charley Grimm's regulars did the rechristening by taking the fifth and final of the camp series, leaving the second team with nothing but defeats to show for its five formal competitions which were sprinkled in with the customary training acts. The score today was 7 to 0.

While today's show was in progress, Manager Grimm had occasion to repeat a previous statement about Bob Logan, the lefty purchased last summer from the Indianapolis club. The southpaw operated for the regulars in the last four innings and didn't yield a hit, although he walked two. In a previous effort against the Goofs he turned in four hitless innings out of a five inning tenure so it is easy to account for Grimm's enthusiasm. He wants pitchers.

Lee and French Pitch.

Bill Lee and Larry French, taking a rehersal for their scheduled appearance against the Sox at Los Angeles next Sunday paired up today in Goof uniforms but weren't exactly impressive although the weather was so torrid that there was no need for them to be backward about opening up their arms to the limit. Lee surrendered five hits but only one run in the first three innings.

The rest of the regular run getting and hitting was at French's expense, but he couldn't be blamed entirely for what happened. Six runs off him in the last two innings were partly due to some strange conduct by the infielders supposed to be working in his behalf.

The choicest tap of the battle was a hit off the bat of Joe Marty, prospective center field regular. With two on bases in the seventh the Coast league graduate hoisted one of French's pitches to the far side of the right field barrier. Frank Demaree and Phil Cavarretta also paraded in prominent batting rôles. Each came through with a single and double. Jim Collins, who is trying to win back the first base job from Cavarretta, was blanked for the second time in succession.

The regulars got to Lee for a run in the third, but the tally might have been dodged if Stainback hadn't been a bit faulty in fly chasing judgment. After Galan had opened as the recipient of three strikes, Herman slapped a liner to center. Stainback took a couple of steps in instead of going back the same distance and the result was a double which rolled off the tip of his extended glove. Cavarretta was thrown out by Lee, but Demaree pumped an untainted two bagger into left and Herman scored. The next happening was a pass to Marty but Hack grounded to York.

Break Camp Today.

In the sixth French found his mates were more or less jittery, three runs scoring. Mattick threw wild on Marty who counted on Hack's hit. Hack went home on Mesner's errant throw of Jurges' tap. Jurges ran around to the plate on O'Dea's two bagger to right.

The Cubs will wind up their camp chores tomorrow with a morning workout, leaving for Los Angeles in the afternoon. Clay Bryant, who came up with an arm kink yesterday, reported himself back in working order so has been restored as one of the two men who will pitch against the White Sox on Friday. The other will be Logan.

You say that spring will never come,
Or so it seems to you;
You sigh as each gray dawn unfolds—
No sun comes shining through.

You've told me, O, so many times
That you can't wait till spring;
You say each gloomy day but makes
Your happiness take wing.

Just listen while I tell you how
To make sweet spring appear—
For you can speed her on the way
With smiles and friendly cheer.

For spring will never come to us,
Although fair May be here,
Unless our hearts are unoppressed,
Our eyes without a tear.

So smile, my little maid, e'en though
You find it hard to do,
For spring is waiting at the door
Just for a smile from you.

SPORTS HEADS RESENT CHANGE TO LATER DATES

Athletes Would Miss School Term.

Resentment among men prominent in American amateur athletics over the International Olympic committee's action in changing the dates of the Olympic games in Tokio in 1940 yesterday led to suggestions in some quarters that the United States withdraw immediately from the games.

The action, taken in Cairo, Egypt, yesterday, which postpones the games from Aug. 25-Sept. 8 to Sept. 21-Oct. 8, was interpreted by some as a direct attack on the United States, Great Britain, and France by Germany, Italy, and Japan.

Al Masters, Stanford graduate manager, advised immediate withdrawal as the proper action for the United States.

"It will be impossible for intercollegiate athletes to compete in Tokio because they must be in school at that time," Masters said in San Francisco yesterday. "We ought to withdraw from the Olympics right now."

Others, however, counseled caution, but all lamented the change and predicted that it would weaken the United States' chances in the games. Most colleges in the United States start their school year at about the time the games would be held.

"Too Hot," Says Japan.

Japan pleaded for the change in dates because of the intensive heat which prevails there during late August and early September. This plea found support from Germany and Italy and enough of the smaller countries to override the protests of the United States, Great Britain, and France.

Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee and delegate to the Cairo conference, was urged by other officials before his departure for Cairo, to resist the proposal vigorously. Brundage, after the vote had been taken, expressed his disapproval and fear for the American team's chances.

Kenneth L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern university and a member of the executive committee of the American Olympic committee, regretted that the change may keep college men, and more especially football players off the Olympic team. Wilson pointed out that fifteen members of the last American team were college and university football players. The new dates would prevent them from playing football if they compete in the Olympics.

Priestley Objects, Too.

"It is too bad the dates have been changed," Wilson said. "Many of the country's finest athletes will be deprived of an opportunity of competing. However, I think it is too early to talk of withdrawal."

Kenneth Priestley, graduate manager at the University of California, expressed the same sentiment from San Francisco. Priestley said:

"If the University of California athlete wants to compete in Tokio he must give up at least ten weeks of the school year. That means the sacrifice of the whole term. Should the California crew qualify as America's representative, it would be up to the university to weigh the advantages of Olympic fame against six months of educational work. I don't know which way the balance would swing, but I have an idea the boys would be asked to stay in school."

Hoyt Sees Some Damage.

Judge Samuel E. Hoyt of New Haven, Conn., president of the Amateur Athletic union, said the shift in dates would damage United States' chances for victory, but might not result as seriously as predicted.

Judge Hoyt, who was guest of the Central Association of the A. A. U. at a luncheon in the Union League club yesterday at noon, agreed that dates conflicting with the opening of autumn semesters would keep some college stars from making the trip. More of them, he believed, however, would contrive to get to Japan.

"The change in dates undoubtedly will keep some of the college men off the track squad," Judge Hoyt said. "Naturally that would definitly harm our chances, since college men make up a great part of the team. However, I believe most of the college athletes will be able to arrange for the time to go to Japan."

Maj. Griffith's View.

The executive board of the National Collegiate Athletic association is expected to discuss the issue when it meets in Chicago Saturday. Maj. John L. Griffith, former president of the N. C. A. A. and now athletic commissioner of the Western conference, yesterday said:

"It will be almost impossible to finance the American team if college men are not going to compete. The switch in dates certainly complicates matters. The college athlete either will have to miss a semester of school or the Olympic games, and I am inclined to believe the most of them will be inclined to stick to their studies. Of course, it is entirely possible that by 1940 we won't have to worry about the Olympic games."

Champaign, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—Rockford, Paris, and Braidwood were among the favorites tonight as 16 sectional champions prepared to play the first round tomorrow in the annual state high school basketball tournament at the University of Illinois.

All the 7,000 tickets available for the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night sessions are gone. Manager C. E. Bowen cautioned fans from coming to the night sessions unless they possess tickets. For the day sessions 3,000 general admission tickets will be available.

Champaign Plays Johnston City.

Champaign and Johnston City will meet in the first game tomorrow morning. Von Steuben, Chicago champion, will play Granite City in the second morning game.

Coach Ralph Fletcher's Glenbard players draw Braidwood for an afternoon game. Braidwood, with an enrollment of 98 students, has compiled an impressive record, winning district, regional, and sectional tournaments and also defeating Rockford.

Decatur, runnerup to Joliet last year and champion in 1936, will be seeking its third championship along with Rockford. No school ever has won the meet three times. In contrast, it will be the first trip to the finals here for Milton, Braidwood, Granite City, Harrisburg, Von Steuben, and Glenbard.

Risk Winning Streak.

A number of schools will be risking long winning streaks as the eight game program opens tomorrow. The highspot will come in the final game of the evening when Dundee, winner of thirty in a row, clashes with Pekin, winner of 24.

Milton, in Pike county, has a population of 332 and a high school enrollment of 65. It is the smallest community ever represented in a state tournament. Thirteen of the fifteen players on the squad are from farm homes. Donald Parks, regular center, who was taken ill Monday, was able to leave with the team for Champaign this morning.

First round schedule:

THURSDAY.

10 a. m.—Game 1, Champaign vs. Johnston City; game 2, Von Steuben vs. Granite City.
2 p. m.—Game 3, Rock Island vs. Galesburg; game 4, Braidwood vs. Glenbard; game 5, Carbondale vs. Rockford.
7 p. m.—Game 6, Paris vs. Decatur; game 7, Harrisburg vs. Milton; game 8, Dundee vs. Pekin.

Teams from eight Chicago high schools have been entered in the special 400 yard and 1,600 yard relays to be held in connection with the fortieth annual Central A. A. U. indoor track meet tomorrow evening in the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

Clay Chisholm, former University of Wisconsin high jumper, will compete as a member of the Ogden Park team. John Brooks, former Maroon star, will lead the Olde Tymers club in an attempt to wrest the team championship from the University of Chicago.

Full teams have been entered from Illinois, Northwestern and Chicago universities, and from the various parks, city playgrounds and board of education playgrounds.

Irving Park Y. M. C. A. Five Loses in Tourney

The Invaders scored in the closing seconds to defeat the Irving Park Y. M. C. A., 32 to 30, in one of three opening round games of the Irving Park Y's annual basketball tournament last night. In other games the Goodman Varieties defeated Christ Church, 43 to 32, and the Illinois Tool Works defeated the Chicago Transformer five, 40 to 29. Three more games will be played tonight. Sixteen teams are entered in the tournament.

COLLEGIANS, DEMONS LOSE

Denver, Colo., March 16.—[Special.]—The Antler Club of Colorado Springs eliminated the Chicago Collegians from the National A. A. U. basketball tournament tonight, 54 to 39.

A bit of the unusual was injected in the contest even before the game got under way, when the colored club from Chicago were subjected to some special instructions from the referees as to their conduct on the floor. The instructions had a disturbing effect on the Collegian team and they appeared unusually timid in guarding. Ad Dietzel, 6 foot 8 inch center of the Antlers, scored 26 points. McInnis led the Collegians' scoring with seven goals and two free throws. Hudson, Singleton, and Brooks of the Collegians all went out on fouls.

The Kansas City Healeys beat the Chicago Harmon Demons, 76-44, to wind up the day's eight game program. Seven seeded teams and one college quintet gained the quarter-finals. Score:

Owen Asks for Chance.

Until today's lengthy drill under perfect weather conditions there had been some question about starting Mary Owen at third base. Dykes had told the former Tiger that he would leave it up to him whether he wanted to try out his right arm, which had been rather sore. Marve said today that he was all right, asked for the assignment and got it. Thus, the lineup which Dykes expects to use in the American league opener against Detroit will be present at the start Friday, except that Tommy Thompson will be at first base and rookie batteries will work throughout.

There wasn't such a rush of first base candidates today as there was yesterday after the Sox had read Zeke Bonura's holdout statement from New Orleans. There was no news of Zeke, but Thompson, who played first base for the Boston Bees for a time, took most of the fielding practice around the bag today. He probably will play the position until the Bonura case is disposed of one way or the other. Mike Tresh and Schlueter will divide the catching assignment in Friday's game.

Clift Accepts Terms, Leaves for Browns' Camp

San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—Harland Clift, third baseman for the St. Louis Browns, tonight accepted terms for the 1938 season and will leave his home in Yakima, Wash., immediately to join the club here, Vice President William O. De Witt announced.

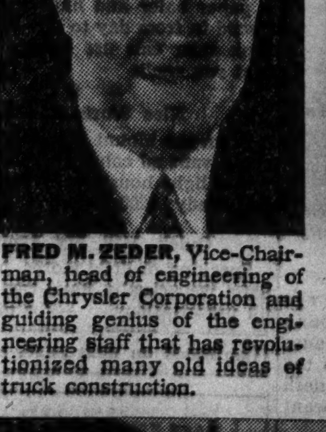
DODGE ENGINEERS SCOOP THE TRUCK WORLD WITH 19 "ECON-O-MIZERS"



FRED M. ZEDER, Vice-Chairman, head of engineering of the Chrysler Corporation and guiding genius of the engineering staff that has revolutionized many old ideas of truck construction.

FRED L. SAGE, Chief Truck Engineer, measurably responsible for feature after feature in Dodge trucks that contribute so much to their brilliant performance and unusual operating economy over the years.

E. P. LAMB, Assistant Chief Truck Engineer, design expert, influential in designing many of the Dodge truck advancements that insure Dodge truck owners of long and trouble-free service.

TODAY'S truck buyers are face to face with a new and startling advancement that means an utterly new kind of truck performance. No truck in the world has such a reputation for dependability as Dodge. Now, along with all the other features that have contributed to Dodge reputation for extra goodness...Dodge engineers have incorporated 19 "econ-o-mizers"...19 definite, proved money-savers! For any truck owner on any job, these 19 "econ-o-mizers" will combine to save gas, oil, tires, upkeep.

Test one of these new Dodge trucks, compare it against others, and you will immediately notice a big difference. In handling ease, in riding comfort, in appearance, in the way its genuine hydraulic brakes work, you will find this truck a revelation! Then borrow the little "gasometer" gas-testing machine from your Dodge dealer and make the quick, simple gas test...this test has actually shown many others how to save up to $95 a year on gas alone.

When you check on today's Dodge truck features and note the genuine hydraulic brakes; real safety-steel cab; simple 6-cylinder "L"-head engine with many advancements like exhaust valve seat inserts, four piston rings instead of the usual three...when you check like this, the extra value in these Dodge trucks is so obvious that you think of them as being "worth more"..."higher priced"...but the fact is that today's Dodge trucks are priced down with the lowest!

Before you buy any truck, ask your Dodge dealer to send a truck for you to try. Phone him today!

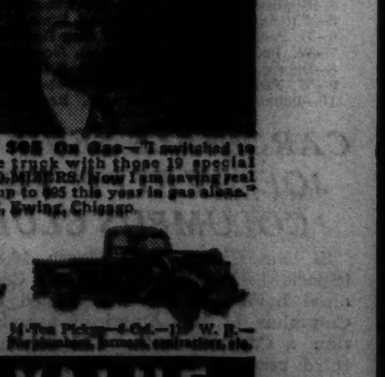
Switched To Get 19 Econ-o-mizers "Before I bought my new truck I did quite a bit of looking around. In the end I switched to Dodge trucks to get those 19 'econ-o-mizers.' Now I'm saving $8 to $10 a month on gas alone."—M. D. Lotz, New York.



Saving $95 On Gas—"I switched to a Dodge truck with those 19 special 'ECON-O-MIZERS.' Now I am saving real money, up to $95 this year in gas alone."—John C. Ewing, Chicago.

A quartet of Chicago Hungarians yesterday played a rhapsody in strikes which netted them high positions in the standings of the American Bowling congress in the Coliseum.

Rolling on alleys No. 3 and 4, the team of Louie Hornyak and John Nozar crashed into first place in the doubles with 1,227, topping Walter Koczela and John Gryska of Elizabeth, N. J., by three pins. The pair opened with 378, sandwiched in a 476 count—high doubles game of the tourney—and shot 373. Hornyak had a 637 total on games of 197—276—164, while his partner was scoring 181—200—209.

Brothers Just Miss Fame.

The Klajnik brothers, Lou and Ben, passed up a great opportunity to take the lead. They opened with games of 430 and 429 and were on their way to glory, but Ben missed three easy spares in the final game, while Lou drew two costly splits, resulting in a 363 game and a 1,222 total for fourth place.

Frank Smith of Benton Harbor, Mich., scored the second best total of the meet, 696, but his partner, Bill Taube, gave him only a modest 501 for a total of 1,197.

John Duthorn of Arlington Heights, Ill., rolled up the best total of the day in the singles class, taking third place with 196—232—258—686. Bob O'Farrell, former Cub catcher, bowled a sparkling 654 total. Given the breaks, O'Farrell could have taken the lead. He missed the pocket only three times and left the No. 10 pin wabbling five times on seemingly perfect hits. Bob had games of 200—233—221, second best of the day. Yesterday's leading scores:

GEHRIG BACK, SO IS DICKEY; YANKS BLANK BEES, 2-0

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16.—[Special.]—Celebrating the appearance of Lou Gehrig in the lineup, the New York Yankees blanked the Boston Bees, 2 to 0, here today.

Gehrig did his part in the entertainment, slapping a single his first time at the plate, and following with a double, but it was a line triple by Bill Dickey, also playing his first game, that chased Tom Henrich and George Selkirk across the plate with the two runs.

Danny MacFayden and Lou Fette kept the Yankees pretty well in check, yielding only three hits. Fette lost the game in the sixth when Dickey's drive, following walks to Henrich and Selkirk, skipped between Johnson and Di Maggio for three bases. Score:

Batteries—MacFayden, Fette and Lopez; Hadley, Andrews, Murphy, and Dickey.

A'S BEAT BEAUMONT.

Lake Charles, La., March 16.—(AP)—Paul Easterling's double in the eleventh inning today gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 4 to 3 victory over Beaumont of the Texas league. Two were out when the winning run scored.

Veteran Harry Kelley got off to a shaky start, but tightened up after the second inning and pitched in midseason form for the last nine innings.

Philadel. [A. L.]	001	010	010	01—4	9	1

SENATORS OUTSLUG CARDS.

Orlando, Fla., March 16.—[Special.]—The Washington Senators and St. Louis Cardinals slugged it out here today, with the Senators winning, 15 to 13, by scoring three runs in the final inning. Score:

St. Louis [N.]	005	310	022—13	15	3

DIZZY STILL IN BED.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean still is in bed.

The St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, ordered to bed when sinus infection developed from a cold, is following doctor's orders—under protest.

"There's nothing wrong with me," Dean said today as he tossed about his hotel bed, but he'll remain confined for another 24 hours at least.

INDIANS, 5; PHILS, 4.

New Orleans, La., March 16.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians took a close exhibition game from the Philadelphia Phillies today, 5 to 4, evening up for the Phillies' one run margin yesterday. The Indians' big inning was the fifth when four hits, including a triple by Trosky and double by Keltner, put over three runs.

Batteries—Welters, Mulcahy and Atwood, Stephenson; Harder, Milnar, Galehouse and Helf.

MANUSH STILL OUT.

Clearwater, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Larry McPhail, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said today he was making no effort to have his holdout outfielder, Heinie Manush, return to camp. Manush left camp several days ago after failing to come to terms.

"Manush is asking more money per game than Ducky Medwick will get from the Cardinals," said MacPhail. "Heinie admits he won't be able to play more than 100 games this year."

GIANTS WHIP JERSEY CITY.

Lafayette, La., March 16.—(AP)—The New York Giants stretched their Grapefruit league winning streak to six straight today, walloping their Jersey City farm team, 11 to 4. Tom Baker, Hy Vandenberg ,and Johnny Meketi, dividing the Giants' pitching, had little difficulty. The Giants battered three Jersey pitchers for 14 hits. Score:

New York [N.]	120	140	300—11	14	2

DIVISION BEATS WABASH FIVE IN Y. M. C. A. PLAY

In the semi-finals of the Y. M. C. A. city-wide basketball tourney last night Wabash was beaten by Division street, 52 to 47. Division street has been champion for the last two years in the heavyweight division. Sears-Roebuck beat Larrabee, 58 to 26.

In the lightweight class Wabash defeated Larrabee, 44 to 40, and Division defeated 111th street, 40 to 33.

Reach Semi-Finals of Southwest Basket Play

The Loyola university frosh, South Chicago Shamrocks, Acme Steel, and 124th Field Artillery Armory teams advanced to the semi-finals of the Greater Southwest basketball tournament last night at St. Sabina's. Loyola defeated the Loomis Drugs, 51 to 26; the Shamrocks won from the St. Sabinas, 23 to 21; Acme defeated the Barskas Lithuanians, 38 to 37, and the army team beat Cuneo Press, 37 to 33.

HAWKS TO FINISH REGULAR SEASON AGAINST BOSTON

Boston, Mass., March 16.—[Special.]—The Chicago Blackhawks, assured of a place in the Stanley cup playoffs, arrived here late today for their final game of the regular season Sunday night. Their opponents, the Bruins, are leading the league and enter the playoffs favored to win.

The series between the Maple Leafs, who led the Canadian division, and Boston will start in Toronto, Thursday, March 24. A second game between the leaders will be played in Toronto March 26. The third game and if necessary, fourth and fifth, will be played in Boston.

Rangers Play Tuesday.

The second place New York Rangers of the American division will play their first game next Tuesday against either the Americans or the Montreal Canadiens on New York ice. The Blackhawks' first and third games will be played on the ice of the Canadiens should the French team finish in third place.

If the Americans end up in third, the first game will be played in Chicago. The second and a third game, if necessary, will be played in New York. Regardless of where the Hawks play, their best two out of three game series will start next Tuesday.

TICKETS ON SALE.

Tickets for the first Stanley cup game in Chicago were placed on sale yesterday. Because the date of the first game is uncertain, the tickets are sold as for game No. 1.

If the Canadiens become the opponents, the first game here will be March 24. If the Americans are to be played, the first game here will be March 22.

Fenske to Bid for Record in Armour Mile

The record for the mile in the Armour Tech relays, established by Henry Brocksmith of Indiana at 4 minutes, 14:1 seconds in 1932, will be in danger when Chuck Fenske, brilliant University of Wisconsin runner, takes to the track in the tenth running of the Armour games in the University of Chicago fieldhouse Saturday afternoon.

The field includes three of last year's place winners. They are Fenske, who finished second and Charles Mitchell and Leonard Miller, of Kansas State, who were third and fourth, respectively.

Halla Is a Threat.

Ralph Halla of Yankton college, Yankton, S. D., one of the also rans last season, became a potential winner. During the Christmas holidays Halla ran 17½ miles in two hours and four minutes. Last week he ran a 4:37 mile on a gravel road.

Wisconsin also is expected to dominate the half mile run. Coach Tom Jones has entered three stars in this event. They are Fenske, Walter Mehl, winner last year in 1:58.9, and Bradford Towle, 1937 fourth place winner. Fenske also is scheduled to play an important part for Wisconsin in the two mile relay event.

Chappell Can Run Too.

Chappell, of Western State, ran a close second in the 880 in the Central meet last week, the winner's time being 1:56.3. Kummerlein of Milwaukee State Teachers won the event in the Midwest meet in 1:59.8. Both are entered in the Armour meet.

Wisconsin's domination of the shot put, another of the events open to both colleges and universities, may be ended this year by Dean Frary of Illinois. Davis of Hillsdale holds the Tech relay record for the event at 48 feet 4 inches, established in 1935.

Another Illinois entry, George Gragg, fifth place winner in the Big Ten meet last week, with Bare of Bradley Tech and Earl of Dubuque, the last two second and third place winners, respectively, in the Midwest meet, are possible runners up in the shot put.

HELEN PEDERSEN LOSES IN BERMUDA TENNIS TOURNEY

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Virgina Rice Johnson of Boston, provided the Bermuda tennis tournament with its biggest upset by eliminating Helen Pedersen, defending champion from Stamford, Conn., 6-4, 0-6, 6-0, in the quarter-finals today.

Elimination of Miss Pedersen, eighth ranking player in the United States, left Mrs. Marjorie G. Van Ryn, wife of the former Davis cup player, as the favorite to win the title. Mrs. Van Ryn, the tourney's top-seeded player, defeated Norma Taubele of New York 6-2, 8-6, to reach the semi-finals. Mrs. Johnson is 13th ranking player in the United States.

Also reaching the semi-finals of the women's singles were Florence Leboutillier of New York, and top-seeded Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France. Miss Leboutillier eliminated the 17 year old Philadelphian, Hope Knowles, 6-1, 6-2, while Mme. Henrotin beat the seventh-ranking American star, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, of New York, 6-2, 6-3.

In quarter final play of the mixed doubles Mrs. Van Ryn and Bernard Coghlan of Chicago eliminated Mrs. Andrus and Robert Murray of Montreal 7-9, 8-6, 7-5.

Sparta, Castle Shannons Play Second Game Sunday

The second match of the two game series of the National Western soccer finals between the Castle Shannons of Pittsburgh and the Sparta club will be played Sunday in the Sparta stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue. Total goals in both games will decide the winner. Sparta won last week, 2 to 1.

Notre Dame to Send Team of 15 to Butler Relays

Metz, Laffoon Win Four Ball Golf Tourney

Miami, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Dick Metz and Ky Laffoon, both of Chicago, won the 15th annual $4,000 International Four Ball Golf tournament today with a 6 and 5 conquest of Willie Goggin and Ben Hogan in the 36 hole final.

It was Metz, hampered by injuries for almost a year, who made the match a rout after he and his partner had been held to a one hole lead in the morning. Metz clicked off six birdies on the first afternoon nine and his team made the 27 hole turn six up with a best ball 30, six under par.

Laffoon and Metz were seven up at the 28th, where they won with a par as Hogan missed a six foot putt. After the 29th was halved in par, Goggin and Hogan kept the match alive by taking the 30th. Both Goggin and Hogan missed six foot putts for birdies on the 31st and Metz dropped a 10 foot putt that closed the match.

Each of the winners pocketed $1,000 while the runnerup earned $500 each. Metz said one physician had advised him to stop playing as soon as possible to allow a pulled ligament near a rib in his back to heal. He said his right arm might be strapped to his side for six weeks.

De Paul Basket Players Choose Bob Neu Captain

Neu set four records during the season recently closed. He took the all-time De Paul scoring record for one season away from Nick Yost with 250 points. Yost's previous record was 204.

Adams Keeps Managership of Detroit Hocky Team

Detroit, Mich., March 16.—(AP)—Jack Adams was reappointed manager of the Detroit Red Wings hocky team by Owner James D. Norris today. The Red Wings lost all hope of qualifying for the Stanley cup playoffs when they lost to the Canadiens Tuesday night.

DON'T LET HABIT KEEP ON ROBBING YOU

Next time you walk up to a cigar counter—and see the box with a blue PHILLIES band across the lid—say to yourself: "I'm going to try PHILLIES. Any cigar that has become the biggest seller in America must have something I have been looking for."

As you puff on your first PHILLIES—judge it critically. Ask yourself whether it isn't milder, smoother and more enjoyable than any cigar you've ever smoked.

All this great PHILLIES asks is a trial . . . a chance to show you how much more real pleasure you can get from a cigar—and for only 5c.

CHICAGO TRAILS IN COMPETITION FOR TITLE BOUT

New York, Detroit Rate High with Jacobs.

Mike Jacobs, New York boxing promoter, arrived in Chicago yesterday and after a brief conference with Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, and Leonard Hicks, president of the Chicago Hotel Men's association, announced that Chicago thus far has not shown sufficient interest to warant holding the world's championship bout between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling here next summer.

Civic leaders and fans in Detroit and New York have indicated they will have no difficulty producing a million dollar gate, Jacobs said. However, a final decision will not be made for several weeks. Whether Chicago still will be considered as a possible site for the bout will not be determined until several conferences are held.

Jacobs this morning will confer with Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. A meeting to convince Jacobs of the possibilities of a million dollar gate in Chicago will be held Saturday when Triner confers with Sheldon Clark, wealthy sportsman, who aided in the promotion of the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney bout at Soldiers' field in 1927.

After his talk with Mayer, Jacobs will return to New York, but he expects to come back to Chicago next week and remain for the Louis-Harry Thomas fight in the Stadium April 1. The ticket sale for the bout indicates a sellout, Jacobs said.

The challenger sparred five rounds with three mates and then Louis went four rounds with two partners. After the workout Thomas weighed 193½ pounds, but he expects to weigh 196 for the bout.

Moon Mullins, Vincennes, Ind., junior lightweight, arrived yesterday to prepare for his eight round featured match with Johnny Cabello of New York in Marigold Gardens Monday. Alex Kettles will meet George Cerosky in a five round supplementary contest on the card, which includes an additional eight rounder between Tony Cianciola and Nick Nicholson. . . . Barney Ross yesterday scaled 144 pounds after a seven round workout in preparation for his ten round nontitle bout with Henry Schaft in Minneapolis April 4. . . . After he fights Charley Eagle in a six round headliner in Buffalo Monday Jimmy Clark will face Al Simmons in a supporting match to the Henry Armstrong-Eddie Zivic main event in Detroit Olympia March 25. . . .

Jimmy Adamick, Midland, Mich., heavyweight, has been signed to fight Al Ettore of Philadelphia in Cleveland March 28. Ettore was substituted for Henry Palmeri, who has been suspended by the Illinois boxing commission for failure to go through with a fight against Max Marek in Cicero stadium last week. . . . Davey Day may meet Billy Beauhuld in the New York Hippodrome April 20. Day hooks up with Tommy Speigal in Pittsburgh March 28. . . . Tony Sopko, west side 147 pound amateur, and Eddie Gerrard of the south side will appear in a five round semi-final bout in the Madison Athletic club tomorrow.

John Henry Lewis' engagement with Bud Mignault in St. Paul tonight has been postponed until one week from tomorrow. . . . Pat Kenneally, manager of the Catholic Youth organization's professional department, is making arrangements to return a $45 forfeit to Jimmy Vaughan, London lightweight. The state athletic commission handed Kenneally the money when Vaughan came in overweight for his ten round bout with Al Nettlow of the C. Y. O. Feb. 28. . . . Jim Londos will reach town Saturday for his wrestling bout with Ali Baba in the Coliseum annex March 25. Jim has matches in Kansas City this evening and St. Joseph, Mo., tomorrow. . . . Dr. E. Allen Frankel, Golden Gloves judge, will leave for New York today to see the annual intercity matches between Chicago and the eastern winners Monday. F. M.

HOLD WATER CARNIVAL.

The club swimming championships, a volleyball game between girl's teams representing the Madison A. C. and the Skyline A. C., and the appearance of the Medinah club's girl's water ballet will be features of the aquatic and athletic carnival tonight at the Madison Athletic club, 4717 Madison street.

COUNT MAURICE, under good handling, ran into lead, raced MILK into defeat, and gamely stalled off the determined bid of MINEY MYERSON. The latter was rated along back of the pace, made his move in stretch, but could not get up. CHANCERY came from far back. MILK tired badly at the end of five furlongs. ONRUSH never was a factor.

SWEET PATRICE a rapid breaker. She was sent to the front early, showed excellent speed, and drew away easily at end. JACK HORNER was hard ridden the last furlong. HANDIBOY got away flying and displayed good speed. SATIN MARVEL had no chance after the start. AMERICAN BYRD unseated rider at post, ran away half a mile, was caught and returned to post, and just galloped along back of the field.

FIFTH RACE—One mile and sixty yards. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

SUNPHANTOM, showing a startling form reversal, broke good, followed pace to top of stretch where he ran into lead, and drew away, winning nicely in hand. SORCERESS broke very fast, raced TIME SIGNAL into defeat, and held on well. MANSCO, showing more early foot than usual, finished with a good burst of speed. TIME SIGNAL was used up attempting to race SORCERESS into submission and stopped badly. BLIND PIG lacked speed.

Time, 1:48 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Noble Spirit, $8.50 straight, $5.70 place, $3.90 show; Anacreon, $14.80 place, $8.90 show; Berry Patch, $3.70 show. Winner, b. g., 7, by Bright Knight-Modification. Owner, Medway stable. Trainer, G. Alexandra.

NOBLE SPIRIT, on the outside, worked his way up, took lead around turn, and drew away easily at end. ANACREON ran good race. BERRY PATCH tired in the closing strides. MARIATO came from far back. MINE BOY was very sore going to the post.

Hate Shaving? TRY THIS!
The New Marlin "Miracle-Sharp" Blade..
45 Seconds From Lather to Towel—and the Smoothest, Cleanest Shave You Ever Had.
AT A LITTLE MORE THAN 1¢ A BLADE
Don't be discouraged if you are one of those fellows with a tough, wiry, bristly stubble—the kind that defies almost any razor and makes shaving a painful nuisance. The new Marlin high-speed, luxury blade zips right through that kind of a beard and leaves your face clean, smooth and comfortable. Fast? It's almost like wiping your face with a towel.
The reason is simple. Marlin blades are made of fine Swedish surgical steel, the kind that takes a real "edge". And they are the kind of blades that can be safely guaranteed by people like Marlin who know fine steel, and have been making fine guns for 67 years.
Try a pack of Marlin's today. You will agree with thousands of other hard-to-please men that you never had a finer shave in your life. And the price, 20 for 25¢, at a cost little more than a penny apiece.
GUARANTEED BY THE MAKERS OF THE WORLD FAMOUS MARLIN GUN

Rifle Experts to Compete in U. of C. Meet

More than 100 small bore rifle experts from Big Ten universities and from other colleges and universities in the country will compete in the intercollegiate shoulder-to-shoulder matches of the National Rifle association to be held April 1, 2, and 3 in connection with the third annual University of Chicago Rifle club invitational meet.

Similar matches will be fired in three other sections of the United States. A member of the National Rifle association will be present at each place, will score the targets, and wire the results to Washington, D. C., where they will be compiled and the name of the winning team announced. Russell Wiles Jr., University of Chicago rifle team and match manager, said the Chicago shoot would attract teams from all of the Big Ten universities and from colleges as far south as Alabama and as far east as Pennsylvania. Regulations permit a college team to shoot in any of the four designated matches.

The intercollegiate shoulder-to-shoulder matches consist of 10 shots off-hand or standing, 10 shots kneeling, 10 shots sitting, and 10 shots prone. The firing will be done at a distance of 50 feet with .22 caliber rifles equipped with iron sights.

Entries Close Tonight for C. Y. O. Girls' Tournament

Entries for the C. Y. O. girls' basketball tournament to be held in St. Andrew's parish gymnasium, Addison and Paulina streets all next week will close tonight. St. Agatha, Immaculate Conception, Sacred Heart, St. Andrew's and St. Matthias have entered teams.

ILLINOIS LAGS IN DEVELOPMENT OF FISH HATCHERIES

Other States Far Ahead in Output.

BY BOB BECKER.

When the Illinois department of conservation recently released its figures on the number of fish it placed in lakes and streams during 1937 it was another reminder to Illinois fishermen of the small hatchery program being carried on in this state as compared to those in some of our neighboring states.

Total Is 36,600,000.

According to the Illinois department's figures, 15,500,000 fish of all species were raised in Illinois hatcheries. Included in this number were 7,000,000 lake trout, which mean nothing, inasmuch as the trout go into the big lake for the commercial fisherman. This reduces the hatchery output to 8,500,000 fish of all species for inland waters of the state.

If Illinois hadn't seined 28,369,087 fish from small ponds, lagoons, and bayous and dumped them into Illinois lakes and streams the year's record would have looked even worse. Taking the 8,500,000 fish from the hatcheries and 28,000,000 rescued we have a total fish planting program for inland waters of approximately 36,500,000.

How small a fish restocking program is this is best realized when the fisherman looks at the Wisconsin program. Wisconsin has 31 hatcheries. [Illinois has seven.] In 1936 Wisconsin planted 600,000,000 fish. In 1937 the state planted more than one billion fish of all species, as compared to the 44,000,000 which represented Illinois' entire fish restocking program.

Bluegills Outrank Illinois Total.

The number of bluegills alone stocked by Wisconsin last season was greater than the entire Illinois hatchery output during 1937. Wisconsin put 357,102 adult bluegills, more than 1,000,000 fingerlings, and more than 21,000,000 bluegill fry [for a total of 23,401,250] in lakes and streams, whereas in this state all of the fish that seven hatcheries produced was only 15.500.000.

The crappie restocking program in Wisconsin affords another striking example of how some of our neighbor states are giving the fisherman results for his money. More than 18,000,000 crappie fry, fingerlings, and adults were put in Wisconsin lakes, again making Illinois' entire hatchery output of all species [15,500,000] look very small.

122D ARTILLERY POLO TEAM WILL MEET GOLD HATS

With a chance to land second place in the final standings, the 122d Field Artillery polo trio will face the Detroit Gold Hats at full strength Saturday night in the high goal Metropolitan Polo league feature of a triple-header at the 124th Field Artillery armory.

The north side artillerymen will be reënforced by the return of Lieut. Arnold Pio, who has rejoined his teammates, Lieut. Carl Johnson and Lieut. Cliff Harrison, after being out with injuries for three weeks.

Preceding the Detroit-122d game, the 124th Feld Artillery Red Legs will meet the Chicago Rangers, and Fort Sheridan will take on the Evanston Polo club.

USE FILIBUSTER TRYING TO SAVE ROOSEVELT BILL

DictatorshipMeasureTest Dodged in Senate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—Senate supporters of President Roosevelt's bill to reorganize the federal government were forced to conduct a filibuster this afternoon when it became apparent that they lacked enough votes to defeat an amendment that would emasculate the measure.

Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky refused to risk a vote on the amendment of Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] which would require congressional approval, by joint resolution, to make effective any presidential order transferring, consolidating, or abolishing any bureau or independent establishment.

Had a vote been taken, the Wheeler amendment would have carried by one vote, according to surveys made by both sides. Consequently, Senator Barkley called upon Senator Allen J. Ellender [D., La.], who received his training during the consideration of the anti-lynching bill, to filibuster.

Delay Test for Day.

Apparently confident that one or more votes could be won by pressure over night Majority Leader Barkley sought unanimous consent to vote at 2 p. m. tomorrow on the Wheeler amendment. Senator Wheeler, however, objected. He said he was ready to vote at any time today, but would not agree to vote at a definite hour tomorrow.

In the debate today Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.], denounced the continued surrender of congressional power to the executive branch. He urged congress to "take back" the powers it already has surrendered. He praised Senator Harry Flood Byrd [D., Va.], who "for the last year has stood like a lion against this infamous bill."

"During the last year," said Senator Johnson, "we have seen repeated attempts to whittle away the powers of congress. I speak for the retention in congress of the few powers it has left."

Pittman Denounces Ickes.

Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], president pro tempore of the senate, denounced the efforts of Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes to wrest control of the forestry service from the department of agriculture.

"I don't believe there is a man in the western country today who would be willing to trust Secretary Ickes with the nation's forest reserves," Senator Pittman declared.

When Senator George Norris [Radical, Neb.] rose to defend the proposed transfer of power to the President, Senator Wheeler asked him whether he would like to see the TVA transferred to the department of commerce.

"Of course, that could not be done under the bill," Norris said.

"Of course it could," Senator Wheeler replied. "The interstate commerce commission and the other quasi-judicial agencies are excluded, but the TVA is one of the 130 odd independent agencies that are not excluded."

"If that is true," Norris declared, "the bill ought to be amended. The whole theory of the TVA act was that it should be absolutely independent, regardless of changes in the administration."

WIFE OF BANKER CONTENDS BRIDE KILLED HERSELF

Pekin, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—"I still believe Betty committed suicide," Mrs. Catherine Crabb declared tonight after testifying before a grand jury which began an investigation into the gun death of Betty Collison Crabb, her stepson's bride of five weeks.

The witness, young second wife of Willis Crabb, Delavan banker, was among half a dozen persons questioned. The jury has been asked to return a murder indictment against the banker's son, James Crabb, 21 years old, who has confessed the fatal shot was fired during a scuffle with his wife. He has been held in jail on a charge of murder since Saturday.

James' stepmother, who was a manicure before being married to his father in 1936, spent nearly an hour in the grand jury room. She will testify again tomorrow.

FAMILY RELIEF WILL BE KEPT UP WITH CITY FUNDS

Chicago relief officials yesterday arranged to continue family relief grants at 83 per cent of standard budgets until May 1, after City Treasurer Gustave Brand notified them he will honor checks drawn on a $1,910,000 emergency transfer of city funds authorized by the council March 2. The legality of the council action had been questioned.

"If this money had not been made available to supplement state relief funds, budgets would have been cut to 50 per cent," said Leo M. Lyons, relief administrator. "The money should carry us through April, if there is no increase in applications."

OGDEN VIADUCT SOMETHING NEW IN ENGINEERING

BY HAL FOUST.

Arthur Benesch, engineer of grade separations for the Illinois highway department, yesterday made public his complete design for an $800,000 structure to carry Ogden avenue over Cicero avenue and over the Burlington railroad embankment at this intersection. The improvement will resemble a half mile of elevated highway and will incorporate utilitarian niceties new to road building in the midwest.

The first contract on the project will be awarded today. The Thomas McQueen company of Forest Park is to build the substructure. In three months, bids will be taken on contracts for the fabrication of materials and for the superstructure.

Colored concrete is to be used for the first time in Illinois. Curbs are to be precast with white cement. Stripes to mark trafic lanes are to be precast with black cement.

Center Curb of New Design.

A center curb of new design will separate opposing streams of trafic on the viaduct. It will be of white concrete except for a black center stripe. On each side will be a step eight inches high, permitting cars to be driven close to the curb with no fear of tearing a running board or fender. The top of the curb will be a foot high, high enough so that it will not be jumped by a car out of control. Sodium lamps will illuminate the structure.

Mr. Benesch said it was the most complicated grade separation problem ever tackled by the Illinois highway department. At present Ogden avenue trafic uses a subway in Cicero avenue to pass under the broad railroad embankment. Twenty-sixth street trafic also uses this subway. The underpass is jammed during rush hours by a trafic that averages 31,400 cars a day.

The engineer's answer to this problem appears simple on his blue print. Ogden avenue trafic will connect with the pavement at grade east of the present intersection by means of a one-way 22 foot ramp on each side of the Ogden street car tracks.

Gradual Curves and Grades.

On gradual curves and grades it will pass over the railroad embankment on a truss bridge with a roadway 45 feet above the Cicero avenue pavement in the subway. A quarter of a mile west of Cicero, Ogden avenue trafic will return to ground level.

"We couldn't place any piers on the railroad embankment because they would interfere with the existing five tracks and location for a future sixth track," said Mr. Benesch. "To span this embankment we are using one cross beam 120 feet long that weighs 150 tons. We have agreed with the railroad that the installation of this heavy member shall interrupt rail service for no more than two hours, two hours early some Sunday morning."

1ST JOB SOFTENS BOLD, BAD MAN FROM KENTUCKY

A bold, bad man from Kentucky yesterday swaggered before police and reporters in the Des Plaines street police station and said, "I'm going to be a bigger guy than Dillinger."

Capt. Patrick Collins pretended to be impressed, and heard the prisoner, George Wise, 17 years old, who was arrested with Wanda Wade, 16, talk about "casing the joint" and "pulling the slickest job ever seen in the west end of Louisville," whence both came. Police found $800 worth of clothing in the car, supposedly stolen, in which they were riding when it crashed into another machine at Monroe and Canal streets.

"He's not really tough," said Wanda, her eyes filled with tears, before she was locked up in the juvenile home, George in the Des Plaines station. "He's just talking big. I love him. We were eloping. I thought we could get away with it, but I'm glad we got caught."

"Me, too," said George. "My first job, and I get caught. I'm going straight now."

OBITUARIES

John Rex Allen.

Funeral services for John Rex Allen, a former Chicago sugar merchant, were held yesterday at Orange City, Fla. He died Monday at Deland, Fla., at the age of 84. Mr. Allen was senior warden of St. Mark's Episcopal church in Evanston for several years. He was a member of the Traffic Club of Chicago and a leader in the Boy Scout movement. In recent years he had made his home at Valley Forge, Pa. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Lowry Allen, and three sons and two daughters—John Rex Jr. of Evanston, Benjamin of Washington, Charles L. of Denver, Miriam of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Ruth Eden of Narberth, Pa.

Gilbert P. Riswold.

Hollywood, Cal., March 16.—(AP)—Gilbert P. Riswold, 57 years old, sculptor whose most notable work was the Mormon Battalion monument in Salt Lake City, died of a cerebral hemorrhage here last night. Born on a farm near Baltic, S. D., he first turned to blacksmithing, then attended the Art institute in Chicago. His best known works include a statue of Stephen A. Douglas at Springfield, Ill., a world war memorial at Oak Park, Ill., and busts of Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt at Brookings, S. D., and Chicago, respectively.

Samuel E. Bradt.

De Kalb, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—Funeral services for Samuel E. Bradt, 76 years old, former state superintendent of highways, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Methodist church here. Mr. Bradt, former president of the First Trust and Savings bank and vice president of the First National bank, died Tuesday night after a two year illness.

Mrs. Margaretta E. Beckwith.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaretta E. Beckwith, whose father, the late Rev. B. F. Worrell, was one of Chicago's first newspaper publishers, will be held this afternoon at 310 South State street, Elgin. Burial will be in Bluff City cemetery, Elgin. Mrs. Beckwith died in the Elgin Old People's home last Tuesday. She was born in Chicago on Dec. 28, 1849.

Robert Lytton Gifford.

Robert Lytton Gifford, for thirty-two years a city employé, died yesterday in his home at 5955 West Circle avenue at the age of 72. He was born in New York state. His widow, Alice, and two daughters survive. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at 6754 Northwest highway.

George B. Montgomery.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—George Breck Montgomery, general superintendent of construction for the Lincoln tunnel, died of a heart attack today at Miami Beach, Fla. He was 58 years old and lived in Norwalk, Conn. From 1904 until his death he superintended construction work on every important tunnel built here, including the Hudson and Manhattan, the Holland, Fulton street, Rutgers street, 14th street and Montague street tunnels.

Judge Fred E. Carpenter.

Rockford, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—Probate Judge Fred E. Carpenter, 68 years old, died at his home here this morning from heart disease. He had been ill since Jan. 4. Probate judge since 1934, he previously served as county judge from 1918 to 1930. He was one of the founders of the Rockford park district and first president of the park board. He was a former president of the Winnebago County Bar association.

Dr. John H. Burma.

Sherman, Tex., March 16.—(AP)—Dr. John Harmon Burma, 64 years old, Presbyterian pastor here and former president of Trinity university at Waxahachie, died unexpectedly today at his home. He retired from 17 years of school work to enter the ministry in 1933. He was elected vice president of the University of Dubuque, at Dubuque, Ia., in 1916 and served four years, resigning to become president of Trinity.

George H. Atwood.

Stillwater, Minn., March 16.—(AP)—George H. Atwood, 77 years old, pioneer Minnesota lumberman and one time associate of the late James J. Hill and the late Frederick Weyerhaeuser, early Minnesota rail and lumber magnates, died today after several months illness.

George W. Lindsay.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—George W. Lindsay, who served six successive terms in the United States house of representatives from the 3d [Brooklyn] district, died early today in his Brooklyn home. He would have been 73 years old on March 28.

EDUARDO ROSAS IS DEAD; CONSUL FOR ARGENTINA

Eduardo Gruning Rosas, Argentine consul here for four and one-half years, died yesterday in the consulate, 5049 Sheridan road. He was 63 years old, and had been ill for several months.

Eduardo Rosas.

Before coming to Chicago Mr. Rosas was consul at Philadelphia, Pa., for several years. In 1921 he organized the Argentine consulate at Beirut, Syria. Previously he had been a commercial attaché of the embassy at Berlin and represented his country's meat industry in Italy.

His widow, Ana, will accompany the body to New York, where on Saturday she will sail for Buenos Aires, according to R. C. Lebret, Uruguayan consul, a close friend of the family.

PLAN SUBURBAN WATER PLANT TO SERVE 31 TOWNS

Plans for a water supply system to serve thirty-one communities in the west suburban area, estimated to cost about 7 million dollars, were revealed last night. The plans were drawn by a firm of consulting engineers at the request of Berwyn and Cicero officials.

The chief advantage, its advocates assert, is that the new system would provide water at lower rates. The area to be served, according to the plan, would be bounded on the south by Summit, on the north by Niles, and on the west by Elmhurst and Hinsdale. It could be put in operation by 1940.

Plans call for a crib in the lake off Winnetka and a modern electric pumping plant which would maintain pressures of 40 to 60 pounds, as against the 21 pounds provided by the Chicago water system, from which the suburbs now buy.

GREEN TO BACK ROOSEVELT ON WAGE-HOUR BILL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today assured President Roosevelt craft unions will support effort of the administration to obtain passage of wage and hour legislation at this session of congress.

The support was conditioned upon presidential agreement to terms imposed by Green, who saw Mr. Roosevelt for the first time in months. It was understood that Mr. Roosevelt agreed not to have wage and hour legislation governed by a board similar to the National Labor Relations board, to which the federation is opposed. He was also reported to have agreed not to put a ceiling on wages.

The federation blocked the last wage and hour program in the house because it could not agree with the President on details of the legislation.

The federation had felt that the former administration measure tended to do away with labor unions. Green apparently was assured today that enforcement of wage and hour legislation would be put into the hands of unions.

CITY'S AIRPORT PLANS APPROVED BY U. S. EXPERTS

The city's plans for expanding Chicago airport by moving the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks from the center of the available area to its northern edge have received tentative approval of federal air commerce bureau officials here, it became known yesterday. Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, has had engineers and surveyors conferring with the airport experts for the bureau for more than a week.

All the runways on the proposed field would be more than 4,000 feet long and thus would meet with every requirement of the bureau at this time, the federal men have informed the city. The plan calls for the transfer of the railroad tracks from the line of 59th street, where they now lie, to a new strip 300 feet south of 55th street and on the northern boundary of the square mile of area available for landing purposes.

COURT AFFIRMS JAIL TERMS FOR 2 ZINTAK JURORS

Three day jail sentences imposed upon two members of the Zintak whoopee jury were affirmed yesterday by the Illinois Appellate court.

The two are Julius Rosenthal, 31 years old, of 6204 North Rockwell street, a salesman, and Martin Even, 33 years old, of 1102 Pittner avenue, Evanston, a telephone lineman. They were sentenced for contempt of court after the jury trying Frank V. Zintak, ousted clerk of the Superior court, on embezzlement charges, made a gay tour of taverns on a Sunday during the trial. Zintak was acquitted.

Judge Benjamin P. Epstein of the higher court commented: "Such conduct on the part of jurors cannot be tolerated if justice is to prevail." Eleven of the jurors were sentenced to jail and the twelfth was fined $25.

WOOL BUYER KILLED IN CRASH.

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 16.—[Special.]—Reed Bostwick, 51 years old, Cassopolis wool and fur buyer, was killed last night when an automobile in which he was riding overturned. His neck was broken in the crash, but Frank Marsh, the driver, was uninjured. Bostwick leaves his widow and a son, Marshall of Chicago.

3 MOTORISTS FINED, DRIVING PRIVILEGES LOST IN SAFETY COURT

Judge J. M. Braude in the Safety court yesterday fined three errant motorists and suspended their driving privileges for varying periods. The defendants and their violations and fines:

RUDY BARTON, 1416 Komensky avenue, reckless driving, $25.

DAVID BROWN, 25, 530 South Millard avenue, reckless driving, $10. On Feb. 13 six persons were injured slightly when Brown's automobile skidded into a crowd waiting for a street car at State and 14th streets.

Judge Michael G. Kaspar of the Felony court sentenced John McClellan, 2855 Fulton street, to thirty days in the Bridewell for leaving the scene of an accident. His car killed Mrs. Anna Ross, 52 years old, 2840 Fulton street, in front of her home on Jan. 29. A coroner's jury exonerated McClellan of manslaughter.

Judge Braude joined several other judges, lawyers, city officials, business men, and doctors yesterday at a mock trial in the Evanston Municipal court where tests for intoxicated drivers were demonstrated.

WOMAN KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE; DRIVER IS HELD

Miss Beatrice Fields, 40 years old, 7227 North Wolcott avenue, was killed yesterday when she was struck by an automobile in front of the Cornelia Realty company, 3450 North Halsted street, where she had been employed for fourteen years as a stenographer. James Foley, driver of the car, who is an investigator for the Yellow Cab company, was held for the inquest.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 188 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 150 were killed in Chicago, where 3,394 were injured in the same period.

Shuts Tavern, Goes Fishing; Body Found 8 Hours Later

When Lorenz Christensen closed his tavern at 110 East Hubbard street early yesterday he called a taxicab and told the driver to take him, not to his home at 4837 North Ridgway avenue, but to Navy pier. He wanted to go fishing, the driver told police who were called by Christensen's wife, Lillie, when he failed to return. Her husband's body was found eight hours later. He had fallen into the water and drowned.

SPRING CLEANING FALL FATAL.

Losing her balance as she cleaned a window in her third floor apartment at 7325 East End avenue, Mrs. Jean McMillan, 63 years old, fell to her death yesterday.

CORA'S WASHDAY CURSE
by HELEN MARTIN
CORA! YOU OUGHT TO BE SPANKED FOR DOING THIS BIG WASH TODAY WHEN YOU'RE NOT WELL!
GET SOME WATER, SUE! I THINK I'M GOING TO FAINT.
IT'S PERFECT NONSENSE TO SCRUB AND BOIL IN THESE DAYS OF "NO-SCRUB" SOAP THAT SOAKS OUT DIRT IN 15 MINUTES.
BUT I TRIED ONE OF THOSE SOAKING SOAPS ONCE. IT WAS AWFULLY HARSH -- FADED COLORS AND NEARLY RUINED MY HANDS!
BUT I'M TALKING ABOUT A NEW ONE --OXYDOL! IT'S SAFE AS CAN BE -- YET SOAKS WHITE CLOTHES 4 TO 5 SHADES WHITER WITHOUT SCRUBBING OR BOILING. YOU REALLY MUST TRY IT!
NEXT WASHDAY
GEE, HONEY, YOU LOOK FRESH AND PEPPY LATELY. WHAT'S THE SECRET?
IT'S A NEW SOAP THAT TAKES THE CURSE OUT OF WASHDAY-- ENDS SCRUBBING AND BOILING FOREVER!

Now comes a remarkable discovery to end the washday torture women have suffered too long. A new laundry soap called OXYDOL that does these 4 amazing things:—(1) Soaks out dirt in 15 minutes, without scrubbing or boiling. (2) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter. (3) Cuts washing time 25% to 40%, in tub or machine. (4) Yet so safe that every washable color comes out sparkling, fresh. So, do as millions are doing. Switch to OXYDOL. Say good-bye forever to "washday fag"—to the headaches and backaches that come from scrubbing clothes. You can get OXYDOL from all dealers. Order a package today. Procter & Gamble.

WHITNEY ADMITS THEFT OF YACHT CLUB'S $109,384

Three More N. Y. Brokers Accused of Larceny.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—For the second time in three days Richard Whitney, one time president of the New York Stock exchange and one of the most influential financiers in Wall street, today pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny. He admitted stealing $109,384 in securities from the New York Yacht club of which he had been treasurer.

Whitney will appear in General Sessions court on March 28 to hear sentence pronounced by Judge Owen W. Bohan on both his guilty pleas. Monday the former head of the brokerage house bearing his name pleaded guilty to another indictment accusing him of the theft of $105,000 from a trust fund left in his keeping by his father-in-law, the late George R. Sheldon.

Seek Sum of Thefts.

By the time the date for sentence arrives District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., who obtained the indictments, expect to establish the extent to which Whitney dipped into accounts of others for his operations in the stock market.

Whitney and his firm were heavy investors in the stock of the Distilled Liquors company and the decline of these holdings constituted the primary cause of the failure of the house.

Maximum sentences on the pending charges total 40 years. Since Whitney is a first offender his term in the penitentiary is expected to be considerably less than that.

Three More Arrested.

During the day three more brokers, officers of the house of Campagnoli & Co., which does an over the counter business in securities, were arrested on grand larceny charges, accused of swindling several prominent persons out of approximately $300,000. Those arrested were Hugo C. Campagnoli, president of the firm; William H. Ferris, vice president, and Joseph B. Schubert, secretary.

Investigators said various banks were led to carry securities at far above their market values in the Campagnoli scheme.

A bank would receive collateral securities worth a few cents a share. A friend of the firm would buy a handful of shares at an inflated price of over a dollar a share and then the securities sold over the counter would be written up at the false value.

Southern Railway.

Answer: The Southern Railway company operates a 7,959 mile railroad system serving nearly every important city east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers. Due to excessive dependence on agriculture, notably cotton, this territory lagged behind other sections of the nation in economic development until a few years ago. Diversification of agriculture and the building of new enterprises, including the pulp industry, has resulted in a greatly improved outlook. The textile and steel industries are now well developed in the south.

The Southern's trafic is well divided over numerous classes of freight. Soft coal is the largest individual commodity carried, and the road handles a large volume of profitable manufactured and miscellaneous freight, including automobiles, fertilizer, petroleum products, cement, and iron and steel products.

After reaching $155,467,976 in 1926, revenues turned downward due to depressed conditions in the south and reached a low of $72,986,542 in 1932. Improvement after 1932 was rather steady until July, 1937, when another downturn developed. Revenues in January, 1938, fell to $6,965,716 from $8,133,015 in January, 1937.

As a result of substantial gains early in the year gross revenues for all of 1937 were $98,435,414, compared with $96,274,498 in 1936, but 1937 net income fell to $805,922, or $1.34 a preferred share, from $4,304,926, or $1.01 a common share, in 1936. The decline in earnings last year was due to sharply higher expenditures for materials, wages, and taxes. The Southern had losses in every year for five years after 1930. Profit in 1926, year of peak revenues, was $23,596,722, or $17.16 a common share.

Approval recently was given to an increase in authorized common stock from 1,500,000 shares of $100 par common to 2,900,000 shares of no par common. Old shares would be exchanged for new on a share for share basis. There were 1,298,200 common shares outstanding at the end of 1937, in addition to 600,000 of $100 par 5 per cent noncumulative preferred stock. Last dividends on the common and preferred were paid in 1931.

The balance sheet for Dec. 31, 1937, showed current assets of $21,924,250 and current liabilities of $17,772,043, compared with current assets of $24,349,102 and current liabilities of $16,789,198 a year earlier.

STEEL OUTPUT GAINS; BUYING TOTAL HIGHER

Rails Fail to Purchase Iron Age Reports.

Steel ingot production has increased 2 points to 32 per cent of capacity this week, Iron Age said yesterday. The improvement came mainly from miscellaneous buying and without material contribution from the railroads, automobile industry, and building construction. The upturn was partly seasonal and partly due to depletion of inventories, said Iron Age.

The railroads, disappointed at the freight rate increases granted them, have made no move toward resumption of buying, the review said. Neither are other steel users expected to hurry their buying to avoid increased freight charges because the increases are regarded as of little consequence.

View on Rail Situation.

"While the immediate outlook for large scale equipment purchases, which the railroads promised if their revenues were made sufficient, is not hopeful," said Iron Age, "it is probable that some delayed orders will be placed. The stimulus that a freight rate increase was expected to give to railroad buying and, over a short period, to general steel buying, has been greatly discounted.

"March, often the best month of the year for the steel industry, has brought moderate improvement over February sales, variously estimated from 8 to 20 per cent, depending on the company and the product. At Chicago the ingot production rate is the highest since last November [up 2½ points to 30 per cent of capacity], and there have been gains in several other districts. One Chicago producer has had the best sales since the week of Jan. 14 and another the best of the year thus far.

Farm Implement Makers Busy.

"Among general industrial groups, the farm implement and tractor industry is one of the most active buyers of steel. Orders show increasing diversification, though in most instances still small individually, and some users have bought who have not been in the market for months. It is significant that pig iron shipments by Chicago merchant furnaces have increased thus far in March by 40 per cent over the February rate."

Iron Age's composite scrap price has risen from $13.42 to $13.58 a ton because of a price stiffening in Philadelphia.

FIGHT TO REFORM STOCK EXCHANGE WINNING EASILY

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—Members of the New York Stock exchange by tomorrow night will have voted overwhelmingly in favor of the constitutional amendments which grew out of the Conway committee's report recommending a complete reorganization of the exchange's executive administration, it was learned today.

A total of 840 votes was reported today. Only 688 votes are required to constitute a quorum under the amended voting rule and a majority of that number would insure the reorganization.

With the new amendments adopted the nominating committee of the exchange will continue to receive names of members to be considered as governors and named on the new slate. The progressive element is pressing hard for the election of a complete new slate.

BON AMI BUSINESS UP.

Alvan E. Davidson, president of Bon Ami company, said at the annual meeting that business in the first two months of this year was running slightly ahead of corresponding period a year ago.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Storms and heavy rains drastically reduced supplies of live stock at all markets in the corn belt and sent prices higher. Receipts at the twenty leading markets aggregated only 104,000 head, the smallest Wednesday total since July 21, 1937. This was smaller than any corresponding Wednesday supply on record.

Hogs and lambs, which showed the largest decrease, led the price rise in the Chicago market. Only 6,000 hogs arrived here, less than half the preceding Wednesday's offerings. Prices advanced 10 to 25 cents per 100 pounds, the biggest weights over 300 pounds, showing the sharpest gains.

Most of the declines of Monday and Tuesday were restored in yesterday's active 25 cent higher lamb trade. Despite the light run of cattle, quality was improved, which helped sellers to force prices higher in the steer trade. More steers ruled strong to 25 cents higher.

FIGHT TO RULE VAN SWERINGEN UNIT DISCLOSED

Chesapeake Officers Asked to Resign.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—A fight for control of Chesapeake corporation, unit in the vast railroad system built up by the late Van Sweringen brothers, O. P. and M. J., of Cleveland, was disclosed today. Robert R. Young, who, with two others, bought from George A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., manufacturer, control of the Alleghany corporation, top holding company in the Van Sweringen group, today demanded the resignations of the president and secretary of the Chesapeake corporation.

Chesapeake corporation is a holding company controled by Alleghany. The Chesapeake corporation controls the Chesapeake and Ohio, key road in the Van Sweringen group.

Demands Immediate Resignation.

In a sharply worded letter, Young demanded that Charles L. Bradley and John P. Murphy, president and secretary, respectively, of the Chesapeake corporation, resign immediately. He declared that the two officers had refused to attend meetings of the Chesapeake board. Specifically, he charged, Bradley reported he was unable to attend a meeting last week because he was ill, whereas, Young said, Bradley was actually in his office in Cleveland.

Bradley yesterday summoned stockholders of the Chesapeake corporation to a special meeting at Baltimore on April 4 to consider proposals for filling a vacancy on the board of directors, to increase the size of the board to seven members from five to act upon the removal of all or any of the present directors, and to elect directors to fill any vacancy caused by such removal.

Young's Letter to Officers.

"The Alleghany corporation, as the owner of the majority issued and outstanding stock of the Chesapeake corporation, hereby requests you forthwith to present your unqualified resignations as director and officer of the Chesapeake corporation and to cease to exercise any of the powers and duties as such director and officer," Young's letter to the officers stated.

Young disclosed that on Jan. 27 he had demanded the resignations of Bradley and Murphy. He said that at that time that the federal authorities were against intermediate holding companies such as the Chesapeake corporation and that the conduct of Bradley and Murphy was making it impossible to accomplish the dissolution of the Chesapeake corporation.

Behind Young's request for the resignations there are controversies with wide ramifications involving many top executives of what remains of the Van Sweringen "empire," it was said in financial circles.

ADAMS NAMED TRUSTEE FOR UTILITIES POWER

Charles True Adams, special master in chancery and referee in bankruptcy, was appointed permanent trustee of the Utilities Power and Light corporation yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly. He succeeds the late Willoughby G. Walling.

Judge Holly said that he wished to avoid further delay in the reorganization of the company under section 77B of the bankruptcy act. Adams, he said, is familiar with all aspects of the reorganization case. Judge Holly said he had consulted the Securities and Exchange commission on the appointment and Adams had been given full approval. Adams has been a special master in chancery since 1934. Judge Holly named Harry Gottleib to succeed him in that post.

J. Samuel Hartt, Madison, Wis., consulting engineer, has been serving as temporary trustee since Walling's death.

Hudson Coal Co. Fights Reorganization Petition

Scranton, Pa., March 16.—(AP)—The Hudson Coal company today asked the federal court for the dismissal of a petition filed against it two weeks ago by six creditors for reorganization under section 77B of the bankruptcy act. The company challenged the statement of its assets and liabilities as set forth by the petitioners, declared it is able to meet its obligations as they mature, and denied the petitioners have a provable claim against the company.

I. C. C. Refuses to Delay Milwaukee Road Hearing

Washington, D. C., March 16.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission denied today an application for a two month delay in hearings in connection with Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad reorganization proceedings. The Guaranty Trust company of New York, trustee under the mortgage securing the road's fifty year 5 per cent bonds due Feb. 1, 1975, asked postponement from March 21 to May 23.

Truck Carriers Authorized to Proclaim Higher Rates

Washington, D. C., March 16.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission authorized truck carriers today to file a master tariff putting into effect rate increases in line with those recently granted the railroads. The truck industry received permission to put the higher rates into effect upon ten days' notice. The railroads plan to make the rate increases effective March 28.

Leaders Testify at Rail Hearing

Rail Pooling Is Advocated by Sargent

Washington, D. C., March 16.—(AP)—Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western railroad, proposed today that congress make possible "coördination and pooling" of railroads as one step toward rehabilitating the carriers. Sargent made his recommendations at a senate subcommittee hearing on rail finances. Patrick Joyce, president of the Chicago Great Western, also testified.

Sargent proposed in part as an immediate program:

1. Machinery for coördinating and pooling, either through the interstate commerce commission or a separate agency.

Would Bar All "Passes."

2. Prohibition of all free transportation.
3. Financing of railroads by a federal agency at rates of interest as low as the government pays.
4. Reëxamination by the I. C. C. of division of joint rates with a view to relieving the most distressed regions.
5. Repeal of requirements for reductions in rates because of land grant provisions.
6. Permit railroads to engage in motor vehicle business without the present restrictions.
7. Reëxamination by I. C. C. of rates paid for privately owned cars, such as refrigerator and tank cars.

Urges Few Big Systems.

For a long time program, Sargent suggested consolidation of all railroads into a few transcontinental systems. Sargent also advocated a "permanent and firm" rate making policy; a permanent labor policy [which would outlaw strikes and provide a wage-hour board]; government financing and federal incorporation of railroads.

Max Lowenthal, chief counsel of the senate committee, asked if it would not be the first step to government ownership.

"I wouldn't say it was not," Sargent said, "but unless we do something soon government ownership is the only way out."

Joyce said that the outlook for gross revenues of the Great Western is for about 25 per cent decrease in 1938. He said February gross was 11 per cent under February last year. There has been no seasonal gain in carloadings which would normally be expected at this time. Carloadings are going down at rate of 12 to 15 per cent whereas at this time they should be going up at rate of 12 to 15 per cent, he said.

DONNELLY ASKS MERGERS.

The only apparent way for American railroads to be saved from their present desperate plight is through consolidations into 18 or 20 companies, Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway, yesterday told the American Railway Engineering association at the Palmer house.

Donnelly asserted that comparatively few persons in this country would favor government ownership of the railroads, and if such a course arises it will only come as a matter of necessity. But things cannot go on as they are, he declared. The increase in rates just granted by the interstate commerce commission is keenly disappointing to the railroads and leaves their problem unsolved, he said.

"Even had the increases been what the roads had asked," he explained, "the railroad problem would not have been solved without a very considerable increase in the volume of trafic moving because freight revenues are 20 to 25 per cent below those of a year ago and car loadings are 12 to 22 per cent below those of a year ago."

RAILS' NET OPERATING INCOME DECLINES TO $6,919,888 IN JANUARY

The 141 class I. railroads had a total net operating income of $6,919,888 in January, against $38,866,838 in January, 1937, the bureau of statistics of the interstate commerce commission disclosed yesterday in its final report on operating results for the month. Gross revenues for January totaled $279,258,713, against $331,707,494 in January, 1937. Operating expenses totaled $232,710,290, against $253,668,741.

The Nickel Plate railroad reported February net operating income of $145,263, against $800,065 in February, 1937.

OIL 'REBELLION' PROCLAIMED BY MEXICAN BOARD

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 16.—(AP)—The Mexican federal labor board, acting on a petition of the workers in Mexico's $400,000,000 oil industry, today declared seventeen American and British oil companies "in rebellion" against the recent arbitral award of higher wages.

The award, which the companies say would increase their expenses $12,000,000 yearly, has been upheld by the Mexican supreme court.

A source close to the board said troops probably would be sent to guard the companies' buildings and prevent removal of furniture, files, and other properties. However, the companies in recent weeks have taken out almost everything they wanted.

Bank accounts of the seventeen companies were attached today, but it was learned they totalled only about $20,000. The labor board has not decided whether to place interventors— virtual receivers—in the companies to supervise finances.

TRANSAMERICA CUTS HOLDINGS IN NATIONAL CITY

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—The Transamerica corporation has reduced its holdings of shares of the National City Bank of New York from more than 10 per cent to about 8.75 per cent, according to the annual pamphlet report for 1937. This means that the National City would not be classified as "controled" by Transamerica under the terms of the pending bank holding company bill.

Under the bill control is defined as ownership of more than 10 per cent of stock. At the close of 1936 Transamerica held 625,751 shares, or 10.09 per cent of the 6,200,000 shares of National City stock outstanding. The latest report shows that Dec. 31 these holdings had been cut 83,320 shares to 542,431.

NEW WAR FEARS CAUSE CRASH IN STOCKS ABROAD

More Scared Funds Seek U. S. Haven.

Renewed fears of a European war yesterday caused severe price declines in foreign securities markets and intensified the flight of foreign capital to America. British government bonds and stocks fell sharply in the London market, where the average price of industrial issues reached the lowest figure since last September. On the Paris bourse international and domestic securities, including Bank of France shares, were depressed sharply.

The demand for American funds raised the value of the dollar in relation to most foreign currencies. An additional $1,730,000 of gold was engaged in London for shipment to New York. It was the second shipment in two days. On Tuesday a total of $2,255,000 gold was consigned from London to New York, marking a resumption of shipments after a lapse of several months.

Czech Bonds Weaker.

Austrian and Czechoslovakian bonds were knocked down further in price on the New York Stock exchange. Austrian 7 per cent bonds fell another $2.25 to $30 per $100 face value. Czech bonds fell about $14, the 8 per cent bonds of 1951 closing at $80.50 per $100 value and the 8 per cent of 1952 closing at $80. The sharp markdown in prices of the Czech issues brought them into line with quotations in the London market which had fallen faster than the New York market.

A decline in Belgian government bonds erased the premium at which they have been quoted in New York. They closed near par.

The sharpest break in the exchange market occurred in the Netherlands guilder which for the last year or more has been regarded as one of the safest mediums for capital in Europe. The guilder closed 0.35 cent lower in New York at 55.15 cents.

Exchange brokers said that nervous capital that previously had been transferred to Holland from France and other European countries is now seeking haven in dollars.

British Pound Weaker.

The active intervention of the British and French stabilization funds resulted in a moderate recovery in the international value of the French franc which advanced 0.055 cent to 3.12. On Monday of this week the franc had sold at an all time low price of 3.04 cents.

The German mark closed at 40.15 cents compared with 40.17 cents Tuesday. Austrian schillings still were without any definite value and were quoted at the nominal rate of 18.80 cents, 15 points below the last previous quotation, and more than 5 cents under their parity of 23.8244 cents.

The depreciation of foreign currencies may result in a greatly increased movement of gold to this country, it was said by bankers. The new imports, it was pointed out, will not be subject to sterilization under the treasury's new policy until they have exceeded 100 million dollars in any three month period. Should the movement materialize it will add to the banking reserves of the United States.

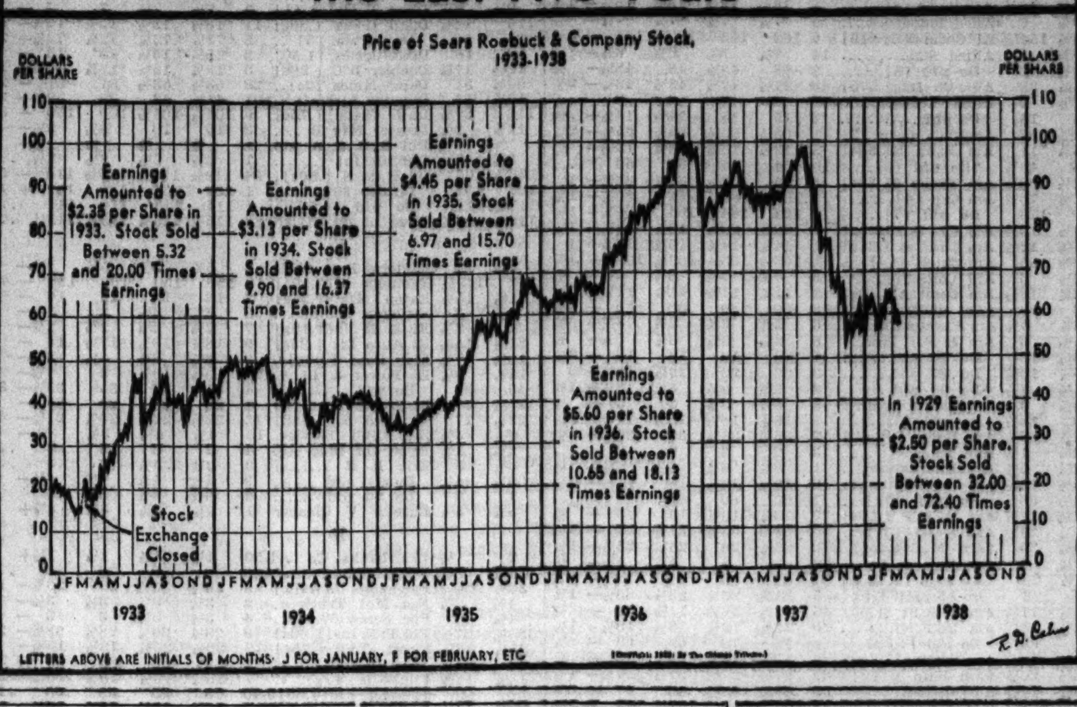
How the Price of Sears Roebuck Stock Has Fluctuated During the Last Five Years



Export Sales Boost Grains; Wheat Up 3 Cents; Then Reacts

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$ .88	$ .86¼	$1.38½
Corn	.59⅛	.58⅛	1.09⅝
Oats	.30¼	.29⅝	.47¾
Rye	.69⅛	.67¼	1.09½
Soy beans	.98	.98	1.55½

The highly strained political situation in Europe and heavy purchases of wheat futures attributed to export and cash interests sent prices of that grain soaring yesterday after an early break.

Wheat futures advanced 3 to 3¼ cents and corn about 1½ cents a bushel from the early low point. Profit taking later caused a reaction in wheat, but closing trades were at net gains of 1¾ to 1⅞ cents. Corn was ⅞ to 1 cent net higher. Rye advanced as much as 2¼ cents. Advances in wheat in other North American markets ranged from 1¾ to 2½ cents, with Winnipeg leading.

Export Sales Reported.

Export sales of 750,000 to 1,000,000 bushels of American cash wheat were reported yesterday as having been made to Europe, and an undisclosed amount of Canadian was also said to have been taken. The general improvement in the demand was regarded by some brokers as the forerunner of sustained purchases because the unsettled situation in central Europe may result in Russia and the Danubian river basin curtailing shipments.

May wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade sold early at 85⅝ cents, or within ¼ cent a bushel of the low level of the season, but advanced to 88⅜ cents later. Commission houses and shorts were aggressive buyers on the advance. The early selling was based to a considerable extent on a break of more than 2⅛ cents a bushel in the March delivery in Liverpool and the weakness in securities.

Export Brokers Buy Corn.

Brokers who frequently act for export interests were persistent buyers of corn futures and there was also considerable short covering. The trade had indications of a good export business for shipment from Duluth at the opening of lake navigation, but confirmation of the report was not obtainable. A large part of the 8,250,000 bushels of corn at Duluth is understood to be under contract to be shipped to Canadian ports.

Firmness in oats, rye, and barley was largely a reflection of the strength in wheat and corn.

SURFACE LINES SOUTH DIVISIONS NET PROFIT DIPS TO $9,922 IN YEAR

The Chicago City Railway company, south side division of the Chicago Surface Lines, yesterday reported net income of $9,922 for the year ended Jan. 31. Net income amounted to $1,006,351 in the preceding year.

R. E. Wood Is Elected to United Fruit Board

Jersey City, N. J., March 16.—(AP)—Stockholders of the United Fruit company in annual meeting today elected Gen. Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., a director. All the other directors were reëlected, giving the board a membership of seventeen. The United Fruit company probably will earn its quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share in the first quarter, although earnings will not be as large as those of the first three months of 1937, Samuel Zemurray, president, said.

STOCKS PLUNGE 1 TO 5 POINTS IN NEW WAR FRIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 16.—Disquieting dispatches from most of Europe's capitals, indicating increasing war peril, and reports of sharp breaks on the London, Paris, and other continental exchanges, unsettled sentiment in practically all quarters of the financial community today with the result that leading stocks plunged 1 to about 5 points.

Around noon the news that the London market had fallen heavily on the fresh threat of difficulties in Spain set off the selling which grew progressively as the widening circle of strife in Europe took in Rome, Paris, London, Berlin, Warsaw, and Kaunas. Foreign capital fled from securities into the dollar.

Long Run of Offerings.

For fully fifteen minutes the tape reported nothing except offerings at prices 1 to 4 points below Tuesday's close, with the ticker several minutes late. The losses ran to slightly higher amounts, however, as the rush of selling ceased. Toward the close the list steadied and made almost imperceptible progress from the day's lows.

The trading pace was somewhat heavier today, transactions amounting to 1,023,500 shares. Yesterday's sales totaled 760,000 shares.

A total of 782 issues was traded, with 578 closing lower, 75 higher, and 129 unchanged. The Dow-Jones averages for the three major classifications of stocks showed severe declines on the day. The industrial average fell to 122.87, off 4.37. The rail average was off 1.47 at 25.11, a new low for the year. The utility average slipped 0.64 to 18.37, barely above its previous low.

Recent Leaders Slump Most.

In the forefront of the decline were those shares which benefited most from the recent good demand, although rail stocks also lost substantial amounts. Losses in the steel group ran to 3⅝ points, with U. S. Steel and Bethlehem showing the largest losses. Youngstown, Crucible, and National were not far behind.

New York Central and Southern Pacific paced the carrier section, both joining the ten most active issues and both scoring new lows for the year.

with losses of 1⅝ and 2 points, respectively. Other leading rails to lose similar amounts were Southern Railway, Union Pacific, Great Northern, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Northern Pacific. Santa Fe cracked 3⅜ points to 31, a new low.

The metals group kept pace with the steels in the industrial division, slumping 2 to more than 3 points in generous supply. Anaconda, American Smelting, International Nickel, and Kennecott were among the chief losers.

Autos and Chemicals Sink.

Automobile issues found few takers and Chrysler dropped 3¼ points, General Motors 2⅜, and Yellow Truck ⅞. Chemicals registered some of the biggest losses of the day. Allied broke 4 points, du Pont 5, Union Carbide 3, and Dow Chemical 3.

Reversing recent behavior, U. S. Rubber was the most actively supplied issue of the day and slumped 3⅛ points. Other rubbers declined in sympathy.

With United Aircraft the leader and 1⅜ points lower, aviation issues trailed the general list. Losses ranged up to 2 points. Douglas lost the most.

Heavy Machine Issues Weak.

Heavy machinery issues also were put to severe pressure, with big losses resulting. In the farm equipments Allis-Chalmers gave up 2 points, Case 2½, International Harvester 2¼, and Deere 1¼. In the electric equipments General Electric slumped 1¼ points and Westinghouse fell 4¼ points.

Utilities were relatively neglected and losses were mostly fractional,

A membership on the exchange sold for $62,000, and two others for $60,000 each. The preceding sale was $67,000 on March 1. On Feb. 3 a membership sold for $59,000, the lowest price since 1918.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 16.—(AP)—The bond market, including the foreign dollar list, broke today under lively selling incident to Europe's "war" tension.

Most of the list was affected, with some rails in the lead of the decline. A few leading industrials and utilities held out against the trend.

United States treasury obligations were mixed, but leaned to the weak side, with closing losses of from 1-32 to 10-32, partly offset by a few 1-32 to 2-32 gains.

Volume was $7,237,425, face value, compared to the previous day's $5,799,400. Associated Press averages showed losses in every group. Twenty rails averaged 56.6, lowest since April 22, 1933. Ten foreign dollar bonds averaged 62.8, lowest since Jan. 9, 1934.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stock prices moved lower yesterday in dealing of only 21,000 shares. Of the eighty-four issues traded, fifty declined, seven advanced, and twenty-seven were unchanged. THE TRIBUNE'S average reached a high of 9.39 for the day and a low of 9.14 and closed at 9.19, against the close of 9.47 on Wednesday.

Commonwealth Edison was the trade leader, declining ⅝ to close at 23⅜ on a turnover of 1,400 shares. Others among the more active issues included Middle West, off ⅝ to close at 5⅛; Chicago Flexible Shaft, down 2 at 52, and National Republic Investment Trust, up ½ at 5½.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stock quotations were steady to slightly lower yesterday. First National shares declined $3 to $192 bid, $196 asked. Continental Illinois National dipped $2 a share at $62 bid, $64 asked. Other loop bank shares and those of most smaller banks were unchanged.

COTTON

Operations in American cotton markets was somewhat restricted yesterday. A sharp advance in Liverpool, based on the unsettled political situation and talk of possible inflation in European currencies, resulted in an upturn of around .10 cent a pound in American markets early, but selling developed later on the weakness in securities. Closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were .04 to .06 cent lower on the active futures. Other American markets were .05 cent lower to .01 cent a pound higher.

World consumption of American cotton during the first six months of the current crop year, as estimated by the New York Cotton exchange service, was 6,029,000 bales, compared with 6,420,000 bales during the corresponding period the preceding season. Consumption of 14,008,000 bales of all cotton in the last six months represents a reduction of 1,062,000 bales, compared with 1936-'37.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .01 cent higher, with New Orleans 9.15 cents, New York 3 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 8.75 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Commodities

Raw sugar sold at the lowest price this year on the New York market yesterday, touching 3.01 cents a pound compared with Tuesday's price of 3.03 cents, the previous 1938 low. Prices advanced moderately in the sugar futures market.

Declines were recorded for a number of other commodities, but the composite price of commodity futures compiled by Dow-Jones advanced to 52.47, a gain of 0.16. The Associated Press index of 35 cash commodities rose to 70.46 from 70.34 on the preceding day.

Hides, crude rubber, cocoa, coffee and wool top futures closed below Tuesday's prices. Rubber showed one of the sharpest losses, dropping 0.13 to 0.17 cent a pound. Sugar futures closed 0.01 to 0.15 cent higher.

Steady prices prevailed for metals. Domestic copper was unchanged at 10 cents a pound. Export sales were reported at 10.05 to 10.10 cents a pound, but the quotation dropped just under 10 cents late in the day. Lead, tin, zinc, and other metals were unchanged.

Regular Bank Reports.

Aside from the reports of condition and operations of the federal reserve banks, themselves, and the data on national banks collected by the United States controler of the currency, the reserve board publishes several groups of banking statistics. Among the more important ones are the following:

1. Condition of member banks. These reports are obtained three or four times a year "on call," that is, when called for.
2. Deposits subject to reserve, reserves held, and excess reserves. These reports are published weekly for banks in reserve cities and monthly for country banks. Weekly estimates are made of the excess reserves held for country banks.
3. Detailed statements of earnings and expenses of member banks. These are made annually. Less detailed reports are made twice a year.
4. Balance sheet statements of reserve member banks in 101 leading cities showing combined summary of assets [loans, discounts, securities, cash, etc.] and liabilities [deposits, capital account, etc.]. These are issued weekly.
5. Summary for all banks in the nation, showing number of banks, their loans, investments and deposits. Reports made on call two to four times a year.
6. Bank suspensions, receiverships, etc., including nonmember and member banks. Issued monthly.
7. Bank debits [checks cashed] covering member and nonmember banks in representative centers. Weekly and monthly.
8. Interest and discount rates to customers in principal cities. Issued monthly.

Tomorrow: The bank call report.

POWER OUTPUT DECLINES 9 PCT. FROM YEAR AGO

The American electric light and power industry produced 2,014,729,000 kilowatt hours of electricity last week, a decrease of 9 per cent from the 2,212,897,000 kilowatt hour output in the corresponding week of 1937, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Last week's output was at the lowest level since the holiday week ended Jan. 1.

Production in the Chicago area by the Commonwealth Edison company group was 123,937,000 kilowatt hours last week, a decline of 10 per cent from the 137,719,000 kilowatt hour output a year ago. The decline was attributed partly to unusually good weather in Chicago last week, contrasted with dark weather a year ago.

NATIONAL STEEL, FIVE OTHERS CUT DIVIDENDS, 3 OMIT

Several Companies Order Usual Payments.

The National Steel corporation and five other companies cut their common dividends yesterday. Houdaille-Hershey company and two others omitted dividends or deferred action. Meanwhile, a number of other companies ordered payment of regular dividends.

National Steel will pay 25 cents on March 31, and future dividend policy will be determined quarterly on the basis of business conditions as they exist at the time. Ernest T. Weir, chairman, said the 25 cent dividend "will be earned conservatively in the first quarter." The company paid 62½ cents quarterly last year, with extras of 50 cents each on Sept. 30 and Dec. 24.

Independent Pneumatic Tool company cut its March 31 dividend to 25 cents, compared with 62½ cents quarterly last year. Burroughs Adding Machine will pay 10 cents June 6, compared with 20 cents March 5 and a total of $1.40 a share last year, including 50 cents extra in December.

Film Preferred Halved.

Consolidated Film Industries will pay only 25 cents on its $2 preferred stock, compared with the regular 50 cents quarterly dividend last December. Great Lakes Steamship company will pay 50 cents on March 30, compared with 75 cents in preceding quarters.

The Doehler Die Casting company, which paid 50 cents quarterly last year, cut its April payment to 20 cents.

Keystone Steel and Wire company, which is on no regular basis, declared a dividend of 15 cents for April 15. Its last previous payment was 25 cents on Nov. 1.

Houdaille-Hershey ordered the regular quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share on its class A stock, but took no action on the class B dividend due April 1. The company has been paying 37½ cents quarterly on the B shares.

Other dividend omissions were on Detroit Steel Products and Burkhart Manufacturing company common stocks. Burkhart declared its usual preferred dividend, however, and said action on the common would be considered in April.

Mergenthaler Policy Affirmed.

Directors of the Mergenthaler Linotype company approved a policy of delaying any consideration of dividends until shortly before the end of the fiscal year on Sept. 30. The decision was reached because of the "increasing acuteness of the business recession." The company omitted dividend action due Feb. 15.

Columbia Gas and Electric corporation has asked the Securities and Exchange commission for approval of 1938 payments out of surplus to cover regular preferred dividends, plus not more than 50 cents a share on the common. A payment of not more than 25 cents would be made on the common about May 15, with a final dividend to be paid about Nov. 15. The company paid 45 cents on the common last year.

RIVAL UNIONS CERTIFIED FOR INT. HARVESTER

Washington, D. C., March 16.—(AP)—The labor relations board certified both American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization unions today as collective bargaining agents for employés of the International Harvester company at Chicago.

The International Association of Machinists [A. F. of L.] was certified as representative of die sinkers and die trimmers, and the Farm Equipment Workers association [C. I. O.] was certified for other hourly and piece work employés. Both unions defeated the International Harvester company Tractor Workers Employés Mutual association in a recent election.

The board ordered an election within twenty days to determine whether hourly employés of Armour & Co. at West Fargo, N. D., wanted to be represented by the Butchers union [A. F. of L.] or the Independent Workers'

Butter Futures Decline, but Eggs Move Higher

Butter prices declined slightly and egg prices advanced in the futures trading yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Storage butter for delivery this month dropped ⅛ cent a pound to 26⅝ cents. Contracts for November delivery lost ¼ cent a pound. Fresh butter for April delivery gained ½ cent. Storage eggs closed ⅛ to ¼ cent a dozen higher. Prices of both commodities were steady in the cash market. No government purchases of butter or eggs were reported here but government brokers purchased 10,000 pounds of butter "extras" in New York.

IMPORTS OF JAP GOODS INTO U. S. SHOW DECLINE

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—Imports from Japan to the United States in January were $6,187,033 less than in January, 1937, figures released today by the department of commerce disclosed. Groups active in the boycott of Japanese product claim to have influenced the drop, but spokesmen for business interests manufacturing or dealing in Japanese goods attribute the decrease to the depression, and assert the effect of the boycott has been "negligible."

Today's report showed that imports from Japan in January amounted to $11,495,240, whereas in January, 1937, they totaled $17,682,895. Raw silk imports dropped from $10,864,553 in January, 1937, to $6,030,873 in January of this year.

Exports to Japan, America's third largest customer, dropped only $1,953,930, totaling $20,410,240 this January, as previously reported.

Calls Boycott a Factor.

"There is no doubt," said Robert Norton, executive secretary of the committee for boycott against Japanese aggression in China, "that the boycott is cutting deeply into Japan's export trade.

"The major retail chains have discontinued their buying of goods made in Japan, as have principal department stores in many cities. Retail sales of such goods thoroughout the country have dropped 60 to 70 per cent.

"The best tribute to the effectiveness of the boycott comes from Japanese sources. Japanese officials and journals admit it, and recently the expenditure of $100,000 was authorized for an anti-boycott campaign."

Silk Guild Head Gives View.

R. D. Jenkins, vice president of the International Silk Guild, said:

"It is difficult to determine the exact cause of the decrease in imports, as many factors enter into it. The recession has played an important part, certainly. My personal opinion is that the boycott has had no appreciable effect."

CHRYSLER Factory Br.

Stock Of

"Master-Conditioned" AUTOMOBILES

A car that is "master conditioned" by the Chrysler Factory Branch is the same as "sterling" stamped on silver. An inspection of the master service station of the factory branch is evidence enough why we are in a much better position to bring cars back to "newness" than the average equipped service department.

Photodiagram illustrating how the vehicular bridge to carry Ogden avenue over Cicero avenue and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad tracks will look when it is completed. The present underpass in Cicero avenue to carry Ogden avenue and 26th street trafic is visible in the middle foreground. It has proved inadequate for the load. First contracts on the new bridge will be let today by the state highway department, (Story on page 23.)
